Plane's Downing Denounced

Ex-TV Producer Won't Say If Red

Show Business Hearing Ended

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP) — A former television producer who said he handled a budget of $100,000 a week refused today to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether he was a Communist then or now.

He was Tony Kraber, 50, once a Columbia Broadcasting System executive.

The committee, investigating Communist infiltration of show business, wound up its hearing in New York by questioning six witnesses today.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) said the next hearing may be held in Washington in January.

Elizabeth Bentley Hired

Walter also disclosed that Elizabeth Bentley, self-admitted former Russian spy ring courier, had been hired by the committee two weeks ago as a paid consultant. He said her job was temporary and would last about another month. Her salary is $500 monthly.

The committee heard 23 witnesses in New York. Only one, actor George Hall, admitted he had a Communist past.

The committee encountered a stone wall with all six of today's witnesses in its probe of Red activity in the entertainment world.

Besides Kraber, they were:

Ivan Black, 53, a public relations man, who cited the 1st, 5th, 6th, 10th and 14th amendments to the Constitution, the most of any of the 20 witnesses heard this week.

Banjo Solo Ruled Out

Peter Seeger, 36, a banjo-playing folk singer, who offered to play his banjo for the committee, but the committee declined.

Alan Manson, 36, a Broadway and television actor and war veteran. He cited the 1st, 5th and 9th amendments.

Harold J. Salemson, 44, a foreign film importer and former Hollywood free lance writer.

David Kanter, 46, production stage manager.

Salemson denied being a Communist but refused to comment on his associations or beliefs prior to July 1, 1948, invoking the 1st and 5th amendments.

New England Polio Cases Rise; 72 Dead

Total Reaches 2,001; Massachusetts, Hit Hard, Expects Drop

BOSTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—New England polio cases continued to rise today and deaths—mostly in Massachusetts—reached an unofficial 72.

The total of cases in New England reached 2,001 today.

Massachusetts health authorities, however, saw a flattening-out of the upward case load in the state and possibility of rapid drop in weeks not far ahead.

Meanwhile, the director of Massachusetts' Division of Communicable Diseases said that a peculiar case pattern in this state this year apparently brought polio to a peak here ahead of other areas. Dr. Roy F. Feemster said it is possible that other regions of the country may find their polio cases increasing in weeks ahead while those in Massachusetts decline.

Pattern Reversed

The reason: Normally Massasetts polio outbreaks have started in less populous parts of the state and have moved later to the centers of heavy population. This year, the pattern was reversed. The polio wave began in the eastern region around Boston where most of the population of the state is concentrated. From there, it has fanned out into the more thinly settled sections.

Therefore, Dr. Feemster said, there was an abnormally rapid rise simply because the large population centers suffered first, and this rise drew attention it would not have received if it followed more normal development patterns.

Starts In Hot Weather

Ordinarily, he added, polio outbreaks seem to start in the hot weather about the first of August but most of the cases may come in the succeeding cooler weeks and may even reach a peak at—or after—the beginning of autumn.

With Boston cases now apparently at the end of their rise and new cases in the state this week seemingly showing a smaller proportional rise than in the two preceding weeks, he said the beginning of a rapid drop may be expected in another two or three weeks. With the wave having passed beyond the heavy-population region, he explained, there are fewer persons remaining to encounter infection.

U.N. Command Accuses Reds Of Barbarism

Fate Of Two Fliers Unknown; Search Craft Is Fired On

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Friday, Aug. 19 (AP) — The United Nations Command yesterday accused the Communists of "wanton barbarism" in shooting down an unarmed trainer plane with two U.S. service men aboard.

"We still don't know whether they survived," a 5th Air Force spokesman said. "They crashed on the Communist side of the (neutral zone) line."

The U. N. Command said the plane was fired on while over the neutral zone between South and North Korea. Names of the two were withheld until relatives are notified.

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior U.N. member of the Military Armistice Commission, sent the Communists a blistering letter accusing them of pouring "continuous, murderous and devastating ground fire" at the plane until it crashed.

Search Plane Fired On

An Air Force transport plane searching for the missing trainer was fired on yesterday in an area which the Far East Air Force located as about 50 miles northeast of Seoul near the neutral zone but over South Korea.

The shots could have come from either side of the 2½-mile wide neutral zone, but it was assumed they came from the Communist side. Red patrols in that area have been quick to fire.

The transport pilot, Capt. J. W. Ingraham, said he saw tracers from small arms fire and one slug hit the left wing.

"Trigger-Happy Gunmen"

Parks told the Communists the training plane was on a routine mission, was unarmed, "inadvertently intruded" over the demilitarized zone, but never was over North Korea.

"Your trigger-happy gunmen opened fire without provocation," he said.

Parks was expected to demand a meeting of the armistice commission to make a personal protest.

Parks said Red planes had intruded over U.N. territory on 53 occasions but never were fired upon. He reported the Reds had fired on 10 unarmed Allied aircraft in the past 10 months.

U. S. And China Fail To Agree On Repatriation

GENEVA, Aug. 18 (AP) — The United States and Red China failed today to find any mutually acceptable formula for giving freedom to 41 Americans detained by the Peiping government.

U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan, after their two hour and 20-minute eighth meeting since Aug. 1, were unable to report any progress on this point. Another meeting was arranged for Saturday.

When agreement is reached on the question of repatriation the two sides can proceed to the discussion of the second agenda item — "other practical matters at issue between the two sides." This is the one the Communists really want to discuss.

Japanese Consul General Keiichi Tatsuke disclosed that he had met with Red Chinese Consul General Shen Ping yesterday and was advised officially that 6,000 Japanese in Red China would not be repatriated.

The news already was known to the Japanese since it had been announced from Peiping.

The Red Chinese consul general advised Tatsuke that the 6,000 Japanese had expressed a desire to remain in Red China "permanently or for the time being." If they should change their minds, he said, the Chinese Communists "will provide facilities for their return."

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 18 (AP)—Authoritative sources said tonight the American-Communist Chinese talks in Geneva have "apparently deadlocked" over Red "refusal to make a statement that Americans in China are unconditionally free to leave."

ROK Seeks U. N. Secretary's Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—The South Korean Republic said today it has asked Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to help get Communist truce supervisors and Chinese soldiers out of Korea.

The office of Ambassador Ben C. Limb said he made the request in a memorandum he handed the secretary general when both were in Geneva last week. Hammarskjold's office confirmed that he had it but withheld comment.

Limb urged Hammarskjold to use his good offices through the U.N. Command (the U.S. Army) to "effect the dissolution" of the four-country Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission.

He also urged him to "intervene determinedly to effect the withdrawal of Chinese Communist armed forces from Korean soil."

Two Killed In Crash On Lincoln Highway

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP)—Two persons were killed and five injured today in a two-car collision on rainswept Lincoln Highway, 10 miles west of here.

The dead are Wesley Billing, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Billing, Willoughby, Ohio, and an unidentified Puerto Rican worker.

State Police said the boy was a passenger in his father's car. His parents and grandparents were all admitted to Columbia Hospital and were in a satisfactory condition. The driver of the other car, tentatively identified as Celestino L. Rivera of Washington Boro, Pa., also was injured.

Police said the dead man was a passenger in Rivera's car.

Forecasters Keep Eye On Disturbance

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 18 (AP)—Ship reports kept forecasters informed today of the area of suspicion east of the Leeward Islands, some 2,500 miles east-southeast of Miami.

"It remains an area of suspicion, but nothing has developed," said Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster here.

Sultan's Reign Seen Near End

PARIS, Aug. 18 (AP) — Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa was given a few days grace by the French Cabinet today to form a national government providing more home rule for Morocco.

There were signs that his reign may be nearly ended after two years in power.

Reports from Casablanca late tonight said nine Moroccans, including two policemen, were killed today in widespread political disorders in and around the city.

The aging Sultan had been asked to form a government by today for the tight-run protectorate on the northwest hump of Africa, but he had objected to the timetable.

He was reported still willing to try to form a home rule government, but it seemed doubtful the French would consider it truly representative of Morocco — where real elections have never been held.

For one thing the nationalists who hate Moulay are refusing to work with him in a government.

A fresh wave of terrorism broke out today in Casablanca, the business capital of the protectorate. Three Moroccans were killed.

Ex-Convict Who Shot Down Two Cops Captured

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP) — Cop killer Richard Carpenter was flushed out of a Northwest Side rooming house by police with tear gas tonight.

The capture of the fugitive ex-convict, who had slain one officer and wounded another, ended Chicago's biggest manhunt since FBI agents shot down desperado John Dillinger 21 years ago.

The building in which the 26-year-old gunman was found is a mere two blocks from the Biltmore Theater, in which Carpenter shot and wounded a rookie policeman who tried to arrest him last night.

Police surrounded the building after receiving a tip from other residents that Carpenter had been holed up in a second-floor room since 10:30 last night, just a few minutes after he shot his way out of the theater.

Carpenter had held three residents as prisoners since last night but a man had managed to slip out and call police.

Carpenter was caught on the roof of the building after the tear gas was shot into the room where he had been terrorizing the family. There were no reports of gunplay in the capture, although Carpenter was armed.

City, county and federal officers had searched for Carpenter since Monday night when he shot and killed Detective William Murphy, 34, who sought to arrest him on a subway platform for a series of armed robberies.

The hunt was intensified after Carpenter shot it out with Policeman Clarence Kerr, 26, who recognized him in the Biltmore Theater on Division Street.

Kerr, wounded near his heart, is in critical condition.

Carpenter, too, was wounded—in the leg, police learned upon catching up with him tonight. Following the capture he was taken under heavy guard to a hospital-jail for treatment.

Authorities described the manhunt, in which even a helicopter was used and all Chicagoans were urged to help, as the biggest since Dillinger, a bank robber and killer, was shot down in 1934.

South Korea Halts Trade With Japan

SEOUL, Aug. 19 (AP)—South Korea ordered a halt to virtually all trade with Japan yesterday on the heels of its ban on travel between the two nations.

Japan's Foreign Office retaliated with a statement charging "extremely unjust" treatment of Japanese fishermen held in what it called two dirty, jammed prisons at the southeast port of Pusan.

The new exchange sent the never-cordial relations between the two nations plunging to a new low.

Kang Sung Tai, South Korean minister of commerce and industry, disclosed the trade shutdown.

Spider Bite Fatal

PARAGROULD, Ark., Aug. 18 (AP) —A 71-year-old farmer died from a spider bite today.

Jesse Isaac Melton was en route ome in an ambulance when he ied five hours after he was bitten y a "gray spider." He had been reated at a clinic.

Dying Diane Leaves Floods In Her Wake

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 18 (AP)—Dying Diane blew her last gasps toward central Pennsylvania tonight, leaving in her wake a costly trail of flood and crop damage in Virginia and North Carolina.

The once-fierce tropical hurricane amounted to no more than a low pressure area on the weather map as it left northern Virginia in early afternoon, brushed the western tip of West Virginia and moved north across central Maryland.

But rains of four inches and more it added to last week's deluge from Hurricane Connie caused widespread floods in a broad sector of Virginia. A dozen or more primary roads in Virginia were blocked by high water from storm-swollen streams and rivers and, the highway department said, several hundred secondary routes were impassable.

More than 400 persons were evacuated by Army and Civil Defense forces and uncounted hundreds of others left six flooded communities in the Middle River-Essex eastern suburbs of Baltimore.

Diane had brought 2.64 inches of rain as of 6 p.m. to Baltimore, swelling the city's total for the month to a record high of 14.65 inches.

In Pennsylvania, the Reading Railroad trestle along Manatawny Creek in Berks County was washed out by heavy rains. And a reservoir dam broke at tiny Bechtelsville, Pa., causing the water to overflow. However, only one house was reported flooded.

In North Carolina where the storm struck yesterday along the coast with hurricane force there was also flooding in several eastern towns. But Carolina's biggest damage was to crops. North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges received reports that losses from Diane, along with those of last Friday's Connie, would run to between 22 and 27 million dollars, mainly in tobacco and corn.

Virginia, too, expected a heavy loss to the southside tobacco crop.

Court Considers Gallagher's Fate

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—A military court deliberated for nearly three hours today without reaching a verdict in the case of Sgt. James C. Gallagher, who is charged with the murder of three fellow Americans in a Chinese prison camp.

The eight-man court-martial adjourned at 5 p.m. and will resume its deliberations at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Col. Harmon B. Broyles, president of the court, said members of the court wanted to have read to them tomorrow a portion of the testimony of Sgt. Lloyd Pate, a key prosecution witness.

Gallagher, 23, a red-haired 6-footer of Brooklyn, is also charged with collaborating with Chinese Communists while a prisoner of war. He has denied all charges.

If convicted of the unpremeditated murder charge, an offense equivalent to second degree murder, he faces a possible penalty of life imprisonment.

In summing up the prosecution's case today, Maj. James J. Jenkins said "on the evidence it has proved every specification and every charge beyond a reasonable doubt."

The 28 witnesses presented by the prosecution testified that Gallagher threw out three ailing prisoners from a hut and left them to die in the wintry Korean cold in 1951.

D.C. Transit Workers Vote Tonight On Offer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The District Commissioners came to terms tonight with striking transit workers but further negotiations with the Capital Transit Co. lay ahead.

Terms of the offer were not disclosed but its acceptance by the AFL leaders amounted to the first major break in the walkout that has tied up Capital Transit Co. buses and streetcars for 49 days.

The union immediately scheduled a mass meeting for tomorrow night to vote on the offer.

Washout Derails Train; 30 Injured

RUSSELL, Mass., Aug. 18 (AP)—Two Diesel engines and four cars of the Lake Shore Limited, Chicago-to-Boston train of the New York Central Railroad, were derailed by a washout today. State police reported about 30 persons were hurt, none seriously.

The derailment, in a heavy rain storm, pitched the cars down a 60-foot embankment to the Westfield River. One car went into the swollen stream.

Nine ambulances were rushed to the scene—a long downgrade as the tracks descend from the Berkshire plateau into the narrow Westfield River Valley.

The accident occurred shortly after 50 persons were forced to evacuate their Russell homes because of the river's high waters.

There were about 78 passengers. Those not hurt were taken back to Huntington by an emergency crew dispatched from Pittsfield and then went by bus to Springfield.

Anderson Backs Boost In Atomic Research Funds

GENEVA, Aug. 18 (AP) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) today expressed confidence the energy of the H-bomb would eventually be harnessed for peaceful uses and said he was ready to vote more money for U.S. research in this field.

Anderson is head of the Joint Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy, but he insisted he was speaking only for himself on the matter of spending.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, said last week the United States had been engaged in a "moderate program" of research in this field for a considerable time and had made some progress.

"Very Important" Field

At a news conference, Anderson was asked whether he would support a larger appropriation for this program if the administration requested it.

"Personally," he said, "I would favor a larger appropriation. I think this is a very important field."

Anderson said the problem of taming the energy of the H-bomb would not be solved overnight, but that it might come within the 20 years predicted last week by Indian scientist Homi J. Bhabha, president of the atoms-for-peace conference.

Conference Worthwhile

He expressed satisfaction with the results of the current conference, especially as a medium for frank discussion of much hitherto secret information.

"We feel it has been a worthwhile conference," he said, "and we hope it will be repeated."

President Eisenhower expressed a similar hope last Tuesday through Strauss and since then the idea has won general support. It appears such a meeting probably will be held in 1957 or 1958.

Asked whether it should be in the United States, Anderson said it was up to the United Nations to decide on the place.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. Aug. 18 (AP)—The Sands Hotel today announced it will take over operation of the new Dunes Hotel, opened only a few months and already a victim of lucky gamblers.

Taylor Loyalty Case Reopened

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP) — A government loyalty board which announced two months ago it found "reasonable doubt" of the loyalty of William H. Taylor, has agreed to reopen the case.

The new hearing was announced by Taylor's attorney, Byron N. Scott, and confirmed by the International Organizations Employes Loyalty Board. Taylor, a former Treasury official, is now with the International Monetary Fund.

Scott informed the board he had new evidence and requested a new hearing.

This has been granted, the loyalty board said, "for the purpose of including into the record such new evidence as in the discretion of the board shall seem in the interest of justice."

Hall Fairbanks, secretary of the board, said the reopened hearing could lead to a change in the adverse finding on Taylor handed down on June 28, or could make no change, depending upon the new evidence submitted and the board's opinion of it.

Defeated Sheriff Candidate Confesses To Bank Holdup

SELMER, Tenn., Aug. 18 (AP)—A 43-year-old Mississippi contractor has admitted he robbed his hometown bank of $46,000 at gunpoint eight days after he was defeated as a candidate for sheriff, police said today.

C. E. Piper, special agent in charge of the Memphis FBI office, said $43,000 of the loot had been found under boards in a barn on a farm at Ackerman, Miss., owned by the accused man, Dual King. The rest of the loot has been "accounted for," he said.

King, married and the father of two young sons, was arrested by FBI agents Tuesday. He was jailed at Selmer under $75,000 bond.

Sheriff Boyce Erwin of Ackerman said King admitted the Aug. 10 holdup of the Bank of Ackerman after a talk with Erwin and FBI agents in his jail cell.

"King admitted the robbery," Sheriff Erwin said. "He didn't say why. I don't believe he knows himself."

The Bank of Ackerman was robbed by a masked bandit who broke into the bank before opening hours and waited for John Keen, assistant cashier, to arrive. Keen said he was forced at gunpoint to open the vault and the cash compartment inside. About $28,000 was overlooked by the bandit who fled into a rear alley and disappeared.

King, regarded as a well-to-do building contractor, ran sixth in a nine-man race for sheriff of Choctaw County, Miss., in the Aug. 2 election. He has been a resident of Ackerman for 10 years.

Senator Protests Naming Hurricanes After Women

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) protested today against naming hurricanes after women, who have "historically symbolized tenderness, devotion, sympathy and peacefulness."

He suggested the Weather Bureau switch to more appropriate nomenclature — like "acrimonious or aggressive, followed by belligerant or bilious."

In a letter to Francis W. Reichelderfer, chief of the Weather Burea, Kuchel said he has been following the weather news closer than usual in this last windy week.

"At the same time I have begun to appreciate the resentment against the Weather Bureau for adopting girls' names to identify successive hurricanes," the California senator wrote. On women, he added:

"On occasion they may be stirred to fury, but their rages seldom last as long as 'Hazel's' in 1954 or wreak such vengeance.

"They can be moody and unpredictable, though rarely as determined as 'Connie' last week.

"While now and then excitable, few of them show the wrathfulness of 'Barbara' in 1953 or 'Edna' last summer."

Similar protests were voiced by gallants last year, but the Weather Bureau decided to stick to ladylike labels, explaining that in the complicated communications system used in tracing hurricanes and broadcasting warnings it needs "short, easily pronounced and readily recognized" designations.

Lana Turner Suffers Concussion In Fall

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (AP) — Actress Lana Turner suffered a concussion of the brain in a bathtub fall at Acapulco, Mex., last week, her studio said today.

Extent of the injury was not discovered until yesterday when Miss Turner was examined by Dr. Cameron B. Hall after complaining of pains in her back.

Carpenter was caught on the roof of the building after the tear gas was shot into the room where he had been terrorizing the family. There were no reports of gunplay in the capture, although Carpenter was armed.

City, county and federal officers had searched for Carpenter since Monday night when he shot and killed Detective William Murphy, 34, who sought to arrest him on a subway platform for a series of armed robberies.

The hunt was intensified after Carpenter shot it out with Policeman Clarence Kerr, 26, who recognized him in the Biltmore Theater on Division Street.

Kerr, wounded near his heart, is in critical condition.

Carpenter, too, was wounded—in the leg, police learned upon catching up with him tonight. Following the capture he was taken under heavy guard to a hospital-jail for treatment.

Authorities described the manhunt, in which even a helicopter was used and all Chicagoans were urged to help, as the biggest since Dillinger, a bank robber and killer, was shot down in 1934.

Dying Diane Leaves Floods In Her Wake

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 18 (AP)—Dying Diane blew her last gasps toward central Pennsylvania tonight, leaving in her wake a costly trail of flood and crop damage in Virginia and North Carolina.

The once-fierce tropical hurricane amounted to no more than a low pressure area on the weather map as it left northern Virginia in early afternoon, brushed the western tip of West Virginia and moved north across central Maryland.

But rains of four inches and more it added to last week's deluge from Hurricane Connie caused widespread floods in a broad sector of Virginia. A dozen or more primary roads in Virginia were blocked by high water from storm-swollen streams and rivers and, the highway department said, several hundred secondary routes were impassable.

More than 400 persons were evacuated by Army and Civil Defense forces and uncounted hundreds of others left six flooded communities in the Middle River-Essex eastern suburbs of Baltimore.

Diane had brought 2.64 inches of rain as of 6 p.m. to Baltimore, swelling the city's total for the month to a record high of 14.65 inches.

In Pennsylvania, the Reading Railroad trestle along Manatawny Creek in Berks County was washed out by heavy rains. And a reservoir dam broke at tiny Bechtelsville, Pa., causing the water to overflow. However, only one house was reported flooded.

In North Carolina where the storm struck yesterday along the coast with hurricane force there was also flooding in several eastern towns. But Carolina's biggest damage was to crops. North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges received reports that losses from Diane, along with those of last Friday's Connie, would run to between 22 and 27 million dollars, mainly in tobacco and corn.

Virginia, too, expected a heavy loss to the southside tobacco crop.

Anderson Backs Boost In Atomic Research Funds

GENEVA, Aug. 18 (AP) — Sen Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) today expressed confidence the energy of the H-bomb would eventually be harnessed for peaceful uses and said he was ready to vote more money for U.S. research in this field.

Anderson is head of the Joint Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy, but he insisted he was speaking only for himself on the matter of spending.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, said last week the United States had been engaged in a "moderate program" of research in this field for a considerable time and had made some progress.

"Very Important" Field

At a news conference, Anderson was asked whether he would support a larger appropriation for this program if the administration requested it.

"Personally," he said, "I would favor a larger appropriation. I think this is a very important field."

Anderson said the problem of taming the energy of the H-bomb would not be solved overnight, but that it might come within the 20 years predicted last week by Indian scientist Homi J. Bhabha, president of the atoms-for-peace conference.

Conference Worthwhile

He expressed satisfaction with the results of the current conference, especially as a medium for frank discussion of much hitherto secret information.

"We feel it has been a worthwhile conference," he said, "and we hope it will be repeated."

President Eisenhower expressed a similar hope last Tuesday through Strauss and since then the idea has won general support. It appears such a meeting probably will be held in 1957 or 1958.

Asked whether it should be in the United States, Anderson said it was up to the United Nations to decide on the place.

ROK Seeks U. N. Secretary's Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—The South Korean Republic said today it has asked Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to help get Communist truce supervisors and Chinese soldiers out of Korea.

The office of Ambassador Ben C. Limb said he made the request in a memorandum he handed the secretary general when both were in Geneva last week. Hammarskjold's office confirmed that he had it but withheld comment.

Limb urged Hammarskjold to use his good offices through the U.N. Command (the U.S. Army) to "effect the dissolution" of the four-country Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission.

He also urged him to "intervene determinedly to effect the withdrawal of Chinese Communist armed forces from Korean soil."

Two Killed In Crash On Lincoln Highway

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP)—Two persons were killed and five injured today in a two-car collision on rainswept Lincoln Highway, 10 miles west of here.

The dead are Wesley Billing, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Billing, Willoughby, Ohio, and an unidentified Puerto Rican worker.

State Police said the boy was a passenger in his father's car. His parents and grandparents were all admitted to Columbia Hospital and were in a satisfactory condition. The driver of the other car, tentatively identified as Celestino L. Rivera of Washington Boro, Pa., also was injured.

Police said the dead man was a passenger in Rivera's car.

Forecasters Keep Eye On Disturbance

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 18 (AP)—Ship reports kept forecasters informed today of the area of suspicion east of the Leeward Islands, some 2,500 miles east-southeast of Miami.

"It remains an area of suspicion, but nothing has developed," said Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster here.

Sultan's Reign Seen Near End

PARIS, Aug. 18 (AP) — Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa was given a few days grace by the French Cabinet today to form a national government providing more home rule for Morocco.

There were signs that his reign may be nearly ended after two years in power.

Reports from Casablanca late tonight said nine Moroccans, including two policemen, were killed today in widespread political disorders in and around the city.

The aging Sultan had been asked to form a government by today for the tight-run protectorate on the northwest hump of Africa, but he had objected to the timetable.

He was reported still willing to try to form a home rule government, but it seemed doubtful the French would consider it truly representative of Morocco — where real elections have never been held.

For one thing the nationalists who hate Moulay are refusing to work with him in a government.

Court Considers Gallagher's Fate

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—A military court deliberated for nearly three hours today without reaching a verdict in the case of Sgt. James C. Gallagher, who is charged with the murder of three fellow Americans in a Chinese prison camp.

The eight-man court-martial adjourned at 5 p.m. and will resume its deliberations at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Col. Harmon B. Broyles, president of the court, said members of the court wanted to have read to them tomorrow a portion of the testimony of Sgt. Lloyd Pate, a key prosecution witness.

Gallagher, 23, a red-haired 6-footer of Brooklyn, is also charged with collaborating with Chinese Communists while a prisoner of war. He has denied all charges.

If convicted of the unpremeditated murder charge, an offense equivalent to second degree murder, he faces a possible penalty of life imprisonment.

In summing up the prosecution's case today, Maj. James J. Jenkins said "on the evidence it has proved every specification and every charge beyond a reasonable doubt."

The 28 witnesses presented by the prosecution testified that Gallagher threw out three ailing prisoners from a hut and left them to die in the wintry Korean cold in 1951.

Washout Derails Train; 30 Injured

RUSSELL, Mass., Aug. 18 (AP)—Two Diesel engines and four cars of the Lake Shore Limited, Chicago-to-Boston train of the New York Central Railroad, were derailed by a washout today. State police reported about 30 persons were hurt, none seriously.

The derailment, in a heavy rain storm, pitched the cars down a 60-foot embankment to the Westfield River. One car went into the swollen stream.

Nine ambulances were rushed to the scene—a long downgrade as the tracks descend from the Berkshire plateau into the narrow Westfield River Valley.

The accident occurred shortly after 50 persons were forced to evacuate their Russell homes because of the river's high waters.

There were about 78 passengers. Those not hurt were taken back to Huntington by an emergency crew dispatched from Pittsfield and then went by bus to Springfield.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. Aug. 18 (AP)—The Sands Hotel today announced it will take over operation of the new Dunes Hotel, opened only a few months and already a victim of lucky gamblers.

Taylor Loyalty Case Reopened

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP) — A government loyalty board which announced two months ago it found "reasonable doubt" of the loyalty of William H. Taylor, has agreed to reopen the case.

The new hearing was announced by Taylor's attorney, Byron N. Scott, and confirmed by the International Organizations Employes Loyalty Board. Taylor, a former Treasury official, is now with the International Monetary Fund.

Scott informed the board he had new evidence and requested a new hearing.

This has been granted, the loyalty board said, "for the purpose of including into the record such new evidence as in the discretion of the board shall seem in the interest of justice."

Hall Fairbanks, secretary of the board, said the reopened hearing could lead to a change in the adverse finding on Taylor handed down on June 28, or could make no change, depending upon the new evidence submitted and the board's opinion of it.

Defeated Sheriff Candidate Confesses To Bank Holdup

SELMER, Tenn., Aug. 18 (AP)—A 43-year-old Mississippi contractor has admitted he robbed his hometown bank of $46,000 at gunpoint eight days after he was defeated as a candidate for sheriff, police said today.

C. E. Piper, special agent in charge of the Memphis FBI office, said $43,000 of the loot had been found under boards in a barn on a farm at Ackerman, Miss., owned by the accused man, Dual King. The rest of the loot has been "accounted for," he said.

King, married and the father of two young sons, was arrested by FBI agents Tuesday. He was jailed at Selmer under $75,000 bond.

Sheriff Boyce Erwin of Ackerman said King admitted the Aug. 10 holdup of the Bank of Ackerman after a talk with Erwin and FBI agents in his jail cell.

"King admitted the robbery," Sheriff Erwin said. "He didn't say why. I don't believe he knows himself."

The Bank of Ackerman was robbed by a masked bandit who broke into the bank before opening hours and waited for John Keen, assistant cashier, to arrive. Keen said he was forced at gunpoint to open the vault and the cash compartment inside. About $28,000 was overlooked by the bandit who fled into a rear alley and disappeared.

King, regarded as a well-to-do building contractor, ran sixth in a nine-man race for sheriff of Choctaw County, Miss., in the Aug. 2 election. He has been a resident of Ackerman for 10 years.

South Korea Halts Trade With Japan

SEOUL, Aug. 19 (AP)—South Korea ordered a halt to virtually all trade with Japan yesterday on the heels of its ban on travel between the two nations.

Japan's Foreign Office retaliated with a statement charging "extremely unjust" treatment of Japanese fishermen held in what it called two dirty, jammed prisons at the southeast port of Pusan.

The new exchange sent the never-cordial relations between the two nations plunging to a new low.

Kang Sung Tai, South Korean minister of commerce and industry, disclosed the trade shutdown.

Spider Bite Fatal

PARAGROULD, Ark., Aug. 18 (AP)—A 71-year-old farmer died from a spider bite today.

Jesse Isaac Melton was en route home in an ambulance when he died five hours after he was bitten by a "gray spider." He had been treated at a clinic.

D.C. Transit Workers Vote Tonight On Offer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The District Commissioners came to terms tonight with striking transit workers but further negotiations with the Capital Transit Co. lay ahead.

Terms of the offer were not disclosed but its acceptance by the AFL leaders amounted to the first major break in the walkout that has tied up Capital Transit Co. buses and streetcars for 49 days.

The union immediately scheduled a mass meeting for tomorrow night to vote on the offer.

Senator Protests Naming Hurricanes After Women

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) protested today against naming hurricanes after women, who have "historically symbolized tenderness, devotion, sympathy and peacefulness."

He suggested the Weather Bureau switch to more appropriate nomenclature — like "acrimonious or aggressive, followed by belligerant or bilious."

In a letter to Francis W. Reichelderfer, chief of the Weather Burea, Kuchel said he has been following the weather news closer than usual in this last windy week.

"At the same time I have begun to appreciate the resentment against the Weather Bureau for adopting girls' names to identify successive hurricanes," the California senator wrote. On women, he added:

"On occasion they may be stirred to fury, but their rages seldom last as long as 'Hazel's' in 1954 or wreak such vengeance.

"They can be moody and unpredictable, though rarely as determined as 'Connie' last week.

"While now and then excitable, few of them show the wrathfulness of 'Barbara' in 1953 or 'Edna' last summer."

Similar protests were voiced by gallants last year, but the Weather Bureau decided to stick to lady-like labels, explaining that in the complicated communications system used in tracing hurricanes and broadcasting warnings it needs "short, easily pronounced and readily recognized" designations.

Prisoners Quizzed After Riot Quelled

18 Persons Hurt In Pitched Battle

COMSTOCK, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—All privileges were barred today to prisoners at Great Meadow State Correctional Institute as grim-faced officials questioned 174 convicts who revolted and fought guards and state police in a pitched battle that left 18 persons injured.

A heavily armed force of 226 guards and troopers quelled the eight-hour rebellion early today without firing a shot, except for an accidental blast that injured two troopers and a guard.

Preliminary questioning of prisoners led officials to believe there were no real ringleaders of the rebellion. The officials said it was touched off in the outdoor recreation yard when the supper whistle was blown five minutes early because of a threat of rain.

The battle itself lasted less than half an hour. The guards and troopers wielded nightsticks and guns as clubs. The prisoners employed benches, nail-studded slats, fists and feet.

Fourteen prisoners were injured enough to require treatment. Inspector Joseph W. Sayers of the state police suffered a cut on the right hand in protecting his head from a stick aimed at him.

As peace descended on this 44-year-old prison in the Dirondack foothills, the state correction commissioner, Thomas J. McHugh, said a core of 15 or 20 prisoners ranging in age from 19 to the early 20s apparently incited the others. The rebels represented about 15 per cent of the total population of 1,150.

The rebellion may have been inspired by radio reports of a revolt at Nebraska Penitentiary, McHugh said.

Office Workers End Strike Against K. of C.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 18 (AP)—A union spokesman said today that AFL-organized office workers have ended their four-day strike against the Knights of Columbus national headquarters here.

Justin Manning, international representative for the union, said the strikers at a membership meeting here had ratified an agreement reached between representatives of the fraternal order and union bargaining agents, and would return to their jobs tomorrow morning.

The agreement, reached in Philadelphia at a conference with Supreme Knight Luke E. Hart, and state and federal mediators, provides for a modified form of union security; an immediate pay raise of $2 a week, or three per cent, whichever is greater; and for an improved system for arbitrating grievances.

Gaston Declares Mother Is "Loyal"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Pierre Gaston, whose Coast Guard commission has been held up because of his mother, said today she never has been a Communist and "is a loyal American citizen."

Gaston graduated eighth in his class last April from the Coast Guard Officer Training School, but his commission as an ensign was withheld. He was informed in May that this was because his mother was found to have belonged to organizations on the attorney general's subversive list.

He was told she had been active in the American-Russian Institute, the Independent Progressive party of California and the California Labor School.

The mother is Mrs. Jeanne Grisez of California.

"I am positive she did not know those organizations had been cited as subversive," young Gaston told a reporter today. "I think they seemed to offer her a means to do something about the humanitarian aims she has."

Boy Gives Assist To Fleeing Bandit

NEEDHAM, Mass., Aug. 18 (AP)—A bank robber running from the scene of the crime with an estimated $18,000 received an assist today from an innocent youth who thought the thief was a bank messenger.

Kevin Kenney, 18, seated in his father's car, saw the bandit drop a money bag. Unaware that the Norfolk County Trust Co., had just been robbed, the youth called to the robber, picked up the bag, and returned it to him.

Not until police appeared was young Kenney aware of the holdup. The robber escaped.

GI Is Flown Home; Mother Going Blind

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP) — An Army sergeant was flown from Europe today to enable his ailing, 80-year-old mother to see him before she loses her sight.

Doctors said Mrs. Goldie Meyers, a patient at the Brooklyn Hebrew Home and Hospital for the aged, may be blind in another month. She said she wanted to see her son before she goes completely blind.

M. Sgt. Benjamin Meyers, 55, stationed in Heidelberg, Germany, appeared in her room shortly after landing at the McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

"I am here, Mom," he said quietly.

Law Requiring Congressional Junkets Urged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Sen. Capehart says there ought to be a law requiring all members of Congress to travel aboard each year.

"My gosh!" the Indiana Republican exclaimed in an interview, "when you think of the global responsibilities that we have to meet almost every day during a congressional session, why, you just can't avoid a conclusion that we ought to go abroad to see for ourselves."

Come next January, when Congress reconvenes, Capehart said he will introduce a special resolution seeking to establish the principle that regular foreign travel is the duty of every congressman.

The senator himself is off to Istanbul, Turkey, where he will help represent the United States at sessions of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund. He sails from New York tomorrow.

Capehart said those who criticize congressional junkets just don't know what they're talking about.

"Why, every trip abroad that a member of Congress takes adds to the total information Congress can draw on in passing important legislation," he said.

"Look at the billions the Congress has appropriated for the past seven years. Think of the complex problems involved in selling our surplus farm products abroad. Consider the attractions in underdeveloped areas of the world for U.S. capital investments."

He isn't getting any argument from fellow legislators this year. At least 36 other members of the Senate have packed their bags for foreign tours and an estimated one-third of the 435 House members are planning to broaden their education in faraway places.

Kuwatly Is Elected Syrian President

DAMASCUS, Syria, Aug. 18 (AP)—Shukri Kuwatly was elected president of Syria this moring to climax his dramatic comeback from deposition and five years exile.

Kuwatly, 62, was given a big majority by the Syrian Parliament over Foreign Minister Khaled Azem, 41.

It was the third time Kuwatly had been elected head of state—the first time was in 1943 and the second in 1948, but a military coup unseated him in March 1949 and he began five years of exile in Egypt.

Rice Yielding Ground To Wheat In Far East

ROME, Aug. 18 (AP) — Rice, the staple food for a billion Asians, is yielding ground to wheat.

The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization says to some extent "a permanent change" has taken place in the food habits of the teeming Orient.

Because of the postwar rice shortage and the attractive terms that went with wheat supplies, "there has been an expansion in the consumption of wheat at the expense of rice" in the Far East, the FAO reported in an extensive study.

The dead infant was Janice Lee Theiler, who apparently became entangled in a string attached to a toy in her crib.

Last night, Mrs. Theiler gave birth to a daughter, the couple's fifth child.

Group Begins Study Of SRC

BALTIMORE, Aug. 18 (AP) — The Green Commission today launched its "constructive study" of the State Roads Commission with the appointment of John A. Donaho to do the "legwork" for the survey.

As the group, formally known as the Commission on State programs, Organization and Finance, began its study, Gov. McKeldin who had asked the commission to make the roads commission study and provided $19,000 for that purpose, continued to delay his answer to a Legislative Council demand for a full scale investigation and funds to conduct it.

Harry J. Green, chairman of the commission, said Donaho will "begin immediately" to gather data on the roads commission. He will report to the commission at a meeting to be held soon after Labor Day. Chairman Russell H. McCain of the roads commission and several of his top assistants have been invited to the meeting.

Donaho, who is 37, was budget director in Richmond, Va., before he came to Maryland in 1952 and advised the state on the adoption of a program-type budget.

Bernard Baruch Saluted On His 85th Birthday

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune tonight published two full pages of greetings to Bernard M. Baruch, financier and elder statesman, on his 85th birthday tomorrow.

The messages, in the paper's Friday editions, included toasts from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey, Gen. George C. Marshall, Clare Booth Luce, U. S. ambassador to Italy, and Vice President Richard Nixon.

The Herald Tribune said it "believed that it was more than fitting to salute a great American on his 85th birthday."

"In the history of the nations of the free world," a statement by the paper's publisher and president, Ogden R. Reid, added, "there have been few men who have so contributed to the cause cause of freedom . . ."

Dulles said, "I salute you as a true patriot, a wise counselor in the cause of peace and freedom and as a personal friend."

Lord Beaverbrook, publisher of Beaverbrook Newspapers, London, described Baruch as "a benign and splendid figure whose influence among men is matched only by his vision and is used only for good purposes."

Brazil has increased the number of her airports from 140 to 270 in the last five years, says the National Geographic Society.

The Scriptures have been translated into 1,084 languages.

Rising Potomac Threatens Historic D. C. Monuments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Potomac River overflowed today, threatening to drench historic monuments in Washington and along the Virginia shore.

A high tide four feet above normal and heavy rains, both products of Hurricane Diane, brought floods at several low points in the District of Columbia and Alexandria, Va.

Army engineers kept an eye on the overflow with a view of sandbagging the foundations of some temporary federal buildings at 17th St. and Constitution Ave., N. W., if necessary. The buildings are situated in the vicinity of the Washington Monument, but on lower ground.

By Saturday noon, officials said, the river might crest four feet above flood stage at Chain Bridge, upstream from the capital. This stage is not considered dangerous by Army engineers, since the channel is deep and swift there and the river widens considerably below it.

At Hains Point, a favorite recreation spot, the water topped the seawall, covered benches along a walk and inundated a section of the public golf course.

The tidal basin overflowed and water crept through the cherry trees toward the Jefferson Memorial. Anacostia Drive was closed on the Maryland side.

Africa's Lake Victoria which is one and a half times the size of Switzerland will have its level raised three feet by a new power and irrigation dam.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—An Army sergeant was flown from Europe today to enable his ailing, 80-year-old mother to see him before she loses her sight.

Doctors said Mrs. Goldie Meyers, a patient at the Brooklyn Hebrew Home and Hospital for the aged, may be blind in another month. She said she wanted to see her son before she goes completely blind.

M. Sgt. Benjamin Meyers, 55, stationed in Heidelberg, Germany, appeared in her room shortly after landing at the McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

"I am here, Mom," he said quietly.

Law Requiring Congressional Junkets Urged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Sen. Capehart says there ought to be a law requiring all members of Congress to travel aboard each year.

"My gosh!" the Indiana Republican exclaimed in an interview, "when you think of the global responsibilities that we have to meet almost every day during a congressional session, why, you just can't avoid a conclusion that we ought to go abroad to see for ourselves."

Come next January, when Congress reconvenes, Capehart said he will introduce a special resolution seeking to establish the principle that regular foreign travel is the duty of every congressman.

The senator himself is off to Istanbul, Turkey, where he will help represent the United States at sessions of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund. He sails from New York tomorrow.

Capehart said those who criticize congressional junkets just don't know what they're talking about.

"Why, every trip abroad that a member of Congress takes adds to the total information Congress can draw on in passing important legislation," he said.

"Look at the billions the Congress has appropriated for the past seven years. Think of the complex problems involved in selling our surplus farm products abroad. Consider the attractions in underdeveloped areas of the world for U.S. capital investments."

He isn't getting any argument from fellow legislators this year. At least 36 other members of the Senate have packed their bags for foreign tours and an estimated one-third of the 435 House members are planning to broaden their education in faraway places.

Kuwatly Is Elected Syrian President

DAMASCUS, Syria, Aug. 18 (AP)—Shukri Kuwatly was elected president of Syria this moring to climax his dramatic comeback from deposition and five years exile.

Kuwatly, 62, was given a big majority by the Syrian Parliament over Foreign Minister Khaled Azem, 41.

It was the third time Kuwatly had been elected head of state—the first time was in 1943 and the second in 1948, but a military coup unseated him in March 1949 and he began five years of exile in Egypt.

Rice Yielding Ground To Wheat In Far East

ROME, Aug. 18 (AP)—Rice, the staple food for a billion Asians, is yielding ground to wheat.

The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization says to some extent "a permanent change" has taken place in the food habits of the teeming Orient.

Because of the postwar rice shortage and the attractive terms that went with wheat supplies, "there has been an expansion in the consumption of wheat at the expense of rice" in the Far East, the FAO reported in an extensive study.

One Of Triplets Dies

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 18 (AP)—An 11-months-old girl, one of triplets, died of strangulation today only hours after her mother gave birth to another child.

The dead infant was Janice Lee Theiler, who apparently became entangled in a string attached to a toy in her crib.

Last night, Mrs. Theiler gave birth to a daughter, the couple's fifth child.

Group Begins Study Of SRC

BALTIMORE, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Green Commission today launched its "constructive study" of the State Roads Commission with the appointment of John A. Donaho to do the "legwork" for the survey.

As the group, formally known as the Commission on State programs, Organization and Finance, began its study, Gov. McKeldin who had asked the commission to make the roads commission study and provided $19,000 for that purpose, continued to delay his answer to a Legislative Council demand for a full scale investigation and funds to conduct it.

Harry J. Green, chairman of the commission, said Donaho will "begin immediately" to gather data on the roads commission. He will report to the commission at a meeting to be held soon after Labor Day. Chairman Russell H. McCain of the roads commission and several of his top assistants have been invited to the meeting.

Donaho, who is 37, was budget director in Richmond, Va., before he came to Maryland in 1952 and advised the state on the adoption of a program-type budget.

BASSUM, Germany, Aug. 18 (AP)—Two of Britain's newest type jet fighter planes collided in the air and crashed during rain squalls tonight.

One pilot was killed, the other severely injured. Both got out by tripping ejector seats, but the parachute of one failed to open.

Bernard Baruch Saluted On His 85th Birthday

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune tonight published two full pages of greetings to Bernard M. Baruch, financier and elder statesman, on his 85th birthday tomorrow.

The messages, in the paper's Friday editions, included toasts from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey, Gen. George C. Marshall, Clare Booth Luce, U. S. ambassador to Italy, and Vice President Richard Nixon.

The Herald Tribune said it "believed that it was more than fitting to salute a great American on his 85th birthday."

"In the history of the nations of the free world," a statement by the paper's publisher and president, Ogden R. Reid, added, "there have been few men who have so contributed to the cause cause of freedom . . ."

Dulles said, "I salute you as a true patriot, a wise counselor in the cause of peace and freedom and as a personal friend."

Lord Beaverbrook, publisher of Beaverbrook Newspapers, London, described Baruch as "a benign and splendid figure whose influence among men is matched only by his vision and is used only for good purposes."

Rising Potomac Threatens Historic D. C. Monuments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Potomac River overflowed today, threatening to drench historic monuments in Washington and along the Virginia shore.

A high tide four feet above normal and heavy rains, both products of Hurricane Diane, brought floods at several low points in the District of Columbia and Alexandria, Va.

Army engineers kept an eye on the overflow with a view of sandbagging the foundations of some temporary federal buildings at 17th St. and Constitution Ave., N. W., if necessary. The buildings are situated in the vicinity of the Washington Monument, but on lower ground.

By Saturday noon, officials said, the river might crest four feet above flood stage at Chain Bridge, upstream from the capital. This stage is not considered dangerous by Army engineers, since the channel is deep and swift there and the river widens considerably below it.

At Hains Point, a favorite recreation spot, the water topped the seawall, covered benches along a walk and inundated a section of the public golf course.

The tidal basin overflowed and water crept through the cherry trees toward the Jefferson Memorial. Anacostia Drive was closed on the Maryland side.

Africa's Lake Victoria which is one and a half times the size of Switzerland will have its level raised three feet by a new power and irrigation dam.

Postal And Road Bills Among Top Mail Producers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Postal pay and highway bills prompted the biggest showers of mail on legislators during the first session of the 84th Congress.

This was the apparent conclusion from a check of a score of House members from all parts of the country.

Reports on the over-all volume of letter writing to "Dear Congressman" varied.

"The heaviest mail we've had," said an aide to Rep. Byron G. Rogers (D-Colo), "Somewhat lighter than average," came from the office of Rep. Robert D. Harrison (R-Neb).

Nearly all listed the postal and highway legislation among the top mail-producers, although localized issues and plain run-of-the-mill correspondence also kept the postman busy.

Reps. Scudder (R-Calif) and Ruth Thompson (R-Mich) were among those not surprised at the turnout in behalf of higher pay for the half-million postal workers. Scudder called the postal group "in the aggregate . . . the champion letter writers," while Mrs. Thompson termed postal pay legislation "an annual project."

This year Congress voted for postal pay increases averaging 8.2 per cent, after a party line fight in which president Eisenhower successfully vetoed a more liberal measure sponsored by the Democrats.

Legislation for a multibillion-dollar roadbuilding program followed a different pattern: shortly before the session's end, House Democrats produced a bill which would have met part of the construction costs through new taxes on highway users.

At that point, congressional offices reported, the mail sacks really began to bulge. Much came from truck and tire interests who would have been hard hit by the taxes, while others write in favor of the plan. The House wound up killing the bill for the session.

More Than One Artificial Moon Is Possibility

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Rocket experts today gave a down-to-earth prospectus for that coming artificial moon, saying:

There probably will be more than one stamped "Made in U.S.A." and the Russians well may add one.

Whether you can see it, or how well, depends on what orbit or path it's made to take.

Don't expect big space platforms or space ships to the real moon for a long time. Hard facts of life are shrinking the imaginative dreams of interplanetary travel in great ships.

But there's nothing really in the way of carrying out the U. S. plan to shoot a basketball-sized satellite or moon out to circle the earth at an altitude of 200 miles within a couple of years. We have the fuels, engines, need mainly technical improvements.

The experts talked at a conference sponsored by the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium and American Rocket Society on the development of an earth satellite vehicle.

The expectation is there will be several such moons sometime after the first is hung in the sky, said Dr. Richard V. Porter, society president. They might be at different altitudes, and in different orbits for different types of studies.

A little moon 200 miles high would stay up for about 15 days, then air drag in the ultra-thin atmosphere would bring it down, said Dr. Homer W. Newell Jr., Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D. C. but one placed 300 miles high would stay up for a year.

The harem has been abolished by law in Turkey.

Fireman Attacked By Roach Army

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 18 (AP)—Add to the perils of being a firefighter: an attack by cockroaches.

It happened to fireman John Conrad on Aug. 7. He was fighting a fire at a dump when an army of the 2-inch-long roaches swarmed up his fire hose and onto him.

Conrad had to turn the hose on himself to dislodge the critters.

"You wouldn't believe it unless you actually saw it," said Conrad today. "They were so thick you could hardly see your clothes."

The next day he broke out with itching welts. Two days later, he began vomiting and was "deathly sick" for 48 hours.

He took no treatment, except to clear out his digestive system. Feeling normal three days later, he consulted his family doctor.

George Washington Tells Lie, Fined $50

DETROIT, Aug. 18 (AP)—Because he told a lie, George Washington had to pay a $50 fine yesterday.

Police told Washington to move his car last Wednesday after a minor traffic collision and he asked for a push, saying his battery was dead.

"I gave him a push to get him started but he kept going," said Patrolman Gilbert Truax. "It took me three blocks to catch him."

Traffic Judge George T. Murphy, fining Washington for reckless driving, told him: "The father of our country would be mortified if he knew you were playing possum."

Pressure For Removal Of MacArthur Exerted By British, Aide Discloses

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP) — A long-time aide of Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today the general was informed the British were trying to get him removed from his Pacific command shortly before former President Truman fired him.

Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's chief deputy in the Japanese occupation government, writes in the current issue of Life magazine that the British keenly opposed MacArthur's program there.

"It is a matter of historical interest," Whitney said, "that not many months before MacArthur was finally recalled from Japan in 1951 one of Britain's top representatives informally told him that the British government was exerting every possible pressure upon Washington to have him removed from Asia."

MacArthur was relieved of his Far Eastern commands by Truman in April 1951, in a clash over policies in the Korean War.

MacArthur advocated bombing Manchurian bases, and using Chinese Nationalist forces on the mainland. The Truman administration opposed this.

In the second of a series of articles on MacArthur, Whitney said two of the general's "major headaches during the occupation were brought on by the British and the Russians.

"The British, understandably fearing competition from the Japanese in Asia, continually advocated restrictions upon Japan's industrial capacity.

"And MacArthur continually resisted these efforts, at least as long as the American people were subsidizing Japan's recovery with American dollars. The British did not give up easily, however. . . ."

Whitney also recalled that when he and the general first flew into defeated Japan, MacArthur paced back and forth in the plane's aisle, dictating these notes on the basis for his occupation policy:

"First destroy the military power . . . then build the structure of representative government . . . enfranchise the women . . . free the political prisoners . . . liberate the farmers . . . establish a free labor movement. . . ."

Whitney recounts that the Russians sought to "take over Hokkaido Island," comprising about a fifth of Japan, with occupation forces, but were rebuffed by MacArthur.

U. S. Coffee Drinking Again On Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Coffee drinking again is on the increase in the United States but the beverage still isn't as popular as it was before the prices went up last year.

On the basis of green coffee imports, consumption in the United States averaged around 16.7 pounds a person in 1953 but fell off around two pounds per person, to about 14.7 pounds in 1954, a Department of Agriculture expert said today.

This spokesman said consumption this year is expected to be about one pound more than last year, but a pound under the 1953 rate.

Geneva Plans For New Big Four Conference

GENEVA, Aug. 18 (AP)—Geneva city officials are planning for a possible second meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers early in January, it was learned today.

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan reportedly told senior Geneva officials during the summit talks that a second foreign ministers' meeting might be set for early January if useful progress was made at the October meeting.

Record Amount Is Being Spent By Advertisers

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Advertisers will spend more money in 1955 than in any other year on record, "Printer's Ink," magazine of the advertising profession, said today.

With the exception of network radio, all media are sharing in the increase with newspapers and television "leading the race," the magazine said.

Last year, it pointed out, advertising expenditures climbed to an all-time high of more than eight billion dollars; this year the total is likely to shoot past the 8½-billion-dollar mark. Volume for the first half of 1955 has been running 11 per cent above the year-ago level.

Final reports for 1954 show national advertising up 6½ per cent from 1953 to $4,811,900,000 and local advertising up 3½ per cent to $3,352,200,000. The grand total for 1954 is $8,164,100,000. That's 5.3 per cent greater than the 1953 total of $7,755,300,000.

Network radio advertising declined 7.6 per cent last year, but all other categories showed an increase. Network TV was up 32.6 per cent, newspapers up 1.9 per cent, direct mail up 9.4 per cent and outdoor advertising up 6 per cent. Farm publications showed a gain of 3.2 per cent and magazines 0.1 per cent.

National advertising in June was 3 per cent greater than in May and up 10 per cent from June last year, Printer's Ink reported.

"Newspapers, up 7 per cent, show the greatest gain over May," it said. "With television, they lead the race to a new record this year. TV registered a 26 per cent increase this June over last June. Newspapers were a close second with a 22 per cent rise."

The Japanese also use chopsticks in eating.

Bike Rider Has His Ups, Downs

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 18 (AP) — Robert L. Noble, a Kansas City, Mo., mail clerk, took a bicycle ride this week.

He started from Colorado Springs, elevation 6,095 feet at 4:10 a.m.

He finished atop Pikes Peak, elevation 14,110 feet, 31 miles distant, 10 hours and 35 minutes later.

Just to show he wasn't tired, Noble started to ride down. But the brakes on his bike gave out on a turn at the 16-mile post. So he had to finish the rest of the ride in inglorious fashion, by auto.

Thanks to the record-breaking demand for its 1955 cars—the "hottest" cars of the year—Chrysler has had to expand tremendously. Upon completion of this Giant Expansion Program, the new plant shown above can boost Chrysler Windsor V-8 and New Yorker production a full 40 per cent!

We know that huge automobile plants aren't built in a day. It's a job that takes several months. That's why we've tried to stock up on enough new 1955 Chrysler Windsor V-8's and New Yorkers to take care of our customers through the season. We've filled our entire year's supply now, at mid-year.

Pick from our big array of models and color combinations

Right now, our showroom looks like a Chrysler catalog come-to-life! We can give you an almost unlimited choice of color combinations and body styles—something we haven't been able to do since the big "run" on 1955 Chryslers began the day they were first introduced. But indications are that there just won't be enough to go around. So we urge you to come in now.

Trade-in value of your present car will never be higher than it is now

That's right! Every day you wait, your present car is worth less and less. Now's the time to trade.

And we're the ones to trade with for top-dollar. Because we need used cars.

Why we're anxious to get your car

Once our present stock of new Chryslers is moved out, we won't get any more. That's why—today—we're in a hurry to get our used car stocks filled out, so we can be all set later on. Because there's nobody unhappier than an automobile dealer without automobiles to sell.

We're inviting you to take the 100-Million-Dollar Ride today

If you've been waiting for a real buy on your new 1955 Chrysler Windsor V-8 or New Yorker . . . wait no longer! When these cars are gone, that's it!

Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's chief deputy in the Japanese occupation government, writes in the current issue of Life magazine that the British keenly opposed MacArthur's program there.

"It is a matter of historical interest," Whitney said, "that not many months before MacArthur was finally recalled from Japan in 1951 one of Britain's top representatives informally told him that the British government was exerting every possible pressure upon Washington to have him removed from Asia."

McArthur was relieved of his Far Eastern commands by Truman in April 1951, in a clash over policies in the Korean War.

MacArthur advocated bombing Manchurian bases, and using Chinese Nationalist forces on the mainland. The Truman administration opposed this.

In the second of a series of articles on MacArthur, Whitney said two of the general's "major headaches during the occupation were brought on by the British and the Russians.

"The British, understandably fearing competition from the Japanese in Asia, continually advocated restrictions upon Japan's industrial capacity.

"And MacArthur continually resisted these efforts, at least as long as the American people were subsidizing Japan's recovery with American dollars. The British did not give up easily, however. . . ."

Whitney also recalled that when he and the general first flew into defeated Japan, MacArthur paced back and forth in the plane's aisle, dictating these notes on the basis for his occupation policy:

"First destroy the military power . . . then build the structure of representative government . . . enfranchise the women . . . free the political prisoners . . . liberate the farmers . . . establish a free labor movement. . . ."

Whitney recounts that the Russians sought to "take over Hokkaido Island," comprising about a fifth of Japan, with occupation forces, but were rebuffed by MacArthur.

U. S. Coffee Drinking Again On Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Coffee drinking again is on the increase in the United States but the beverage still isn't as popular as it was before the prices went up last year.

On the basis of green coffee imports, consumption in the United States averaged around 16.7 pounds a person in 1953 but fell off around two pounds per person, to about 14.7 pounds in 1954, a Department of Agriculture expert said today.

This spokesman said consumption this year is expected to be about one pound more than last year, but a pound under the 1953 rate.

Geneva Plans For New Big Four Conference

GENEVA, Aug. 18 (AP)—Geneva city officials are planning for a possible second meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers early in January, it was learned today.

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan reportedly told senior Geneva officials during the summit talks that a second foreign ministers' meeting might be set for early January if useful progress was made at the October meeting.

Record Amount Is Being Spent By Advertisers

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Advertisers will spend more money in 1955 than in any other year on record, "Printer's Ink," magazine of the advertising profession, said today.

With the exception of network radio, all media are sharing in the increase with newspapers and television "leading the race," the magazine said.

Last year, it pointed out, advertising expenditures climbed to an all-time high of more than eight billion dollars; this year the total is likely to shoot past the 8½-billion-dollar mark. Volume for the first half of 1955 has been running 11 per cent above the year-ago level.

Final reports for 1954 show national advertising up 6½ per cent from 1953 to $4,811,900,000 and local advertising up 3½ per cent to $3,352,200,000. The grand total for 1954 is $8,164,100,000. That's 5.3 per cent greater than the 1953 total of $7,755,300,000.

Network radio advertising declined 7.6 per cent last year, but all other categories showed an increase. Network TV was up 32.6 per cent, newspapers up 1.9 per cent, direct mail up 9.4 per cent and outdoor advertising up 6 per cent. Farm publications showed a gain of 3.2 per cent and magazines 0.1 per cent.

National advertising in June was 3 per cent greater than in May and up 10 per cent from June last year, Printer's Ink reported.

"Newspapers, up 7 per cent, show the greatest gain over May," it said. "With television, they lead the race to a new record this year. TV registered a 26 per cent increase this June over last June. Newspapers were a close second with a 22 per cent rise."

Bike Rider Has His Ups, Downs

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 18 (AP) — Robert L. Noble, a Kansas City, Mo., mail clerk, took a bicycle ride this week.

He started from Colorado Springs, elevation 6,095 feet at 4:10 a.m.

He finished atop Pikes Peak, elevation 14,110 feet, 31 miles distant, 10 hours and 35 minutes later.

Just to show he wasn't tired, Noble started to ride down. But the brakes on his bike gave out on a turn at the 16-mile post. So he had to finish the rest of the ride in inglorious fashion, by auto.

What does CHRYSLER'S giant expansion program mean to you?

DEMAND FOR 1955 CHRYSLERS RESULTS IN HUGE EXPANSION! This new Chrysler plant, started last March, includes a continuous conveyor system 14 miles long, will add 40% to Chrysler's production facilities.

The greatest new-car buying opportunity of the year!

Thanks to the record-breaking demand for its 1955 cars—the "hottest" cars of the year—Chrysler has had to expand tremendously. Upon completion of this Giant Expansion Program, the new plant shown above can boost Chrysler Windsor V-8 and New Yorker production a full 40 per cent!

We know that huge automobile plants aren't built in a day. It's a job that takes several months. That's why we've tried to stock up on enough new 1955 Chrysler Windsor V-8's and New Yorkers to take care of our customers through the season. We've filled our entire year's supply now, at mid-year.

Pick from our big array of models and color combinations

Right now, our showroom looks like a Chrysler catalog come-to-life! We can give you an almost unlimited choice of color combinations and body styles—something we haven't been able to do since the big "run" on 1955 Chryslers began the day they were first introduced. But indications are that there just won't be enough to go around. So we urge you to come in now.

Trade-in value of your present car will never be higher than it is now

That's right! Every day you wait, your present car is worth less and less. Now's the time to trade.

And we're the ones to trade with for top-dollar. Because we need used cars.

Why we're anxious to get your car

Once our present stock of new Chryslers is moved out, we won't get any more. That's why—today—we're in a hurry to get our used car stocks filled out, so we can be all set later on. Because there's nobody unhappier than an automobile dealer without automobiles to sell.

We're inviting you to take the 100-Million-Dollar Ride today

If you've been waiting for a real buy on your new 1955 Chrysler Windsor V-8 or New Yorker . . . wait no longer! When these cars are gone, that's it!

Stop in today. Take the wheel and take off on Chrysler's 100-Million-Dollar Ride—the ride all America is talking about.

Then get the figures on your trade-in allowance . . . the best you'll find in town . . . and choose from our great selection of models and color combinations.

We think you'll agree, this truly is the greatest new-car buying opportunity of the year!

SRC Rejects Offer Of 5 Per Cent For Harbor Tunnel Appraisals

BALTIMORE, Aug. 18 (AP)—The State Roads Commission turned down today an offer to help acquire land for the harbor tunnel approaches at 5 per cent of the cost, 2½ per cent less than it is paying.

Russell T. Baker, real estate broker, had offered to acquire land for a 2-mile extension of the northern approach of the tunnel to a proposed expressway at 5 per cent of what the land costs.

But the Roads Commission replied that "is entirely out of line in view of the fact we are only paying 3¾ per cent each" to two firms.

The commission said "it is mandatory" that it have appraisals from two firms for testimony in case it has to condemn the land in court.

The real estate firms of David M. Nichols & Co. and Martien, Clark and Magee are each being paid 3¾ per cent of the land costs for acquiring the tunnel rights of way.

Nichols is a former member of the Roads Commission. The total 7½ per cent contract was questioned during the state's last gubernatorial campaign and also mentioned during the 1955 Legislature which considered investigating the roads commission.

One Of Six Hurt In Fatal Traffic Crash Critical

FT. MEADE, Md., Aug. 18 (AP)—Four civilians and two army officers remained hospitalized today, one in critical condition, with injuries received last Monday in a head-on crash in which two women died.

All the civilians were listed as residents of Washington.

The officers are stationed at Ft. Meade, where the accident occurred. The collision was on Maryland 175 which is under military control where it runs through the military reservation.

Military police said their investigation showed the civilian car was passing another vehicle when the collision occurred with the car carrying the officers.

Reported in critical condition was a man listed by military authorities as Joseph Richard Wilmer Edelen, also known as Higgins, of (927 M Street Northwest) Washington. Military police said sisters-in-law identified him as Edelen. They said a landlady at the M street address said she knew him as Higgins.

The sisters-in-law identified one of the dead women as Edelen's wife, and their sister, Dorothy. The landlady said she also knew the woman as Dorothy Higgins.

The other woman killed was listed as Dolly March of (300 G Street Northwest) who was identified by her sister, Miss Nellie March, of the same address, the Provost Marshall's office said.

Ft. Meade hospital said Edelen was in critical condition with various fractures, brain injuries and a collapsed chest.

Glass Plant Construction Continues On Schedule

As scheduled, the first concrete for the new plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company was poured on the site at North Branch the first of this week.

William Heinemann, project engineer for the glass company, said 200 cubic yards of concrete was placed into the forms for the glass melting tank building and the batch storage silo and mixing area. An additional 240 cubic yards went into the forms of these buildings on Wednesday.

The concrete mixing plant, considered large in construction circles, is capable of mixing 300 cubic yards daily. The contract for the ready-mixed concrete is being handled by the Sheesley Supply Company of Johnstown.

However, the weather put a stop to construction work yesterday and efforts were being concentrated in pumping water out of excavations.

Heinemann said reinforcing steel shipments are continuing to arrive as the big project swings into full sway.

The sub-contract for the underground piping was let this week to the Lloyd E. Mitchell Company of Baltimore and the firm's workers have started their part of the project.

The structural steel contract has been let by the general contractor, Consolidated Engineering Company of Baltimore to the American Bridge, Company, Heinemann reported.

Steel will not start being erected until this fall, the project engineer pointed out.

He also reported progress on the extension of the railroad into the plant site the T. S. Scholes Company of Reading, Pa. When finished, the trackage will amount to about five and one-half miles including the connections with the B&O Railroad and Western Maryland Railway.

The George F. Hazelwood Company of this city is continuing its grading contract, Heinemann said.

Cook Has Eight Years To Walk Around World

ROME, Aug. 17 (AP) — Emilio Tourtois, a wandering cook from Nice, arrived in Rome today with sore feet.

He said he is walking around the world, and it has cost him 14 pairs of shoes and 301 pairs of socks to get this far.

Tourtois came via Spain, Portugal, Germany and Austria. Next he plans to go to Palestine, then Africa, India, Formosa, Japan, Hawaii, North and South America, some more Africa, England and finally back to the Riviera.

"It all started when I lost my job in a hotel," he told Rome reporters. At first, he said, there was no particular reason for his wanting to make the walk around the world. But when a Nice newspaper heard about the plan, he said, it offered to buy him a resturant if he could accomplish the tour in eight years.

Americans Visiting Russia Impressed By Amount Of Work Done By Women

Editors Note: Herb Plambeck, radio-farm editor of station WHO in Des Moines, Iowa, has been with the American farm delegation touring the Soviet Union since the beginning, a month ago. In the following dispatch, he relates some impressions of the tour.

By HERB PLAMBECK

ON TOUR WITH AMERICAN FARMERS IN SOVIET UNION, Aug. 17 (AP)—"Women at work."

That's the sign the Russians would have to put up if they posted warning signs as "Men At Work" signs are posted in the United States.

The untold and almost unbelievable amount of manual work done by women is one of the lasting impressions gained by the American farm group now touring the U.S.S.R. from the moment of their arrival — and through every city, village and collective farm they have visited since — the Americans have been astounded by the countless tasks undertaken by Russian women.

Women are to be seen pushing heavily laden wheelbarrows on road construction jobs, driving trolleys in cities, laying ties on railroad tracks, carrying huge loads of produce to market.

One classic example pointed out to the visiting farmers during their tour of the famous Dnepr Dam was that 70 per cent of the tremendous reconstruction task on the war-damaged structure was done by women.

Two convincing reasons are given for the number of women workers in the Soviet Union. First, it has been the tradition of many centuries for women to assume many of the menial tasks here. Secondly, Russia's war casulaties were so great that women far outnumber men, especially in the productive age category from 25 to 55.

It is on the farms where the Americans have noticed women's activities most. At least 60 per cent of the work on the farms we have seen is being done by women. Only in tractor driving and other mechanical assignments do men outshine the ladies.

On work brigades in the fields women always outnumber men. And they make for an interesting —often attractive — picture, wearing colorful native dresses and scarves or shawls. Often they are barefooted. Sometimes they are seen by the dozens, even in the hundreds, in a single large harvest tract.

Usually there are some men and older boys in the same field with the women and girls, but always the women outnumber the man.

Moreover, the American farm delegation has noticed that some of the dustiest and dirtiest tasks—such as guiding straw into combines — is reserved for the women.

Around livestock the story is much the same. Girls and women do most of the feeding, barn cleaning, milking and other work.

Swine likewise are handled by almost entirely by women, everything from feeding through marketing is done by the women. Geese, ducks and chickens are also handled entirely by the women.

One of the first questions raised by our group in connection with the number of women seen working here was what happens to the children while their mother is in the fields. This problem is solved by establishing nurseries on every collective farm. Parents bring children to nurseries early each morning and call for them at the close of the working day.

Ferris S. Owen, Newark, Ohio, farmer, a father of four youngsters, told the Russians "This plan would not appeal to Americans."

Each collective farm family has a small plot owned by the state on which vegetables can be grown for home use or for sale. So, after the day's work on the collective farm is finished and the youngsters are brought home from the nursery, and a meal prepared for the family, the Soviet housewife can go out and tend the family garden plot and carry the produce to market.

The old adage "Man works from sun to sun, but women's work is never done" really applies here in the Soviet Union.

President Paints, Fishes For Trout

FRASER, Colo., Aug. 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower worked with his oil paints on a Rocky Mountain scene and fished for trout again today after cooking breakfast for his 7-year-old grandson, David.

Vacationing here at a secluded ranch, the President climbed out of bed at 6 a.m. for the second day in a row.

The President arrived here from the Denver summer White House Tuesday afternoon for a stay until Sunday. David came on that evening from a boys camp about 50 miles northeast of Fraser.

Glass Plant Construction Continues On Schedule

As scheduled, the first concrete for the new plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company was poured on the site at North Branch the first of this week.

William Heinemann, project engineer for the glass company, said 200 cubic yards of concrete was placed into the forms for the glass melting tank building and the batch storage silo and mixing area. An additional 240 cubic yards went into the forms of these buildings on Wednesday.

The concrete mixing plant, considered large in construction circles, is capable of mixing 300 cubic yards daily. The contract for the ready-mixed concrete is being handled by the Sheesley Supply Company of Johnstown.

However, the weather put a stop to construction work yesterday and efforts were being concentrated in pumping water out of excavations.

Heinemann said reinforcing steel shipments are continuing to arrive as the big project swings into full sway.

The sub-contract for the underground piping was let this week to the Lloyd E. Mitchell Company of Baltimore and the firm's workers have started their part of the project.

The structural steel contract has been let by the general contractor, Consolidated Engineering Company of Baltimore to the American Bridge, Company, Heinemann reported.

Steel will not start being erected until this fall, the project engineer pointed out.

He also reported progress on the extension of the railroad into the plant site the T. S. Scholes Company of Reading, Pa. When finished, the trackage will amount to about five and one-half miles including the connections with the B&O Railroad and Western Maryland Railway.

The George F. Hazelwood Company of this city is continuing its grading contract, Heinemann said.

Puerto Rico Takes Firm Steps To Change From Agricultural To Industrial Economy

By PHIL MANGELSDORF

SAN JUAN, P. R., Aug. 18 (AP)—This commonwealth island is taking firm steps toward changing from an agricultural economy to an industrial economy.

Government leaders see in industrialization the answer to Puerto Rico's severe unemployment, which averages 100,000 and fluctuates with the sugar and coffee seasons. About 20,000 workers are added to the laboring force each year.

Commissioner of Labor Fernando Sierra Berdecia said that in addition about 200,000 workers are "underemployed." Added to the unemployed this means that only about half of Puerto Rico's total labor force of 650,000 has steady work. The island's total population is about 2¼ million.

The administration of Gov. Luis Munoz Marin has established the Economic Development Administration, known here as Fomento, to lure industries to Puerto Rico. Fomento stresses that it seeks expanding industries rather than industries which close their plants in the United States with the intention of reopening in Puerto Rico to take advantage of tax concessions.

Secretary of State Roberto Sanchez Vilella, 42-year-old acting governor in the absence of Munoz, said Fomento conducts its campaign "on this very high plane." He said Puerto Rico did not want new industry at the expense of the United States.

"Such a policy," said Sanchez, "would in time defeat itself."

For industries which expand with new plants in the island, Puerto Rico offers a large labor market, comparatively low wages and exemption from federal taxes.

In addition, the government offers local tax exemption for a 10-year period, long-term loans, and the lease of industrial space at low rates.

In the last four years 425 new plants, large and small, opened in Puerto Rico. Of these, 325 have survived. The loss of the other 100 is attributed to "normal industrial mortality."

The new plants, which represent many of the large name-brand firms familiar in the United States, have provided 26,000 new jobs.

In a speech last May before the New York Sales Executive Club, Teodoro Muscoso, administrator of Fomento, said Puerto Rico's manufacturing income quadrupled in the last 15 years.

He said per capital annual income also quadrupled and now is $431 — one-quarter of the U. S. national average.

The government's aim, said Muscoso, is to have 90 per cent of all families with an annual income of $2,000 or more by 1960 — through industralization.

Wages in Puerto Rico average 54 cents an hour, and range from 22½ cents in the home needlework industry to 75 cents in large industries.

Wages are established by committees of the U. S. Department of Labor and the commonwealth government on an industry-by-industry basis.

Beside the creation of new jobs by expanding industries, Puerto Rico's unemployment situation has been helped by the migration of workers to the United States, an estimated 300,000 since 1946, and the temporary migration of contract farm laborers.

These contract workers are taken to agricultural districts in the United States where they are guaranteed at least 13 weeks employment. They are paid the prevailing wages of the region in which they work and cannot be contracted for unless there is a shortage of resident labor in that region.

Last year 14,000 Puerto Ricans worked in the United States under contract and then returned to their homes.

Speedy Patrol Boats

KIEL, Germany, Aug. 18 (AP)—West German border police have ordered three high-speed patrol boats of a type that was vetoed for them by the Allied High Commission before it went out of existence last spring when Germany regained sovereignty. The commission decided 40 knots was fast enough. The new boats will go 44—and will mount 20mm. ack-ack guns.

The administration of Gov. Luis Munoz Marin has established the Economic Development Administration, known here as Fomento, to lure industries to Puerto Rico. Fomento stresses that it seeks expanding industries rather than industries which close their plants in the United States with the intention of reopening in Puerto Rico to take advantage of tax concessions.

Secretary of State Roberto Sanchez Vilella, 42-year-old acting governor in the absence of Munoz, said Fomento conducts its campaign "on this very high plane." He said Puerto Rico did not want new industry at the expense of the United States.

"Such a policy," said Sanchez, "would in time defeat itself."

For industries which expand with new plants in the island, Puerto Rico offers a large labor market, comparatively low wages and exemption from federal taxes.

In addition, the government offers local tax exemption for a 10-year period, long-term loans, and the lease of industrial space at low rates.

In the last four years 425 new plants, large and small, opened in Puerto Rico. Of these, 325 have survived. The loss of the other 100 is attributed to "normal industrial mortality."

The new plants, which represent many of the large name-brand firms familiar in the United States, have provided 26,000 new jobs.

In a speech last May before the New York Sales Executive Club, Teodoro Muscoso, administrator of Fomento, said Puerto Rico's manufacturing income quadrupled in the last 15 years.

He said per capital annual income also quadrupled and now is $431 — one-quarter of the U. S. national average.

The government's aim, said Muscoso, is to have 90 per cent of all families with an annual income of $2,000 or more by 1960 — through industrialization.

Wages in Puerto Rico average 54 cents an hour, and range from 22½ cents in the home needlework industry to 75 cents in large industries.

Wages are established by committees of the U. S. Department of Labor and the commonwealth government on an industry-by-industry basis.

Beside the creation of new jobs by expanding industries, Puerto Rico's unemployment situation has been helped by the migration of workers to the United States, an estimated 300,000 since 1946, and the temporary migration of contract farm laborers.

These contract workers are taken to agricultural districts in the United States where they are guaranteed at least 13 weeks employment. They are paid the prevailing wages of the region in which they work and cannot be contracted for unless there is a shortage of resident labor in that region.

Last year 14,000 Puerto Ricans worked in the United States under contract and then returned to their homes.

Speedy Patrol Boats

KIEL, Germany, Aug. 18 (AP)—West German border police have ordered three high-speed patrol boats of a type that was vetoed for them by the Allied High Commission before it went out of existence last spring when Germany regained sovereignty. The commission decided 40 knots was fast enough. The new boats will go 44—and will mount 20mm. ack-ack guns.

Bicentennial And Flood As Seen By News Cameraman

DOIN' THE CHARLESTON—Mrs. Winnie Moore and Mrs. Dixie Rafter Thompson do the Charleston. They appeared as flappers in the fashion show yesterday at Constitution Park in connection with Belles and Brush Day.

STREETS INUNDATED—This view, taken from the new Cumberland-Ridgeley bridge looking toward the old Blue Bridge, shows Water and Paca streets flooded as the Potomac picked up speed yesterday afternoon.

HOLIDAY FOR KIDS—The children, as usual, got a big kick out of high water on Avirett Avenue. These tykes pedal their bikes around in the backwaters as their parents and others look on. City employes helped several families move out.

RIVER STAY 'WAY—A Lee Street family patiently watches as the Potomac begin rising toward their door yesterday afternoon. Several homes in the area were evacuated and many families moved to higher ground.

NICE DAY FOR WADING—Nina Bell wades in water over her ankles on Paca Street early last night as the river kept rising. Several families stayed busy most of the evening clearing out their basements and moving first-floor furniture upstairs.

DEARBORN-WOOD BROS. CORN PICKER

"Easy On the Ears"
HERE'S WHY!
Gentle Snapping—Extra long non-aggressive snapping rolls and a rotary snapping bar are exclusive features of the Dearborn-Wood Bros. Corn Picker. They work gently to get more corn . . . with practically no butt shelling.
Clean Husking—The big husking bed on this picker does a thorough job of cleaning corn for the crib. The exclusive flexible fingered spiral husking bed feed spreads the ears evenly over the entire bed. Then three steel and three rubber husking rolls whisk away husks and silk . . . with a minimum of shelling.
Come in soon and ask for a demonstration. You'll be glad you did. Convenient terms available.

Rabbi To Speak Here

Have you a growing tendency toward too much make-up? Mr. Powers believes in make-down instead of make-up.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Little sister, caught red-handed—quite literally — in your cosmetics, looks the startling picture of what makeup should not do.

Wearing wide lipstick smears, caked powder, sharp circles of rouge and eyebrows pencilled as they could never grow, she looks funny, and for all the sweetness of her little face, grotesque.

You would never approach what she comes up with in your own use of beauty aids. But in trying out new cosmetics and new ways of wearing them, have you, too, gone overboard, even if it is with less abandon? Without realizing it, have you gradually added this trick and that touch until artificiality has taken over?

One of the doors in the Powers School in New York is labelled "Make-Down." Behind it we teach proper use of cosmetics — make-down instead of makeup, because we believe so completely that cosmetics should themselves be played down in the final effect. They are important, of course, but always for the purpose of creating natural beauty.

Before choosing a new cosmetic, ask yourself this question: Does its color definitely relate to the color of your own skin or lips? It must, or it will never have a look of belonging, even though a powder or powder base may be lighter or darker for flattery.

Before using a cosmetic in a new way, ask this question: Has my experiment with it, viewed in a good, strong light, proved that it really does make me look more attractive — naturally, not artificially — or am I deceiving myself because I want to follow a fad?

Commissioners Clear Up County Stone Bill Muddle

A question raised by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson at the last meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners over the price for delivery of stone rejects to Hinkle Road was cleared up yesterday after the contract for the stone delivery was read.

Wilkinson was checking the semi-monthly bills when he noticed that the price for the stone delivered to the Hinkle Road section was $1.55 per ton. The price quoted at the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company plant was 75 cents per ton.

When the county awarded the contract to the local firm to supply the 8,000 tons of stone rejects the delivered price to each of eight points, Cumberland, Frostburg, Midland, McCoole, Westernport and so on were listed. They ranged from $1.25 per ton to $2.15 per ton, depending on the distance involved.

Some of the stone was delivered to the Hinkle Road site by the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company while some was hauled from the plant site by county trucks. That hauled in county trucks cost 75 cents per ton while that delivered by the company cost $1.55 per ton. This met contract specifications.

After the discussion, in which James G. Stevenson, clerk to the board, Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board and Commissioners Wilkinson and William H. Lemmert took part, a comment was made by Wilkinson that "That's one way of finding out, by asking questions."

Commissioner Lemmert said that he was always ready and happy to give any information concerning such matters. He added that the various department heads were also willing to give this information.

4-H Calf Exhibit Slated At Fair

The 4-H Club dairy calf exhibit at the Cumberland Fair will include 38 calves to be shown by boys and girls from Allegany County. One calf will be exhibited by a Garrett County youth.

The four major dairy calf breeds, Holstein, Guernsey, Jersey and Ayrshire, will be in the exhibit. Prizes will be given as follows. First prize, $20; second prize, $15; third prize, $12; fourth prize, $11; fifth prize, $10 and sixth prize, $9.

The 4-H dairy calves will be judged Wednesday morning, August 24 and a fitting and showing demonstration will be given by the 4-H Club boys and girls after the judging.

Booths showing the work of 4-H Club boys and girls will be at the fair, with seven booths arranged so far. The Bittinger 4-H Club will have a booth at the fair this year.

Two Garrett County youths in the 4-H Club movement will show sheep at the fair. Arthur Fitzwater, of near Swanton, will have eight Hampshire sheep in the show and John Wildsen, of Gorman, will have seven Suffolk sheep in his exhibit. Fitzwater will also show a Guernsey calf.

Court Grants Two Divorce Decrees

Two women were granted divorces in Circuit Court in decrees filed yesterday.

Mary L. Hedrick, of Frederick, received a divorce from Garrell E. Hedrick. She was also granted the right to resume use of her maiden name, Rinker. She is formerly from this city.

Sylvia B. Hileman, Kentucky Avenue, received a divorce from Melvin H. Hileman. She was also given custody of their four children.

Like To Buy U-235? It's $25 A Gram

A small item of news which appeared in the newspapers reveals more about the coming of the atomic age in industry that most of the fantastic visions of the future raised by scientists meeting at Geneva.

This was the simple announcement by Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission that the AEC is ready to lease enriched uranium for commercial use. The price works out to $25 for each gram of uranium-235, the fissionable type, that is present in the mixture.

If this price seems a little high, it should be remembered that a gram of uranium has as much energy as three tons of coal. The problem, of course, is to get it out. Few persons are equipped at the moment with a furnace that will burn atomic fuel and no converters are readily available, so it is not likely the AEC will do a rushing business immediately.

But uranium is on the market, a price has been fixed, and these are the first steps toward getting A-power into commercial use.

Incidentally, those who should happen to fancy plutonium instead of uranium as fuel for their reactors will be interested to know that this will probably cost $30 a gram, if it sells at the same cost-energy ratio as uranium. Worrying about the price of plutonium would be premature, however.

The AEC, which has most of the world's plutonium, has none for sale at the moment and has not fixed a price, and the Russians—who have what's left—haven't said anything about putting their stocks on the market.

Happy Birthday, Mr. Baruch

Balloon Leaflet Program Had Its Start Just Four Years Ago

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It was exactly four years ago this week that a little group of Americans headed a truck caravan that crept through the German countryside to the edge of the Czechoslovak border to launch a unique experiment in sending messages by balloon over the Iron Curtain.

In the party were Gov. Harold Stassen, C. D. Jackson, later psychological adviser to the White House, Abbott Washburn—now doing an A-1 job as No. 2 man in the U. S. Information Agency—and this correspondent. We parked in a wheat field just under the lee of the hills that border Czechoslovakia, and began stuffing leaflets into balloons, filling the balloons with gas and letting them float up until the prevailing winds caught them and carried them at a rate of 30 miles an hour into Czechoslovakia.

It was about one a. m. and drizzling when we launched the first balloon. It drizzled most of the night—a rain that penetrated everything, soaked to the skin. However, the operation continued. Dawn came. Some 2,000 balloons carrying an average of 600 leaflets each were on their way to Czechoslovakia.

Then we drove back to Munich and waited—waited for the reaction of the Communist government in Prague. Five days passed, nothing happened. We sent more balloons. Still nothing happened. Finally an explosion of protests and indignation began to boil out of Czechoslovakia.

Howls Of Anguish

If the Communists had been smarter they would have kept quiet, made us think the balloons never arrived. Instead they howled. A cartoon appeared on page one of the leading Communist paper, Tvorba, showing Harry Truman sending balloons into Czechoslovakia.

Premier Zapotocky delivered a speech in the Czech Parliament blasting us. Word came back by refugees and the American Embassy that the balloon leaflets had been tacked up on telephone poles, fastened on bulletin boards, put in baggage racks of trains, even mimeographed—distributed wherever anti-Communists knew they would be seen.

Later, official protests came from the Czechoslovak Government to the U. S. Government, demanding that the balloon barrage be stopped. But the U. S. Government replied this was a private matter over which it had no control.

This was all too true. For the balloon barrage had been proposed by me in a newspaper column, July 21, 1948, and it took three years of talking, arguing, planning, before we could even get permission to go to the German-Czech border.

But here is the pay-off. As of this week, the 4th anniversary of the balloon barrage, a total of 400 tons of printed matter has now been dropped on Czechoslovakia and Hungary by balloon. This is a total of 200,000,000 leaflets—carried by private enterprise, with the Crusade for Freedom and the Committee for Free Europe deserving the credit.

It shows what people can do when they really work at penetrating the Iron Curtain.

Talbott's Last Bit Of Gravy

Here is the latest little private bouquet handed to retiring Secretary of the Air Force Talbott by the Air Force.

After he retired, not before, who should turn up at the Irving Hotel in Southampton, but the Talbott family, plus two large Air Force cars with two Air Force drivers, plus one officer in gold braid, plus the Talbott family. Though he was no longer head of the Air Force, government personnel and property were still being used for Talbott's benefit.

This came on top of turning out 48 jet bombers and fighters, flown from Savannah, Ga., Pinecastel, Fla., Wright Field, Ohio, and Langley Field, Va., to honor a man shown up as serving a conflict of interest while head of the Air Force.

Air Force officials may have liked Talbott personally, as this writer did. But when you are operating an important arm of national defense, to say nothing of spending the taxpayers' money, you have to be careful not to lose the confidence of the American people.

The Air Force has now made it appear that they sympathized with Talbott's conflict and interest and politics-playing with defense contracts. And there's no better way to lose the confidence of the American people.

Benson Preserves Forest

Having sometimes criticized Secretary of Agriculture Benson, it's a pleasure to pay him a compliment. Ezra has now taken a firm stand in support of his career forestry officials against leasing part of the Cumberland National Forest in Kentucky for strip mining.

On Nov. 15, 1954, this column reported that Benson was wavering a bit on this point by not accepting a Forest Service recommendation that there be no strip mining for coal in the Cumberland Forest. The Stearns Coal and Lumber Co., of Stearns, Ky., had applied for a lease.

Benson at that time appointed Charley Taft, fair-minded brother of the late Senator Taft, together with R. L. Wilhelm of St. Clairsville, Ohio, and Samuel T. Dana, former Dean of the University of Michigan School of Conservation, to study the matter. They have finally agreed with Regional Forester Charles L. Tebbe against any strip mining, and Benson has now rejected the Stearns application.

Actions In Contempt Of Congress Encouraged

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—A virtual insurrection against the Constitution of the United States is under way among some "left wing" groups in America. It involves a studied effort to encourage actions in contempt of the Congress of the United States. It amounts to an effort to frustrate the legitimate activities of the committees of Congress in performing their law-writing function.

The latest outcropping of defiance has occurred in connection with the hearings of the House Committee on Un-American Activities which is seeking information concerning Communist infiltration and influence in the theatrical field. Many witnesses not only are invoking the Fifth Amendment by refusing to testify at the New York hearings but are also crying out that the committee has no authority even to call them or investigate their activities. It looks like a concerted move.

This type of defiance was urged by the late Albert Einstein, but it has also been seconded by many "left wing" groups. Even the American Civil Liberties Union, which claims to be disinterestedly concerned only with violations of civil liberties, has questioned the right of a congressional committee to investigate and says the investigating function is limited only to enactment of "constitutionally permissible legislation." In its report issued in December 1953, the Union says in part:

"No legislature has any right even to 'expose' anything which is not pertinent to constitutionally permissible legislation, just as the executive and the judiciary have no right to exceed their respective constitutional powers."

But what is "constitutionally permissible legislation"? The Congress has a right to rewrite the Constitution itself and to submit the amendment to the people's legislatures. How can it get information on which to base amendments if its inquiries are to be confined only to the existing constitution and laws permissible under that constitution?

Senator Hennings, Democrat, of Missouri, chairman of a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, has just issued a questionnaire preparatory to public hearings on the religion clause of the First Amendment to the Constitution. Among its questions are the following:

"Do you believe the free exercise of religion protects atheists in propogating a disbelief in religion?

"Speaking generally and considering the deep emotional nature of religious beliefs, do you feel that the present state of affairs in the United States with respect to the rights expressed in the religion clause is: excellent, good, fair, poor?"

Usually Congress steers clear of all investigations relating to the subject of religion.

Matthews Denounced

It wasn't so long ago that the dismissal of J. S. Matthews as a member of the staff of the Senate Operations was forced by three Democratic senators because of an article about communistic influences in religion which he had written before he was employed by the committee.

From one end of the country to the other prominent churchmen denounced Matthews, though he merely exercised his right of free speech. Being politically responsive to such pressures, the Senate committee fired Matthews and wouldn't even grant him a hearing. Few protests came from the "totalitarian liberals" who have always been so quick to denounce congressional committees for allegedly tampering with constitutional rights of individuals.

The committee now headed by Senator Hennings has, of course, a right to inquire into religious beliefs as they relate to freedom of religion and to get any information needed to strengthen the religion clause of the First Amendment either by a revision of that clause or by such legislation under the existing clause as may be tested in the courts.

It is a safe bet that the "totalitarian liberals" will not attack the Hennings committee. They will continue to exhibit their hostility and to urge non-cooperation only when witnesses are summoned whose testimony might be of assistance in exposing the ramifications of Communist conspiracies. These conspiracies have been proved to exist in certain sections of the theater, the movies, the press, the church, the schools, the labor unions and the government itself.

Describing the work of the House Committee on Un-American Activities for the last several years, Chairman Walters said in a formal statement at the New York hearings this week:

"...The committee has made 48 recommendations for new legislation by Congress or the strengthening of existing legislation designed to aid the fight against this Communist conspiracy. All but four of these recommendations have been enacted into law in one form or another by the Congress of the United States.

The right of a congressional commitee to acquire information is unlimited. Individuals have a right to refuse to answer and are protected by the Fifth Amendment within certain limits set forth by the courts. Too many persons are abusing the Fifth Amendment by pretending they would be subject to self-incrimination when their real purpose is probably to conceal the illegal or improper acts of others. It is the duty of a citizen to furnish to his government any information he or she possesses about the Communist conspiracy against the United States if it involves the guilt of others.

Real Satellite Story

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

The American decision to build a small earth satellite was announced in a manner that did credit to the great brains of Madison Avenue; and it has been accepted by the nation at large as another cause for happy complacency. The decision looks a bit different, however, in the light of the real story behind it.

In brief, the American government made an announced decision to build a satellite of the MOUSE type in order to get in ahead of the Soviet government, and for no other very good reason.

It was needful to get in ahead because intelligence had brought word to the Eisenhower administration policy-makers that a similar Soviet announcement was planned at the impending annual Congress of the International Astronautical Federation at Copenhagen. Long before, the American government had received convincing proof that the Soviets had actually started a satellite project. But now they were preparing to let the whole world know about it.

No One To Protest

The same old reason—alleged defense economy—had prevented a serious American satellite project from being started in the earlier period, when the Soviet satellite project was started. The whole subject was conveniently classified. There was no one who could effectively protest the delay.

But it was clearly going to be disastrous, from the standpoint of American domestic politics as well as American international prestige, if the plans for the Soviet satellite were dramatically unveiled at Copenhagen when no American satellite project had even been ordered.

Hence the administration policy-makers were forced to act with some speed. The decision was made to build the MOUSE-type satellite because this so-called "Minimum Orbital Satellite of Earth" could be built most rapidly. The MOUSE type, to be sure, also had minimum military value. But Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty could fairly safely promise that it would be launched into the upper air in the period 1957-'58.

Only a few weeks before, these reporters had caused a species of riot in the National Security Council by daring to discuss the satellite problem in this space. The usual reprisals for this "shocking breach of secrecy" then followed. But the administration's secrecy fetish has a way of breaking down pretty rapidly under political pressures. And so secrecy was forgotten, and the hastily reached American decision on the satellite was given to the public by Hagerty with maximum fanfare.

Immediately thereafter, the Copenhagen Congress of the Astronautical Federation was held as scheduled. The Soviet delegation was headed by the astra-physicist, Prof. K. Ogorodnikov, and the gas-dynamicist, Prof. L. Sedov. Prof. Sedov is also chairman of the "Soviet Commission for Coordination of Interplanetary Flight," which is probably Moscow gobledygook for the Soviet satellite project.

Russians More Precise

In short order, Sedov and Ogorodnikov proceeded to confirm the indications of an intended Soviet announcement that the Eisenhower policy-makers had previously received from the intelligence analysts. The two Russian scientists declared for quotation that "from a technical point of view, it is now possible to send up a satellite of much greater size and weight" than the MOUSE, which Hagerty had revealed would be about the size of a basketball.

For quotation, Sedov and Ogorodnikov contented themselves with adding that the "realization of the Soviet project is expected in the near future." Off the record, with their fellow scientists, they were more precise. They not only stated that the Soviet satellite would be considerably larger than the American one. They also declared that they hoped to get it into the air during 1957, or a few months earlier than the American date promised by Hagerty.

Whether the Soviets will really get there first is of course open to question, because of the relative ease and cheapness of building the MOUSE. What really matters, however, is the strong probability that the Soviets, as indicated by their discussion of satellite sizes, are not building a satellite of much greater military value than the one we are building.

For example, the most discussed practical military use of a non-habitable earth satellite as is an instrument of reconnaissance. Fitted with appropriate television broadcasting equipment, plus serv-mechanisms to insure that only the desired earth surfaces would be televised, a satellite of quite practicable size could tell its builders almost everything that can be learned from aerial reconnaissance of another nation's territory.

Hollow Joke

The MOUSE-type satellite is too small to be used in this way, but a somewhat larger one unquestionably can be so used. And a satellite of this type, when launched, would make a rather hollow joke of President Eisenhower's Geneva proposal of mutually agreed aerial reconnaissance.

Yet the real point of the satellite story lies in the fact that sure knowledge of the Soviet satellite project was possessed by the American government as early as January 1954. The Defense Department leadership therefore knowingly gave the Kremlin at least a year-and-a-half lead in this vital race of the satellites. And then, when this shocking delay threatened to produce embarrassing results, an advertising stunt was used to cover up.

It is fortunate that the American satellite project has at last been ordered, but its history is a pretty grim commentary on the real character of our present defense planning.

The Draft Ike Movement

It is not easy to understand all the activity to "Draft Ike" for the Republican nomination for President in 1956. If Eisenhower wants the job, the Republicans will nominate him. In fact, they have no other candidate on hand, except Richard Nixon, the Vice President, or William Knowland, the Senator, and both would prefer to be remembered in 1960 rather than in 1956. Ike does not need to be drafted. The convention will be his private property and will do his bidding.

Tom Stephens, the Dewey henchman and for a while appointment secretary to President Eisenhower, is busying himself with the "Draft Ike" effort. It is expected that John Roosevelt, Republican son of the late New Deal President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, will head a Citizens' Committee.

All this activity seems useless—of the order of presenting Caesar with a crown three times, when truly the old boy wanted it from the start. It is normal for an American President to expect to be nominated for a second term. It is abnormal for an American President to decline a second term. Coolidge did it by choosing not to run—but the trouble there was that the rest of the country did not understand the particular New England Yankee use of the term "choose." It meant that that was his choice but was no indication as to how others should choose.

I have to say New England Yankee because there are lots of people these days who are not Yankees and who do not quite get the shades of meaning which are so characteristic of the people here in western Massachusetts and Vermont who use few words and no gestures but are always understood among themselves. Coolidge would have run for a second term had he been nominated, or so I have been told by those whose propinquity to him cannot be gainsaid.

As a matter of fact, if Eisenhower announced today that he will run for a second term, the Republicans could dispense with their convention in San Francisco, where the hotel space is likely to present a problem. They could nominate him unanimously by mail, the proxies to be addressed to Thomas E. Dewey, who controls the machinery of the Republican Party anyhow. He appoints judges and U. S. Attorneys and such, although he likes to give the impression that he has retired from politics and is hidden away in the gullies of Wall Street.

Why go to the enormous expense of dragging thousands of people across the continent in August when the cat is already in the bag? All the press-agent stories handed out to give the impression that Ike may be too old at 70 are designed only to have thousands of telegrams and letters come to the White House, saying, "No! No! 70 is not too old, or even 80. Let's have Ike. We like Ike!"

Age depends upon blood pressure, pulse pressure, pulse rates, blood sugar, etc., etc. It is possible to determine the realistic age of a man's physique, which may be 50 at 70. Of course, when the report is faked as it was with Franklin D. Roosevelt, there is no telling what a man's age is except by his birth certificate.

Governor "Soapy" Williams' vulgarity in discussing this question is only possible in one who was badly bred and therefore should not be a candidate for the Presidency or even the Vice Presidency because we should have decent manners in high places. When I read what the soapy Governor said, I thought that this fellow sure hopes that Ike is old with one foot in the grave, which is a very nasty thought on his part. Even Democrats ought to feel that Ike would make a graceful ex-President, living on his manorial estate at Gettysburg and delivering addresses before universities and learned societies. Even a Democrat can wish him a long and happy life and I am sure that most of them do.

Forsooth, most of them would want him to remain President until 1960, 1956 not being the best of years for an opposition candidate, surely not if peace and prosperity lasts.

So why a "Draft Ike" movement? Why does Tom Stephens fuss so? Why does John Roosevelt, who has been most unrooseveltian up to now, want to get into the act? It would seem to be a waste of money.

Food Must Be Handled And Cooked Carefully

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Most foods contain a few bacteria regardless of how carefully they are prepared. Organisms in the air settle on it and some are deposited by the hands or the breath. But most of us tolerate these germs as well as we do the peck of dirt we are said to eat in a lifetime.

The longer food stands and the more hands it goes thru, the greater the contamination. Furthermore, in a warm room, germs multiply and some varieties produce toxins. This causes the common types of food poisoning that lead to nausea, vomiting, cramps, diarrhea, headache, chills, and fever.

Refrigeration lessens the chance of food poisoning because freezing induces a state of hibernation. But cold may not kill the organisms; the same number are present in the food when it is removed from the refrigerator as were present when the dish was placed there.

Leftovers from the dining room table should not stand out too long as exposure increases the likelihood of contamination. In the Journal of the American Dietetic association, Dr. Dorothy L. Hussemann says leftovers ought to be refrigerated within one-half hour after removal from the stove.

Time is needed for food to cool and even after it is placed in the refrigerator, germs continue to increase until its temperature drops to 50 degrees F. Nine hours were required to reach this temperature with a 100 serving batch of chicken salad placed in the refrigerator in a deep pan. A 25 serving batch in a shallow bowl took three hours.

Hot food is not affected adversely by immediate refrigeration. Moreover, toxin production is minimized in this way. A shallow container hastens cooling.

Heat kills bacteria but temperatures near the boiling point of water are demanded to inactivate the toxin. Most foods are not subjected to such high heat. Dr. Hussemann cited an experiment in which turkey stuffing was contaminated with staphylococci, streptococci, and salmonella before roasting.

To destroy organisms in the center of the stuffing, a temperature of 160 degrees F. must be achieved. In the experiment cited, during the early part of the roasting period, bacteria were actually multiplying. The rate of heat penetration was slower in larger fowl and twice as much cooking time was required for frozen turkey and dressing.

FATTY LIVER

A condition in which fat accumulates in the liver as a result of alcoholism, poor diet, severe anemia, uncontroled diabetes, or poisoning from chloroform or phosphorus. During the early stages there are no symptoms. Later, jaundice and dropsy may develop.

X-RAY IN ARTHRITIS

No, except for a special type affecting the spine (rheumatoid spondylitis). We don't know why radiation is effective in this type of arthritis and not in others.

Most of us have suffered several attacks of this common infection and have lived to tell the tale. But I don't mean to belittle the streptococcus, which is a dangerous organism. It is responsible for many maladies such as scarlet fever, rheumatic fever, Bright's disease, subacute bacterial endocarditis, and erysipelas.

Nevertheless, when the cameras started grinding, Schulberg and Director Kazan were horrified to see extras dropping like flies. Like To Buy U-235? It's $25 A Gram

A small item of news which appeared in the newspapers reveals more about the coming of the atomic age in industry that most of the fantastic visions of the future raised by scientists meeting at Geneva.

This was the simple announcement by Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission that the AEC is ready to lease enriched uranium for commercial use. The price works out to $25 for each gram of uranium-235, the fissionable type, that is present in the mixture.

If this price seems a little high, it should be remembered that a gram of uranium has as much energy as three tons of coal. The problem, of course, is to get it out. Few persons are equipped at the moment with a furnace that will burn atomic fuel and no converters are readily available, so it is not likely the AEC will do a rushing business immediately.

But uranium is on the market, a price has been fixed, and these are the first steps toward getting A-power into commercial use.

Incidentally, those who should happen to fancy plutonium instead of uranium as fuel for their reactors will be interested to know that this will probably cost $30 a gram, if it sells at the same cost-energy ratio as uranium. Worrying about the price of plutonium would be premature, however.

The AEC, which has most of the world's plutonium, has none for sale at the moment and has not fixed a price, and the Russians—who have what's left—haven't said anything about putting their stocks on the market.

Balloon Leaflet Program Had Its Start Just Four Years Ago

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It was exactly four years ago this week that a little group of Americans headed a truck caravan that crept through the German countryside to the edge of the Czechoslovak border to launch a unique experiment in sending messages by balloon over the Iron Curtain.

In the party were Gov. Harold Stassen, C. D. Jackson, later psychological adviser to the White House, Abbott Washburn—now doing an A-1 job as No. 2 man in the U. S. Information Agency—and this correspondent. We parked in a wheat field just under the lee of the hills that border Czechoslovakia, and began stuffing leaflets into balloons, filling the balloons with gas and letting them float up until the prevailing winds caught them and carried them at a rate of 30 miles an hour into Czechoslovakia.

It was about one a. m. and drizzling when we launched the first balloon. It drizzled most of the night—a rain that penetrated everything, soaked to the skin. However, the operation continued. Dawn came. Some 2,000 balloons carrying an average of 600 leaflets each were on their way to Czechoslovakia.

Then we drove back to Munich and waited—waited for the reaction of the Communist government in Prague. Five days passed, nothing happened. We sent more balloons. Still nothing happened. Finally an explosion of protests and indignation began to boil out of Czechoslovakia.

Howls Of Anguish

If the Communists had been smarter they would have kept quiet, made us think the balloons never arrived. Instead they howled. A cartoon appeared on page one of the leading Communist paper, Tvorba, showing Harry Truman sending balloons into Czechoslovakia.

Premier Zapotocky delivered a speech in the Czech Parliament blasting us. Word came back by refugees and the American Embassy that the balloon leaflets had been tacked up on telephone poles, fastened on bulletin boards, put in baggage racks of trains, even mimeographed—distributed wherever anti-Communists knew they would be seen.

Later, official protests came from the Czechoslovak Government to the U. S. Government, demanding that the balloon barrage be stopped. But the U. S. Government replied this was a private matter over which it had no control.

This was all too true. For the balloon barrage had been proposed by me in a newspaper column, July 21, 1948, and it took three years of talking, arguing, planning, before we could even get permission to go to the German-Czech border.

But here is the pay-off. As of this week, the 4th anniversary of the balloon barrage, a total of 400 tons of printed matter has now been dropped on Czechoslovakia and Hungary by balloon. In fact, they have no other candidate on hand, except Richard Nixon, the Vice President, or William Knowland, the Senator, and both would prefer to be remembered in 1960 rather than in 1956. Ike does not need to be drafted. The convention will be his private property and will do his bidding.

Tom Stephens, the Dewey henchman and for a while appointment secretary to President Eisenhower, is busying himself with the "Draft Ike" effort. It is expected that John Roosevelt, Republican son of the late New Deal President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, will head a Citizens' Committee.

All this activity seems useless—of the order of presenting Caesar with a crown three times, when truly the old boy wanted it from the start. It is normal for an American President to expect to be nominated for a second term. It is abnormal for an American President to decline a second term. Coolidge did it by choosing not to run—but the trouble there was that the rest of the country did not understand the particular New England Yankee use of the term "choose." It meant that that was his choice but was no indication as to how others should choose.

I have to say New England Yankee because there are lots of people these days who are not Yankees and who do not quite get the shades of meaning which are so characteristic of the people here in western Massachusetts and Vermont who use few words and no gestures but are always understood among themselves. Coolidge would have run for a second term had he been nominated, or so I have been told by those whose propinquity to him cannot be gainsaid.

As a matter of fact, if Eisenhower announced today that he will run for a second term, the Republicans could dispense with their convention in San Francisco, where the hotel space is likely to present a problem. They could nominate him unanimously by mail, the proxies to be addressed to Thomas E. Dewey, who controls the machinery of the Republican Party anyhow. He appoints judges and U. S. Attorneys and such, although he likes to give the impression that he has retired from politics and is hidden away in the gullies of Wall Street.

Why go to the enormous expense of dragging thousands of people across the continent in August when the cat is already in the bag? All the press-agent stories handed out to give the impression that Ike may be too old at 70 are designed only to have thousands of telegrams and letters come to the White House, saying, "No! No! 70 is not too old, or even 80. Let's have Ike. We like Ike!"

Age depends upon blood pressure, pulse pressure, pulse rates, blood sugar, etc., etc. It is possible to determine the realistic age of a man's physique, which may be 50 at 70. Of course, when the report is faked as it was with Franklin D. Roosevelt, there is no telling what a man's age is except by his birth certificate.

Governor "Soapy" Williams' vulgarity in discussing this question is only possible in one who was badly bred and therefore should not be a candidate for the Presidency or even the Vice Presidency because we should have decent manners in high places. When I read what the soapy Governor said, I thought that this fellow sure hopes that Ike is old with one foot in the grave, which is a very nasty thought on his part. Even Democrats ought to feel that Ike would make a graceful ex-President, living on his manorial estate at Gettysburg and delivering addresses before universities and learned societies. Even a Democrat can wish him a long and happy life and I am sure that most of them do.

Forsooth, most of them would want him to remain President until 1960, 1956 not being the best of years for an opposition candidate, surely not if peace and prosperity lasts.

So why a "Draft Ike" movement? Why does Tom Stephens fuss so? Why does John Roosevelt, who has been most unrooseveltian up to now, want to get into the act? It would seem to be a waste of money.

Real Satellite Story

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

The American decision to build a small earth satellite was announced in a manner that did credit to the great brains of Madison Avenue; and it has been accepted by the nation at large as another cause for happy complacency. The decision looks a bit different, however, in the light of the real story behind it.

In brief, the American government made an announced decision to build a satellite of the MOUSE type in order to get in ahead of the Soviet government, and for no other very good reason.

It was needful to get in ahead because intelligence had brought word to the Eisenhower administration policy-makers that a similar Soviet announcement was planned at the impending annual Congress of the International Astronautical Federation at Copenhagen. Long before, the American government had received convincing proof that the Soviets had actually started a satellite project. But now they were preparing to let the whole world know about it.

No One To Protest

The same old reason—alleged defense economy—had prevented a serious American satellite project from being started in the earlier period, when the Soviet satellite project was started. The whole subject was conveniently classified. There was no one who could effectively protest the delay.

But it was clearly going to be disastrous, from the standpoint of American domestic politics as well as American international prestige, if the plans for the Soviet satellite were dramatically unveiled at Copenhagen when no American satellite project had even been ordered.

Hence the administration policy-makers were forced to act with some speed. The decision was made to build the MOUSE-type satellite because this so-called "Minimum Orbital Satellite of Earth" could be built most rapidly. The MOUSE type, to be sure, also had minimum military value. But Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty could fairly safely promise that it would be launched into the upper air in the period 1957-'58.

Only a few weeks before, these reporters had caused a species of riot in the National Security Council by daring to discuss the satellite problem in this space. The usual reprisals for this "shocking breach of secrecy" then followed. But the administration's secrecy fetish has a way of breaking down pretty rapidly under political pressures. And so secrecy was forgotten, and the hastily reached American decision on the satellite was given to the public by Hagerty with maximum fanfare.

Immediately thereafter, the Copenhagen Congress of the Astronautical Federation was held as scheduled. The Soviet delegation was headed by the astra-physicist, Prof. K. Ogorodnikov, and the gas-dynamicist, Prof. L. Sedov. Prof. Sedov is also chairman of the "Soviet Commission for Coordination of Interplanetary Flight," which is probably Moscow gobledygook for the Soviet satellite project.

Russians More Precise

In short order, Sedov and Ogorodnikov proceeded to confirm the indications of an intended Soviet announcement that the Eisenhower policy-makers had previously received from the intelligence analysts. The two Russian scientists declared for quotation that "from a technical point of view, it is now possible to send up a satellite of much greater size and weight" than the MOUSE, which Hagerty had revealed would be about the size of a basketball.

For quotation, Sedov and Ogorodnikov contented themselves with adding that the "realization of the Soviet project is expected in the near future." Off the record, with their fellow scientists, they were more precise. They not only stated that the Soviet satellite would be considerably larger than the American one. They also declared that they hoped to get it into the air during 1957, or a few months earlier than the American date promised by Hagerty.

Whether the Soviets will really get there first is of course open to question, because of the relative ease and cheapness of building the MOUSE. What really matters, however, is the strong probability that the Soviets, as indicated by their discussion of satellite sizes, are not building a satellite of much greater military value than the one we are building.

For example, the most discussed practical military use of a non-habitable earth satellite as is an instrument of reconnaissance. Fitted with appropriate television broadcasting equipment, plus serv-mechanisms to insure that only the desired earth surfaces would be televised, a satellite of quite practicable size could tell its builders almost everything that can be learned from aerial reconnaissance of another nation's territory.

Hollow Joke

The MOUSE-type satellite is too small to be used in this way, but a somewhat larger one unquestionably can be so used. And a satellite of this type, when launched, would make a rather hollow joke of President Eisenhower's Geneva proposal of mutually agreed aerial reconnaissance.

Yet the real point of the satellite story lies in the fact that sure knowledge of the Soviet satellite project was possessed by the American government as early as January 1954. The Defense Department leadership therefore knowingly gave the Kremlin at least a year-and-a-half lead in this vital race of the satellites. And then, when this shocking delay threatened to produce embarrassing results, an advertising stunt was used to cover up.

It is fortunate that the American satellite project has at last been ordered, but its history is a pretty grim commentary on the real character of our present defense planning.

Food Must Be Handled And Cooked Carefully

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Most foods contain a few bacteria regardless of how carefully they are prepared. Organisms in the air settle on it and some are deposited by the hands or the breath. But most of us tolerate these germs as well as we do the peck of dirt we are said to eat in a lifetime.

The longer food stands and the more hands it goes thru, the greater the contamination. Furthermore, in a warm room, germs multiply and some varieties produce toxins. This causes the common types of food poisoning that lead to nausea, vomiting, cramps, diarrhea, headache, chills, and fever.

Refrigeration lessens the chance of food poisoning because freezing induces a state of hibernation. But cold may not kill the organisms; the same number are present in the food when it is removed from the refrigerator as were present when the dish was placed there.

Leftovers from the dining room table should not stand out too long as exposure increases the likelihood of contamination. In the Journal of the American Dietetic association, Dr. Dorothy L. Hussemann says leftovers ought to be refrigerated within one-half hour after removal from the stove.

Time is needed for food to cool and even after it is placed in the refrigerator, germs continue to increase until its temperature drops to 50 degrees F. Nine hours were required to reach this temperature with a 100 serving batch of chicken salad placed in the refrigerator in a deep pan. A 25 serving batch in a shallow bowl took three hours.

Hot food is not affected adversely by immediate refrigeration. Moreover, toxin production is minimized in this way. A shallow container hastens cooling.

Heat kills bacteria but temperatures near the boiling point of water are demanded to inactivate the toxin. Most foods are not subjected to such high heat. Dr. Hussemann cited an experiment in which turkey stuffing was contaminated with staphylococci, streptococci, and salmonella before roasting.

To destroy organisms in the center of the stuffing, a temperature of 160 degrees F. must be achieved. In the experiment cited, during the early part of the roasting period, bacteria were actually multiplying. The rate of heat penetration was slower in larger fowl and twice as much cooking time was required for frozen turkey and dressing.

FATTY LIVER

N. H. writes: What is fatty infiltration of the liver?

REPLY

A condition in which fat accumulates in the liver as a result of alcoholism, poor diet, severe anemia, uncontroled diabetes, or poisoning from chloroform or phosphorus. During the early stages there are no symptoms. Later, jaundice and dropsy may develop.

X-RAY IN ARTHRITIS

H. T. writes: Is X-ray treatment good for arthritis?

REPLY

THREE TIMES AND OUT

J. W. writes: I have been told that after three attacks of strep throat the poison can kill a person. Is this true?

REPLY

Most of us have suffered several attacks of this common infection and have lived to tell the tale. But I don't mean to belittle the streptococcus, which is a dangerous organism. It is responsible for many maladies such as scarlet fever, rheumatic fever, Bright's disease, subacute bacterial endocarditis, and erysipelas.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Deilen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Budd Schulberg, who wrote the script for "On the Waterfront," had the bright idea of hiring ex-heavyweight contender Tony Galento to portray the role of a tough stevedore who vastly enjoyed conking associates in disfavor with a baseball bat. For his big scene, Tony was provided with a rubber bat that couldn't hurt a child of four. Nevertheless, when the cameras started grinding, Schulberg and Director Kazan were horrified to see extras dropping like flies. Investigation proved that Tony had substituted an honest-to-goodness Louisville slugger at the last minute. "Dat bat ya tried to fool me with," he complained, "was too d—— light, so I change it for dis real one."

White rice cooks tender and fluffy in fourteen minutes. Serve it as a tasty, low cost and nutritious change from macaroni, spaghetti, barley, buckwheat or hominy grits. Since the vegetable protein in rice is a superior type of vegetable protein, serve rice often as a substitute for these foods.

CASHEW CHICKEN, KASHMIR STYLE

Asparagus with Butter and Pimiento Topping
Grapefruit and Orange Salad
Poppyseed Rolls
Lemon Tarts

INGREDIENTS:

- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 1 ready-to-cook young chicken, 2½ to 3½ lbs., cut up
- 1 cup thinly sliced onions (use small onions or halve large slices)
- 2 medium-sized tomatoes, coarsely chopped (or about 2 cups drained canned tomatoes)
- 1½ cups sour milk or buttermilk
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ½ teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon black pepper
- ⅛ teaspoon chili powder
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons water
- ⅓ cup coarsely chopped cashew nuts (save some nuts for garnish)
- 3 cups water
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 1½ cups uncooked white rice

METHOD: Melt the butter or margarine in a large skillet. Wash the chicken pieces in cold water and dry. Place chicken in the hot fat. Brown on one side. Add the onions. Turn the chicken and brown on the other side. Allow the onions to become a golden color. Add the tomatoes, sour milk, garlic, ginger, salt, black pepper and chili powder. Cover with a lid and simmer 1 hour or until the chicken is tender. Place the flour in a cup or small bowl. Stir in the 2 tablespoons of water to make a thin paste. Stir some of the hot gravy into this mixture. Stir the flour-water mixture into the hot chicken mixture. Cook several minutes or until gravy thickens. If a thinner mixture is desired, add water. Stir in the cashew nuts.

About 25 minutes before the chicken is done, put the 3 cups of water, 1½ teaspoons of salt and the rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave lid on 10 minutes or until ready to serve. To serve, spread the rice on a hot platter. Arrange the chicken over the rice and pour the gravy over the chicken and rice. Garnish with whole cashew nuts.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Casserole News-Savory Spanish Ham And Rice

Casserole cookery rates a high spot in menus with many homemakers. Numerous casseroles are quickly prepared and require only a few accompaniments for a balanced menu, points out Reba Staggs, home economist. For a casserole that's a timesever in your kitchen, prepare this Spanish Ham and Rice. Cubed, cooked smoked ham is combined with cooked rice, seasonings and condensed tomato soup. This casserole requires only 30 minutes cooking time in a moderate oven.

Spanish Ham and Rice

2 cups cubed cooked smoked ham

2 tablespoons grated onion
¼ cup finely chopped green pepper, if desired
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ can condensed tomato soup

Cook rice and drain. Combine ham, cooked rice, grated onion, chopped green pepper, salt, pepper and tomato soup. Place in a greased 1½-quart casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes, 4 to 6 servings.

Eating is one of the best events of the day when you're out on the boat. Paper cups, dishes and plates are safe, convenient, space-saving, and eliminate cleaning up afterward.

If you're planning to entertain weekend guests at your seaside or lakeside summer house, a day on a boat can be exciting fun.

Sun, wind and water combine to make ravenous appetites, and you'll need plenty of food packed away for the day's outing. Man-size sandwiches of meat and cheese, a simply-prepared cole slaw salad, cookies, fruit to be eaten out of hand and beverage are fine for keeping hunger pangs at bay. Take along some bouillon cubes and add them to cups of hot water for a stimulating pre-meal drink.

For safety, convenience and space saving, include several packages of paper cups, dishes and containers. They're perfect for sailing parties because they take up little space in galley or food basket. There's no danger of broken glass or china when you use paper cups and dishes — an important consideration on a boat. Best of all, there's no cleaning up afterward, either, for the used paper service can be put into a paper bag and put in the trash can when the boat has docked.

You'll find the new paper cups and dishes handsome, too. Gay patterns as well as vivid solid colors and pastels are available in great variety at supermarkets, dime and department stores. Cups are made for both hot and cold drinks.

The day before the sailing party, mix up a batch of these delicious Date Drops. This chewy cooky is an excellent dessert and in-between snack.

Date Drops

(Makes about 5 dozen cookies)

½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
1 cup chopped pecans
1 pound chopped pitted dates
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons water

Cream butter or margarine and sugar together. Add eggs and beat until well blended. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and spices together. Add to creamed ingredients and mix until blended. Fold in remaining ingredients. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Bake in hot oven (425°) 10 to 12 minutes, or until browned.

Cheese Consumers Raise Per Capita Record To Highest Point In 1954

"Please 'em with cheese" is just what the American homemaker has been doing the past year, because per capita consumption of cheese, averaging 7.7 pounds, was the highest on record and 4 percent above 1953. This statistic was included in the Annual Dairy Summary of 1954 issued from the office of agricultural statistican, Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The report also stated that per capita consumption for fluid milk and cream increased over the past year and stood at 352 pounds in 1954. Butter used per person—9.0 pounds — was only half of the record high of 18.3 pounds set in 1934.

Ice cream per capita consumption was 3.5 gallons — well above the prewar years. Of interest is the fact that in 1946 a 5.0 gallons record was set.

Non-fat dry milk solids consumed per person, at 4.6 pounds, was above the year before and equaled the all-time peak set in 1952.

Disappearance of milk products into civilian channels totaled 115.3 billion pounds — a 5 per cent increase over the previous year, according to USDA figures.

All this to point up the fact that once again this June — dairy month — supplies of milk and dairy products are expected to be near record high levels. There will be plenty for consumers to use liberally.

No satisfactory census of the people of China ever has been taken.

Research Continues On Tomato Powder

COLLEGE PARK, Md., July — It's new! Although not on the market yet, a new tomato product is something for the homemaker to look forward to. The product is tomato powder, which can be reconstituted into a tomato juice when mixed with water.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, research reveals that a high-quality tomato powder can be produced by a continuous process in commercial vacuum-drying equipment. The Department says the powder has a natural tomato flavor, color and nutritive value. It mixes readily with water. As for uses — it can be used for making tomato paste, soups and other foods, as well as for tomato juice.

All of the primary kaolin used in the United States comes from North Carolina. It is a ceramic used in fine china.

Serve Southern Sausage Meal For A. M. Picnic

In the cool of a week-end morning, enjoy a picnic breakfast. If you and your family have never experienced this type of picnic, you're missing some fun. For true eating delight serve a Southern Sausage breakfast, suggests meat expert Reba Staggs. Team plump sausage patties with fried mush, honey or syrup, toast and coffee or milk. Have chilled cantaloupe halves for your fruit course.

You will want to prepare the mush for frying the day before. Here's how to do it for easy carrying to your picnic. Scald a tin can from which only one end has been removed. Then pour the mush into the can and let it chill. At the picnic, you simply remove the second end of the can, then gently push out the chilled mush and cut it into uniform slices.

To prepare the mush for four servings, add ½ cup currants to 3 cups of boiling water. Cook for 5 minutes. Then add ¾ teaspoon of salt and ½ cup of corn meal. Stir constantly and cook until thickened, then pour into the greased can and chill.

Also, you will want to shape the bulk pork sausage into patties before you go to the picnic. You can make 6 patties per pound of meat. Then at the picnic, brown the patties in a frying-pan. Do this slowly over the coals. Pour off the drippings and save for frying mush. Cover and cook the meat slowly for an additional 20 minutes. Then slice mush into ½-inch slices. Dredge with flour and brown in the sausage drippings.

Chisox Hold Lead Briefly Then Slide Back To 2nd Place

Kansas City Cops Second Contest, 6-2

Virgil Trucks Wins Opener, 6-2; Red Sox, Yankees Rained Out

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox enjoyed a few hours of leading the American League today, defeating the Kansas City Athletics 6 to 2, in the opener of a twin bill, but dropped the second game and slid back into second place, 5 to 3.

Virgil Trucks helped the Chicagoans into their brief league lead with his 12th victory in 18 games. Arnie Portocarrero shackled the White Sox in the nightcap on six hits.

The New York Yankees rained out today, slipped behind Chicago into second place by .00022 per cent of a point in the standings after the first game. However, they returned to the league lead by a full game after the A's victory in the second game.

Portocarrero earned his fourth win against six losses.

Trucks Is Bruised

Trucks left at the end of the sixth inning after a line drive bruised his right leg. An X-ray examination disclosed nothing more than a bruise. Dixie Howell shut out the A's with four hits in the last three innings.

The Sox bolted to a two-run lead against loser Ray Herbert in the second inning with Jim Busby and Chico Carrasquel producing run-scoring singles.

They added another in the fifth on singles by Carrasquel, Nellie Fox and Walt Dropo and added three more at the expense of Cloyd Boyer in the seventh in which Minnie Minoso slammed out a two-run double.

Athletics Rout Byrd

In the second game, Harry Byrd had checked the A's with one hit until Bill Shantz opened the sixth inning with a single to center. Vic Power followed with his 14th homer of the season.

The Athletics routed Byrd in his seventh loss against six wins with a two-run outburst in the next inning.

Spahn Is Victor Over Cards, 5-3

Warren Posts Second Win In Four Nights

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Warren Spahn tonight scored his second victory in four nights and the 40th of his career over the St. Louis Cardinals as the Milwaukee Braves won 5-3, with Bill Bruton driving in two runs and Chuck Tanner one on homers.

The veteran lefthander, who has lost to the Red Birds 22 times, did not have as easy a time as Monday night, when he won 12-1. But he handcuffed the Cardinals with men on base, scattering 10 hits effectively enough to make his 1955 record 12 and 12.

Bill Bruton's leadoff double in the first inning led to the first Milwaukee run off Cardinal starter Larry Jackson when he scored on Hank Aaron's single.

Tanner's homer in the second and Bruton's two-run circuit smash in the fourth completed the scoring against Jackson, who suffered his 11th defeat. Singles by Dan O'Connell and Ed Mathews, together with a wild pitch by rookie John Mackinson, resulted in the final Braves' run.

Red Schoendienst, playing his second game wearing glasses, had three hits in four times at bat.

Clem Leaves Vikings . . . Joins Salem Faculty

Greg Johnson Writes . . . Pistons Land Groat

By C. V. BURNS

ONE OF THE MOST reliable sports publicists moves out of the tri-state area next month with the appointment of Clemen: H. Clower, of Petersburg, W. Va., to the faculty of Salem College.

Clower, former teacher and assistant coach at Petersburg High School for the past eight years, assumes his new duties on September 1.

He has been assigned to the Health and Physical Education Department with the rank of associate professor.

Clem has been sports columnist of the Grant County Press at Petersburg for eight years and his column entitled "Sportingly Yours" was widely read.

He earned his B.S. and A.B. degrees at Salem College in 1947 after having served three years in the army. A graduate of Petersburg High School, class of 1937, Clower was employed at the Petersburg postoffice until he entered Salem College in 1940.

At Salem, he will serve as assistant coach of football, basketball and baseball and will be in charge of athletic publicity for the college.

Practically all of the publicity on high school teams that has emanated from Petersburg in the past ten years has been handled by Clower. He has coached boys and girls teams, officiated in basketball and football games and served as secretary of the Alleghany and South Branch Valley baseball leagues.

While his many friends are wishing him the best of success in his new job they are going to miss him as he really was an important person in the sports setup of Grant county and the surrounding territory. A fellow with his knowledge and ability is hard to replace in any community.

GREG JOHNSON, of Baltimore, veteran racing official and publicist for many tracks in bygone days, including Cumberland, writes from Randall Park, Ohio, as follows:

"See you in New York for the Series. I'm going up September 26."

Johnson, former Fourth Estater, was with the Baltimore News-Post for many years as racing expert.

Greg is a candidate for the post of racing secretary at Fairgo, we learn from a reliable source, and his many friends here would like to see him get the job. He has held that position at several tracks during his long association with the Sport of Kings.

DO YOU RECALL all the publicity last winter relative to Dick Groat being through with basketball?

The Pittsburgh Pirates infielder is scheduled to report in October for a tryout with the Fort Wayne Pistons of the NBA.

SIXTY-SIX grid candidates reported to Mel Henry at Hagerstown High School this week. The list includes 22 holdovers and 15 seniors. The Hubs had a 5-4-1 record in 1954, which included a 30-0 win over Beall High, their first opponent of the 1955 campaign on September 9 at Frostburg.

MORGANTOWN HIGH School's Mohigans, slated to open here with Fort Hill, Sept. 9, have seven first stringers of 1954 on its present squad of 54 players. The holdovers include four regular backfield players.

Al Herman To Ride At Bedford Sunday

Al Herman, of Allentown, Pa., who finished seventh in the 500-mile Indianapolis race on Memorial Day will be among the big car drivers participating in the special "rain-date" racing event Sunday, August 21 at the Bedford Fair Grounds.

Herman, one of the youngest big time pilots at 27, averaged close to 125 MPH during the big race. He was third in the Eastern AAA standings last year.

Sunday's program will include six events, featuring a 20 lap (10 miles) Sweepstakes feature. Qualifying time trials will start promptly at 1:30 o'clock, with the first race set for 2:45.

Score Fans 13 As Tribe Tops Tigers

Fielding Lapses Hurt Detroit, 5-3

DETROIT, Aug. 18 (AP)—A trio of fielding lapses—two of them by right fielder Al Kaline—opened the gates for Cleveland in the eighth inning today and the Indians poured across four runs to beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-3.

Southpaw Herb Score, who pitched 8 2-3 innings, struck out 13 batters as the Indians broke their three game losing streak and moved back to within one game of the first place Yankees.

Score's strikeouts ran his league-leading total to 192.

The Cleveland rookie was locked in a 1-1 struggle with Frank Lary going into the eighth when Detroit's defense suddenly fell apart.

Lary started his own downfall when he failed to touch first base while taking Reno Bertoia's throw on Vic Wertz's grounder.

Lary Doby followed with a single to right and Jim Hegan, running for Wertz, buzzed around to third as Kaline kicked the ball for the second error.

Hegan came across with the tie-breaking run on Ferris Fain's sacrifice fly to Kaline in right center, and when the Tiger rookie loafed on the play, taking excessive time in throwing the ball back to the infield, Doby raced to second. It was no error, but the mental lapse hurt the Tigers when Doby scored on Hal Naragon's single through the middle.

That made it 3-1 and, actually, the Tigers were finished.

Redlegs Return To Fifth Place

Art Fowler Scores Over Chicago, 2-1

CINCINNATI, Aug. 18 (AP) — Art Fowler held Chicago to 6 hits today and pitched the Cincinnati Redlegs back into fifth place in the National League with a 2-1 victory.

Paul Minner turned the Redleg sluggers back for five innings, then consecutive singles by Gus Bell, Chuck Harmon, Rocky Bridges and Roy McMillan accounted for two runs after the first two batters had been retired.

Chicago made its bid in the eighth, but a fast double play held it to one run.

Eddie Miksis led off with a single and Walker Cooper walked. Frank Baumholtz, batting for Minner, hit into a doubleplay. Miksis advanced to third and scored on Dee Fondy's single. Gene Baker ended the inning by fouling out.

It was Fowler's ninth victory against seven losses. Minner has won eight games and lost seven.

Phillies' Ashburn Undergoes Treatment

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP) — Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia Phillies outfielder who is leading the National League in batting with a .331 average, underwent heat and diathermy treatments for what was described by a club physician as a "strained muscle in his back."

Ashburn suffered the injury, called "not particularly serious," by Dr. Thomas McTear, in last night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates which the Phills lost 6-4.

A club spokesman said Ashburn might be able to play tomorrow against the Brooklyn Dodgers if the back responds to treatment. Otherwise he is expected to be back in action by Saturday.

Jockey Christison Injured In Hagerstown Triple Spill

Street Scene's Rider Is Hospitalized After Mishap In First Race

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 18 (AP) — A triple spill on a sloppy track marred the first race here today and sent Jockey Ed Christison to the hospital.

The extent of his injuries was not determined immediately and Washington County Hospital reported Christison resting comfortably in "fair" condition.

The field of eight in the five-furlong $1,000 claiming race was going into the first turn with L. Dubost's Mallow, ridden by E. Carrillo half a length ahead, followed by Jim Thornburg's Speed Zone with jockey Bob Wilson up and Street Scene, Christison's mount, owned by G. Thomson.

It wasn't clear whether Mallow pulled out or Speed Zone pulled in, but Street Scene hit Speed Zone and went down in the mud, throwing Christison.

Other Riders Thrown

Mrs. E. F. Moore's Swim Girl, in fourth position, piled into the fallen Street Scene and threw jockey Louie Baranello. Sun Brandy, owned by J. Nechamkin, also went down, throwing Joe Ditzel.

Jockeys of the four trailing thoroughbreds swerved their mounts and missed Christison as he lay prone in the mud.

The fallen horses regained their feet and continued around the track. Jockeys Baranello and Ditzel were unhurt.

Christison was removed on a stretcher.

Lace Ruffles overtook Mallow to win the race and pay the longest odds of the day, $46, $15.40 and $8.80. Lady Virginia was second at $5.60 and $3.40 and Mallow returned $5.80 for third.

Lace Ruffles, No. 2, coupled with No. 5, Mary's Birthday in the second race to pay a daily double of $143.20.

The crowd of 3,667 which braved day-long rains from storm Diane, included Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md) and Miss Nancy Marstellar of Pennsylvania who was crowned National Peach Queen.

The day's handle was $171,037.

Archie Moore May Get Movie Contract

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (AP)—Win or lose in his fight Sept. 20 for Rocky Marciano's heavyweight boxing title, light-heavy champ Archie Moore has a movie job awaiting him afterward.

That was the word today from Columbia Studio, where Producer Philip Yordan wants to put Moore to work.

Yordan, hearing Moore would like a crack at show business, wired Archie asking if he'd try the movies. He got a reply saying: "Definitely interested. Please forward all details." The wire was signed, "The next heavyweight champion."

Yordan plans to meet Moore next month in New York to discuss an appearance by the boxer in "The Harder They Fall," billed as an expose of the fight business.

San Francisco May Be Forced To Quit League

$30,000 Loan Must Be Repaid On August 27

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18 (AP)—The once-proud San Francisco Seals, producers of such all-time baseball greats as Joe DiMaggio and Lefty O'Doul, appeared today to be floundering to the end of their final season in the Pacific Coast League.

The club has until Aug. 27 to repay a $30,000 loan from the league and admittedly does not have the money. Under league regulations, if the payment is not forthcoming the franchise must be forfeited.

"Our only hope appears to be the sale of some players," said Damon Miller, club president, "and so far there have been no nibbles."

The Seals currently are tied with Oakland for last place in the circuit, 18 games off the pace of leading Seattle.

The players Miller said were on the market are infielder Mike Baxes, hitting .310; outfielder Dave Melton, .286, and first baseman Bob Dipietro, sidelined for the rest of the year with a fractured ankle.

Lack of attendance has been the club's trouble all year. Last night, for instance, only 466 paid admissions were recorded for a game with Oakland, traditionally a bitter rival. Close to three million people live in the immediate San Francisco-Oakland area.

Portocarrero earned his fourth win against six losses.

Trucks Is Bruised

Trucks left at the end of the sixth inning after a line drive bruised his right leg. An X-ray examination disclosed nothing more than a bruise. Dixie Howell shut out the A's with four hits in the last three innings.

The Sox bolted to a two-run lead against loser Ray Herbert in the second inning with Jim Busby and Chico Carrasquel producing run-scoring singles.

They added another in the fifth on singles by Carrasquel, Nellie Fox and Walt Dropo and added three more at the expense of Cloyd Boyer in the seventh in which Minnie Minoso slammed out a two-run double.

Athletics Rout Byrd

In the second game, Harry Byrd had checked the A's with one hit until Bill Shantz opened the sixth inning with a single to center. Vic Power followed with his 14th homer of the season.

The Athletics routed Byrd in his seventh loss against six wins with a two-run outburst in the next inning.

Spahn Is Victor Over Cards, 5-3

Warren Posts Second Win In Four Nights

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Warren Spahn tonight scored his second victory in four nights and the 40th of his career over the St. Louis Cardinals as the Milwaukee Braves won 5-3, with Bill Bruton driving in two runs and Chuck Tanner one on homers.

The veteran lefthander, who has lost to the Red Birds 22 times, did not have as easy a time as Monday night, when he won 12-1. But he handcuffed the Cardinals with men on base, scattering 10 hits effectively enough to make his 1955 record 12 and 12.

Bill Bruton's leadoff double in the first inning led to the first Milwaukee run off Cardinal starter Larry Jackson when he scored on Hank Aaron's single.

Tanner's homer in the second and Bruton's two-run circuit smash in the fourth completed the scoring against Jackson, who suffered his 11th defeat. Singles by Dan O'Connell and Ed Mathews, together with a wild pitch by rookie John Mackinson, resulted in the final Braves' run.

Red Schoendienst, playing his second game wearing glasses, had three hits in four times at bat.

Greg Johnson Writes . . . Pistons Land Groat

By C. V. BURNS

ONE OF THE MOST reliable sports publicists moves out of the tri-state area next month with the appointment of Clemen H. Clower, of Petersburg, W. Va., to the faculty of Salem College.

Clower, former teacher and assistant coach at Petersburg High School for the past eight years, assumes his new duties on September 1.

He has been assigned to the Health and Physical Education Department with the rank of associate professor.

Clem has been sports columnist of the Grant County Press at Petersburg for eight years and his column entitled "Sportingly Yours" was widely read.

He earned his B.S. and A.B. degrees at Salem College in 1947 after having served three years in the army. A graduate of Petersburg High School, class of 1937, Clower was employed at the Petersburg postoffice until he entered Salem College in 1940.

At Salem, he will serve as assistant coach of football, basketball and baseball and will be in charge of athletic publicity for the college.

Practically all of the publicity on high school teams that has emanated from Petersburg in the past ten years has been handled by Clower. He has coached boys and girls teams, officiated in basketball and football games and served as secretary of the Alleghany and South Branch Valley baseball leagues.

While his many friends are wishing him the best of success in his new job they are going to miss him as he really was an important person in the sports setup of Grant county and the surrounding territory. A fellow with his knowledge and ability is hard to replace in any community.

GREG JOHNSON, of Baltimore, veteran racing official and publicist for many tracks in bygone days, including Cumberland, writes from Randall Park, Ohio, as follows:

"See you in New York for the Series. I'm going up September 26."

Johnson, former Fourth Estater, was with the Baltimore News-Post for many years as racing expert.

Greg is a candidate for the post of racing secretary at Fairgo, we learn from a reliable source, and his many friends here would like to see him get the job. He has held that position at several tracks during his long association with the Sport of Kings.

DO YOU RECALL all the publicity last winter relative to Dick Groat being through with basketball?

The Pittsburgh Pirates infielder is scheduled to report in October for a tryout with the Fort Wayne Pistons of the NBA.

SIXTY-SIX grid candidates reported to Mel Henry at Hagerstown High School this week. The list includes 22 holdovers and 15 seniors. The Hubs had a 5-4-1 record in 1954, which included a 30-0 win over Beall High, their first opponent of the 1955 campaign on September 9 at Frostburg.

MORGANTOWN HIGH School's Mohigans, slated to open here with Fort Hill, Sept. 9, have seven first stringers of 1954 on its present squad of 54 players. The holdovers include four regular backfield players.

Last year Martinsburg's undefeated eleven (9-0) beat Both Morgantown and Fort Hill by the margin of a single touchdown, 6-0 and 12-6.

AMONG VISITORS in town this week were Cletus "Vic" May, the one-time LaSalle and Cumberland Caseys basketball star, and Garland "Mac" Magruder, well known newspaper reporter of the early 1920s in the days when Somerville Nicholson, Harold Krimm and "Ike" Love were among the "Four Horsemen" patrolling beats.

"Vic" is now a finance company representative of Johnstown, Pa., while Magruder is in the real estate business at Arlington, Va.

Al Herman To Ride At Bedford Sunday

Al Herman, of Allentown, Pa., who finished seventh in the 500-mile Indianapolis race on Memorial Day will be among the big car drivers participating in the special "rain-date" racing event Sunday, August 21 at the Bedford Fair Grounds.

Herman, one of the youngest big time pilots at 27, averaged close to 125 MPH during the big race. He was third in the Eastern AAA standings last year.

Sunday's program will include six events, featuring a 20 lap (10 miles) Sweepstakes feature. Qualifying time trials will start promptly at 1:30 o'clock, with the first race set for 2:45.

Score Fans 13 As Tribe Tops Tigers

Fielding Lapses Hurt Detroit, 5-3

DETROIT, Aug. 18 (AP)—A trio of fielding lapses—two of them by right fielder Al Kaline—opened the gates for Cleveland in the eighth inning today and the Indians poured across four runs to beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-3.

Southpaw Herb Score, who pitched 8 2-3 innings, struck out 13 batters as the Indians broke their three game losing streak and moved back to within one game of the first place Yankees.

Score's strikeouts ran his league-leading total to 192.

The Cleveland rookie was locked in a 1-1 struggle with Frank Lary going into the eighth when Detroit's defense suddenly fell apart.

Lary started his own downfall when he failed to touch first base while taking Reno Bertoia's throw on Vic Wertz's grounder.

Lary Doby followed with a single to right and Jim Hegan, running for Wertz, buzzed around to third as Kaline kicked the ball for the second error.

Hegan came across with the tie-breaking run on Ferris Fain's sacrifice fly to Kaline in right center, and when the Tiger rookie loafed on the play, taking excessive time in throwing the ball back to the infield, Doby raced to second. It was no error, but the mental lapse hurt the Tigers when Doby scored on Hal Naragon's single through the middle.

That made it 3-1 and, actually, the Tigers were finished.

Cycling Gridder

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP)—When halfback Dewey McConnell showed up at the training camp of the Pittsburgh Steelers he had two bicycles tied to the truck which he had driven 1,750 miles from his mink ranch at Laramie, Wyo.

In explanation he said: "After a game at Pittsburgh I always take a relaxing spin."

Redlegs Return To Fifth Place

Art Fowler Scores Over Chicago, 2-1

CINCINNATI, Aug. 18 (AP) — Art Fowler held Chicago to 6 hits today and pitched the Cincinnati Redlegs back into fifth place in the National League with a 2-1 victory.

Paul Minner turned the Redleg sluggers back for five innings, then consecutive singles by Gus Bell, Chuck Harmon, Rocky Bridges and Roy McMillan accounted for two runs after the first two batters had been retired.

Chicago made its bid in the eighth, but a fast double play held it to one run.

Eddie Miksis led off with a single and Walker Cooper walked. Frank Baumholtz, batting for Minner, hit into a doubleplay. Miksis advanced to third and scored on Dee Fondy's single. Gene Baker ended the inning by fouling out.

It was Fowler's ninth victory against seven losses. Minner has won eight games and lost seven.

Phillies' Ashburn Undergoes Treatment

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP) — Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia Phillies outfielder who is leading the National League in batting with a .331 average, underwent heat and diathermy treatments for what was described by a club physician as a "strained muscle in his back."

Ashburn suffered the injury, called "not particularly serious," by Dr. Thomas McTear, in last night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates which the Phills lost 6-4.

A club spokesman said Ashburn might be able to play tomorrow against the Brooklyn Dodgers if the back responds to treatment. Otherwise he is expected to be back in action by Saturday.

Jockey Christison Injured In Hagerstown Triple Spill

Street Scene's Rider Is Hospitalized After Mishap In First Race

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 18 (AP) — A triple spill on a sloppy track marred the first race here today and sent Jockey Ed Christison to the hospital.

The extent of his injuries was not determined immediately and Washington County Hospital reported Christison resting comfortably in "fair" condition.

The field of eight in the five-furlong $1,000 claiming race was going into the first turn with L. Dubost's Mallow, ridden by E. Carrillo half a length ahead, followed by Jim Thornburg's Speed Zone with jockey Bob Wilson up and Street Scene, Christison's mount, owned by G. Thomson.

It wasn't clear whether Mallow pulled out or Speed Zone pulled in, but Street Scene hit Speed Zone and went down in the mud, throwing Christison.

Other Riders Thrown

Mrs. E. F. Moore's Swim Girl, in fourth position, piled into the fallen Street Scene and threw jockey Louie Baranello. Sun Brandy, owned by J. Nechamkin, also went down, throwing Joe Ditzel.

Jockeys of the four trailing thoroughbreds swerved their mounts and missed Christison as he lay prone in the mud.

The fallen horses regained their feet and continued around the track. Jockeys Baranello and Ditzel were unhurt.

Christison was removed on a stretcher.

Lace Ruffles overtook Mallow to win the race and pay the longest odds of the day, $46, $15.40 and $8.80. Lady Virginia was second at $5.60 and $3.40 and Mallow returned $5.80 for third.

Lace Ruffles, No. 2, coupled with No. 5, Mary's Birthday in the second race to pay a daily double of $143.20.

Handle Is $171,037

The crowd of 3,667 which braved day-long rains from storm Diane, included Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md) and Miss Nancy Marstellar of Pennsylvania who was crowned National Peach Queen.

The day's handle was $171,037.

HURT IN SPILL — Eddie Christison, clever apprentice rider of Toronto, Canada, who piloted 36 winners at Charles Town after booting 19 of 47 mounts into the money at Fairgo in June, was injured in a triple spill in the first race yesterday at Hagerstown. Christison was aboard Street Scene and was thrown when his mount smacked into Speed Zone and went down. Eddie is now hospitalized.

Archie Moore May Get Movie Contract

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (AP)—Win or lose in his fight Sept. 20 for Rocky Marciano's heavyweight boxing title, light-heavy champ Archie Moore has a movie job awaiting him afterward.

That was the word today from Columbia Studio, where Producer Philip Yordan wants to put Moore to work.

Yordan, hearing Moore would like a crack at show business, wired Archie asking if he'd try the movies. He got a reply saying: "Definitely interested. Please forward all details." The wire was signed, "The next heavyweight champion."

Yordan plans to meet Moore next month in New York to discuss an appearance by the boxer in "The Harder They Fall," billed as an expose of the fight business.

San Francisco May Be Forced To Quit League

$30,000 Loan Must Be Repaid On August 27

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18 (AP)—The once-proud San Francisco Seals, producers of such all-time baseball greats as Joe DiMaggio and Lefty O'Doul, appeared today to be floundering to the end of their final season in the Pacific Coast League.

The club has until Aug. 27 to repay a $30,000 loan from the league and admittedly does not have the money. Under league regulations, if the payment is not forthcoming the franchise must be forfeited.

"Our only hope appears to be the sale of some players," said Damon Miller, club president, "and so far there have been no nibbles."

The Seals currently are tied with Oakland for last place in the circuit, 18 games off the pace of leading Seattle.

The players Miller said were on the market are infielder Mike Baxes, hitting .310; outfielder Dave Melton, .286, and first baseman Bob Dipietro, sidelined for the rest of the year with a fractured ankle.

Lack of attendance has been the club's trouble all year. Last night, for instance, only 466 paid admissions were recorded for a game with Oakland, traditionally a bitter rival. Close to three million people live in the immediate San Francisco-Oakland area.

Board Of Education Grid Rules Clinic Set Here Monday

Cliff Harper, Of Alabama, Is Consultant

Fugitt And Steiner To Attend Sessions Here At 9:30, 1:15

Final arrangements for the 1955 football rules clinic, sponsored by the Allegany County Board of Education, are in the process of completion, according to announcement yesterday by Arthur G. Ramey, athletic director for the county schools.

The clinic will be held Monday, August 22, in the conference room at the Board of Education office. A morning session will start at 9:30 and the afternoon session will get under way at 1:15.

Consultant and discussion leader, J. Cliff Harper, executive secretary of the Alabama High School Athletic Association, Montgomery, has been the Alabama representative on the National Football Rules Committee for many years. In addition, for a number of years, Harper has been a member of the editorial committee for the Football Case Book and the Players Handbook. More recently, he has been chairman of the committee which produced the manual for referees, umpires, etc.

Area coaches, game officials and athletic directors are invited to attend the sessions of this clinic.

Fugitt To Attend

Accompanying Harper to Cumberland will be William R. Fugitt, executive secretary of the West Virginia High School Association, Beckley. Fugitt has attended the Cumberland clinics on several occasions and has made wholesome contributions to the discussions. Fugitt has just advised Ramey of his intentions to make the trip to Cumberland again this year.

Ramey has also been advised by Herbert R. Steiner, executive secretary of the Maryland Public Schools Athletic Association, Baltimore, that he will come to Cumberland for this year's rules discussions.

That this annual pre-season discussion of rules is well worthwhile is evidenced by the fact that in practically every state and section of states, athletic officials spend time and effort to have coach and game officials brush up on the rules before the start of a season. Regardless of how many years a man has been identified with the game of football, from one season to the next, he can become rusty on rules, and a brush up with an outstanding discussion leader and authority can prepare him for the many possible intricate situations which can arise in any football game.

To Show Grid Movie

The Cumberland area game officials group has arranged for a meeting to be held on Monday evening in the Herman room of the Queen City Brewing Company. One feature of this evening session will be the showing of the movie, "Better Football" which Ramey has secured for the clinic. In addition to the movie, the slides which have been prepared by the consultant, Cliff Harper, will also be available for discussion and study. This evening session, according to William "Bee" Orndorff, is scheduled for 7:30.

Latrobe Golfer Grabs Canadian Tourney Lead

Arnold Palmer's 131 Is Eleven Under Par

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (AP) — Arnold Palmer, only a year out of the amateur ranks and the U. S. National Amateur title, came through with a superb display of precision golf today to take over the lead in the Canadian Open Golf Championship.

Making the most of his sharp iron shots and putting, Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., scored a second round 34-33—67, five under the Weston Golf Club's par, to move in front at the half-way mark with 64-67—131.

That score was 11 strokes under par for the 6,428 layout and the young professional needed it to keep ahead of a flock of par-busting rivals.

Burke Trails By Two

Jackie Burke, of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., fired a 66 to go with his 67 and was two strokes behind with his 133. On his heels came Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, with 134s, and then another pair, Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., and Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B. C., with 135s. Douglas had the hottest round of the day, a 33-32—65 that could easily have been a 63 if he hadn't missed a couple of easy putts.

Another trio, Art Wall, Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N. Y., and Mike Fetchick, Lake Mahopac, N. Y., were in threatening positions with 136 each.

Sifford Drops To 137

Charlie Sifford, the Philadelphia pro who equalled the tournament's one-round record with a nine-under-par 63 yesterday, relapsed to a 74 today for a 137 total. Sifford is the U. S. Negro national champion.

Six others also were tied at 137, including Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., with a 69-68.

National Doubles Is Moved Indoors

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 18 (AP) —The men's competition in the 75th National Doubles Tennis Tournament, washed out by heavy rain for the second straight day, was ordered moved indoors for the first time in history today as officials were threatened by withdrawal of U.S. and Australian Davis Cup players.

The decision to shift the men's play from the inundated grass courts to the Longwood indoor surfaces was reached after American Davis Cup Capt. Billy Talbert issued an ultimatum he would pull out his four players if the competition ran past Monday.

Talbert told officials that he needed the time to prepare his team for defense of the coveted Davis Cup against Australia in the challenge round starting a week from tomorrow in Forest Hills, N. Y.

Talbert told newsmen: "My job is to get the boys ready for the Davis Cup matches—not the national doubles."

Dodgers Come To Life, Beat New York, 8-5

Rack Up 15 Blows, Bessent Wins 5th

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP) — The pennant-bound Brooklyn Dodgers roused themselves from their lethargy today with a 13-hit assault on six New York pitchers to end their season's activity at the Polo Grounds with an 8-5 triumph over the Giants.

By salvaging the finale of the three game series, the Dodgers assured themselves of at least a standoff in the season's series with their interborough rivals. It was their 11th victory against eight losses with three more games scheduled at Ebbets Field.

Handcuffed by Giant pitching the past two days, the Dodgers wasted no time catching up with Jim Hearn. Before they were retired in the first inning, they had shoved across three runs and had chased the big righthander to the showers with a five-hit attack.

Karl Spooner started for the Dodgers but couldn't stand prosperity. He was enjoying an 8-2 lead in the fourth when the Giants banged across two runs and Manager Walt Alston summoned Don Bessent. The youngster, recently recalled from Montreal, turned in a stalwart relief job. He held the Giants scoreless except for the seventh when Sid Gordon rapped his seventh homer of the campaign.

Bessent was credited with the victory, his fifth without a defeat. The loss was charged to Hearn, giving him a record of 13-11 for the season.

Don Hoak, Carl Furillo and Roy Campanella paced the Dodger attack. Hoak and Furillo drove in two runs apiece, Hoak with a single and homer and Furilio with three singles. Campanella had two singles and scored twice.

Board Of Education Grid Rules Clinic Set Here Monday

Fugitt And Steiner To Attend Sessions Here At 9:30, 1:15

Final arrangements for the 1955 football rules clinic, sponsored by the Allegany County Board of Education, are in the process of completion, according to announcement yesterday by Arthur G. Ramey, athletic director for the county schools.

The clinic will be held Monday, August 22, in the conference room at the Board of Education office. A morning session will start at 9:30 and the afternoon session will get under way at 1:15.

Consultant and discussion leader, J. Cliff Harper, executive secretary of the Alabama High School Athletic Association, Montgomery, has been the Alabama representative on the National Football Rules Committee for many years. In addition, for a number of years, Harper has been a member of the editorial committee for the Football Case Book and the Players Handbook. More recently, he has been chairman of the committee which produced the manual for referees, umpires, etc.

Area coaches, game officials and athletic directors are invited to attend the sessions of this clinic.

Fugitt To Attend

Accompanying Harper to Cumberland will be William R. Fugitt, executive secretary of the West Virginia High School Association, Beckley. Fugitt has attended the Cumberland clinics on several occasions and has made wholesome contributions to the discussions. Fugitt has just advised Ramey of his intentions to make the trip to Cumberland again this year.

Ramey has also been advised by Herbert R. Steiner, executive secretary of the Maryland Public Schools Athletic Association, Baltimore, that he will come to Cumberland for this year's rules discussions.

That this annual pre-season discussion of rules is well worthwhile is evidenced by the fact that in practically every state and section of states, athletic officials spend time and effort to have coach and game officials brush up on the rules before the start of a season. Regardless of how many years a man has been identified with the game of football, from one season to the next, he can become rusty on rules, and a brush up with an outstanding discussion leader and authority can prepare him for the many possible intricate situations which can arise in any football game.

To Show Grid Movie

The Cumberland area game officials group has arranged for a meeting to be held on Monday evening in the Herman room of the Queen City Brewing Company. One feature of this evening session will be the showing of the movie, "Better Football" which Ramey has secured for the clinic. In addition to the movie, the slides which have been prepared by the consultant, Cliff Harper, will also be available for discussion and study. This evening session, according to William "Bee" Orndorff, is scheduled for 7:30.

Latrobe Golfer Grabs Canadian Tourney Lead

Arnold Palmer's 131 Is Eleven Under Par

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (AP) — Arnold Palmer, only a year out of the amateur ranks and the U. S. National Amateur title, came through with a superb display of precision golf today to take over the lead in the Canadian Open Golf Championship.

Making the most of his sharp iron shots and putting, Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., scored a second round 34-33—67, five under the Weston Golf Club's par, to move in front at the half-way mark with 64-67—131.

That score was 11 strokes under par for the 6,428 layout and the young professional needed it to keep ahead of a flock of par-busting rivals.

Jackie Burke, of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., fired a 66 to go with his 67 and was two strokes behind with his 133. Really!... Gentlemen...
"Carbon, carburetors, pistons, fuel lines . . . they mean nothing to me. So it's rather pointless to go into detail about the 5 features of your New 5-D Gasolene. But I do know that your wonderful High Octane gasolene gets me started instantly . . . never embarrasses me with traffic light stalling or engine knock . . . gives me all the power I could possibly use . . . and a tankful seems to last forever. "Really, Gentlemen, that's all I have to know about your New High Octane 5-D to make me sure that it's the gasolene for my car."*

Swaps To Face Five In Rich Chicago Race

Purse Is $100,000 For American Derby

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—At least five 3-year-olds will try to beat Swaps in the $100,000 added American Derby Saturday as Rex Ellsworth's sensational colt makes his first competitive start on a grass course.

Seeking his eighth straight triumph of the year, Swaps has been brought along methodically by trainer Mish Tenney in workouts over the turf at Washington Park and has taken to the footing as if he owned it.

There is no reason to believe the Khaled-Iron Reward colt won't be just as impressive in the mile and three-sixteenths venture on the sod with Willie Shoemaker aboard in the American Derby. His next assignment will be against Nashua in the winner-take-all $100,000 match race at Washington Park Aug. 31.

Swaps' expected rivals Saturday include Clifford Mooers' Traffic Judge, W. L. Ranch's Honey's Alibi, Mrs. Harvey C. Fruehauf's Parador, Mrs. Harry L. Nathenson's Ambiguous, Hasty House Farm's Summer Solstice and possibly Calumet Farm's Trentonian.

Irish-bred Summer Solstice has displayed a definite partiality for the turf and has three victories in grass events this year. One of the nation's best turf riders, Johnny Adams, will be up on the Hasty House Farm entry.

Eddie Arcaro, if he can be relieved of a commitment, is scheduled to ride Traffic Judge, winner of the Withers Miles and the Ohio Derby.

Willie Hartack, in a great duel with Shoemaker for national riding honors, will be aboard Parador, winner of the Derby Preview last week.

Ambiguous, with Steve Brooks assigned, was two lengths behind Parador in the prep but beat out Summer Solstice for second by a neck.

Honey's Alibi won the Chicagoan at the Balmoral meeting at Washington Park and will be ridden by John Scurlock.

If Trentonian goes, Dave Erb may be at the reins. He subbed for Shoemaker aboard Swaps when the colt won the Californian at Hollywood against older horses in the world record time of 1:40 2-5 for the mile and one-sixteenth.

Tribe Buys Hurler

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today announced purchase of lefthanded pitcher Bud Daley from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League. Purchase price was not disclosed.

Daley, 22, who has a 16-12 record with Sacramento this year, will report to the Indians at the beginning of spring training next year.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—At least five 3-year-olds will try to beat Swaps in the $100,000 added American Derby Saturday as Rex Ellsworth's sensational colt makes his first competitive start on a grass course.

Seeking his eighth straight triumph of the year, Swaps has been brought along methodically by trainer Mish Tenney in workouts over the turf at Washington Park and has taken to the footing as if he owned it.

There is no reason to believe the Khaled-Iron Reward colt won't be just as impressive in the mile and three-sixteenths venture on the sod with Willie Shoemaker aboard in the American Derby. His next assignment will be against Nashua in the winner-take-all $100,000 match race at Washington Park Aug. 31.

Swaps' expected rivals Saturday include Clifford Mooers' Traffic Judge, W. L. Ranch's Honey's Alibi, Mrs. Harvey C. Fruehauf's Parador, Mrs. Harry L. Nathenson's Ambiguous, Hasty House Farm's Summer Solstice and possibly Calumet Farm's Trentonian.

Irish-bred Summer Solstice has displayed a definite partiality for the turf and has three victories in grass events this year. One of the nation's best turf riders, Johnny Adams, will be up on the Hasty House Farm entry.

Eddie Arcaro, if he can be relieved of a commitment, is scheduled to ride Traffic Judge, winner of the Withers Miles and the Ohio Derby.

Willie Hartack, in a great duel with Shoemaker for national riding honors, will be aboard Parador, winner of the Derby Preview last week.

Ambiguous, with Steve Brooks assigned, was two lengths behind Parador in the prep but beat out Summer Solstice for second by a neck.

Honey's Alibi won the Chicagoan at the Balmoral meeting at Washington Park and will be ridden by John Scurlock.

If Trentonian goes, Dave Erb may be at the reins. He subbed for Shoemaker aboard Swaps when the colt won the Californian at Hollywood against older horses in the world record time of 1:40 2-5 for the mile and one-sixteenth.

Tribe Buys Hurler

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today announced purchase of lefthanded pitcher Bud Daley from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League. Purchase price was not disclosed.

Daley, 22, who has a 16-12 record with Sacramento this year, will report to the Indians at the beginning of spring training next year.

Cliffside Campers, Stranded, But Safe And Dry

Boys and girls attending Camp Clippside's summer session are in no danger of flood waters, it was announced yesterday by camp officials.

The children have been moved to cabins on high ground, and, although cut off from other land areas, have plenty of food, clothing, and adequate shelter.

Tom Litzenburg, of 405 Cumberland Street, general manager of Tri-State Advertising Service, and his superintendent, George Callahan, drove to the camp site yesterday afternoon only to find it completely inundated.

They approached the grounds by hiking through a field and over a hill and came in through the rear of the campsite. A canoe carried them across the flooded ravine to the stranded campers and Litzenburg took his son David, 14, and four other children, back to Cumberland.

Locust Grove

and manager. Johnson is said to have hailed from Uniontown, Pa., and had a patented formula for a special plaster reinforced with wood fibers instead of animal hair, as had been the practice for many years.

The place eventually burned and most of it was destroyed.

However, it is noteworthy that Locust Grove, before it became a "little town" and ever since, has always had some kind of industry or gainful employment for its residents.

The Cherry Lumber Company operated there for some time, and this firm was the forerunner of the Cumberland Box Company now operated in South Cumberland. The C&P Railroad ran through the town and employed some of the residents. The Western Maryland still runs trains over this route.

The Union Mining Company had a quarry operation going on the hill across from the town for many years, and another firm is employing about 30 men in a quarry operation there now.

Some residents recall that a tallow plant operated at the old paper mill site for a short time, but it was so objectionable they don't want to discuss it.

Many of the residents are steadily employed in the building and construction trades or are retired from these trades. Many built and keep modern and attractive the homes in which they live.

The town boasted of its own school and school house for many years. The Paper Mill School was one of the last one or two-room schools to be closed in the county. Mrs. Helen Caldara, now teaching at Mt. Savage, was the last teacher when the school, now a community center, closed in 1949.

The first teacher at Paper Mill School was Miss Nellie Ryan and other early teachers there included Miss Lula Blonskey, Miss Sarah Wright, and Miss Ora Murrie.

The town's first magistrate or justice of the peace was William E Henderson. The first store in the place was operated by John Pattitucci who now operates a similar business on Union Street here.

The little friendly neighbor of Cumberland has made its contribution to Cumberland in many ways and many times, and during this Bicentennial Week, will have its part with a Homecoming Saturday night.

Mrs. Ernest Doman is general chairman assisted by the following committee members: Mrs. William G. Judy, music and games; William G. Judy, Paul Shaffer and William Brotemarkle, special arrangements; Miss Pauline Shaffer and Clyde Kuhns, publicity; Mrs. Edward Jenkins, Mrs. William Brotemarkle and Mrs. Marshall Emerick, refreshments; Mrs. Sandra Huff and Miss Constance Jewell, general committee, and a number of other volunteers and committee members.

Potomac Passes

of sightseers into the flooded neighbor community.

Telephone switchboards here were taxed to full capacity yesterday about 11:30 a. m. as waters rose in the area.

Officials said additional operators were called out and that service was back to normal by 1 p. m.

They said no telephones were put out of service by the rain here but that sandbags were being kept in readiness.

Business was suspended by some Piedmont merchants as flood waters from the Potomac seeped over Water and Paxton streets. Other low spots experienced flood waters, but no one was injured and damage was reported slight.

Several families in the lower sections of the town left their homes yesterday morning and moved to higher ground. Piedmont Elementary School and Howard High School were opened as shelters during the day and last night.

The Tuseytown bridge connecting Bloomington and Beryl was closed when approaches washed out. And in the same general area a 35-foot section of a high pressure gas main, owned by the C & A Gas Company, was washed out. About 80 families were without gas, but company officials said the break will be by-passed with an emergency line as soon as water recedes.

At Westernport, residents in the Maryland Avenue and other low areas had flooded basements and some high water. The situation there did not reach a critical stage.

Volunteer firemen of the Tri-Towns were on duty to meet any emergencies, and at one time yesterday traffic was halted for two hours over the interstate bridge between Westernport and Piedmont. A huge power pole alongside the bridge began swaying badly, and it was feared the pole might crash onto the bridge, bringing down the power lines. The pole held however, and as water began to recede traffic resumed on a caution basis and pedestrians were kept to one side of the bridge.

New Creek Rough

At Keyser, water from the river flooded the North Side and a few families evacuated their homes. Water did not reach a depth as great as that of Hurricane Hazel.

New Creek however, overflowed at several places and was described as a "boiling mass." As the river neared its crest, New Creek slowed and its water backed over lowlands.

Route 220 was under water at several points in that general area. Farmlands, gardens and side roads suffered from the deluge, but no material damage was recorded.

In Keyser and that vicinity, volunteer firemen and other volunteers stood by for an emergency.

Paper Mill Operating

At the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Mill Company in Luke, the river gauge showed the Potomac had reached a crest of 15.53 feet at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This was about two feet below the crest of the river there during Hurricane Hazel.

Julian G. Patrick, coordinating engineer for the Upper Potomac River Commission, said at 8 p. m. that Savage River Dam would still hold about eight feet of water. He explained that the dam had been opened in advance of the expected rainfall, so it would have room to hold back as much floor water as possible. Gates on the huge reservoir were closed yesterday morning at 6 o'clock with a clearway of about 15½ feet. During Hurricane Hazel, the clearway was about 16 feet, and the dam filled more rapidly than it was doing this time.

Patrick explained that there was not as much rainfall in the Savage River watershed this time as there was during Hurricane Hazel, but there appeared to be more rainfall in the upper reaches of the Potomac.

In any event, Savage River Dam again helped keep huge volumes of flood waters off Cumberland and the lowlands.

The paper mill at Luke continued to operate with little difficulty or interruption.

Railway Has Washouts

The Western Maryland Railway had its troubles. At Knobmount Yards beyond Ridgeley last night Potomac River water crept through the car yards, covered tracks and switches and made for a soggy mess. No major damage was done, except for mud and the nuisance created.

At Wilson, W. Va., just above Bayard, the Western Maryland experienced a bad washout of track. A section over a rail in length was washed out to a depth of about eight feet, halting movement of trains.

Below there closer to Cumberland, there was another washout at Wolf Den. This is a point between Gleason and Shallmar.

Railroad officials said two work trains were out by 9 o'clock last night and another one, to haul ballast and workmen was to go out about midnight. There was no estimate as to how soon the damage on the line would be repaired.

Kitzmiller Hit

At Kitzmiller, where the business and downtown area has been the victim of floods countless times, water from the Potomac again swirled around a number of homes and many people spent the night with friends "on the hill." However, water there did not reach the depth of previous floods and no major damage was indicated.

Telephone conversations with several residents indicated the situation was not serious, except for nuisance value of high water. The stream crested at Kitzmiller about noon, with two and half feet less water than Hurricane Hazel.

Georges Creek

The Georges Creek area was not flooded and did not get the bulk of the rainstorm. Georges Creek which enters the Potomac at Westernport was swollen to almost the overflow point, but residents said there was no flood in the general area.

Wills Creek, which comes from the Hyndman area, also remained calm, compared to previous flood situations. Again, this area escaped much of the heavy rainfall. The creek rose in Cumberland somewhat, but at no time reached a danger point. As the Potomac River crested, the water in Wills Creek backed up through the channel in the city, and some business firms and residents on North Mechanic Street began to get alarmed. However, as the river stopped rising, the creek too, ceased to be a cause of alarm.

Evitts Creek Out

At the Starlite Theatre on Oldtown Road just east of the city limits, Evitts Creek left its banks last night and Oldtown Road, Route 51, was blocked. State Police ordered barriers erected as a couple of feet of muddy water swirled over the road.

The theatre operators reported water extending under their huge screen about twenty feet into the spectators pit to a depth of a foot or more. There were a number of spectators at the theatre and the show continued uninterrupted. The movie-goers returned to Cumberland over Irons Mountain and Williams roads.

Moore won first prize for the best mother and daughter costumes, and Mrs. Claire Louise Carroll and Linda Lou Carroll, the second prize.

Some two dozen Belles and their daughters appeared in the fashion show judged by Mrs. Gordon Lee Bowie, Mrs. Robert E. King, Mrs. Walter C. Capper, Mrs. May Richardson and Mrs. Edward Martz.

Give Bathing Skit

Bert Graham was master of ceremonies for the show and for the bathing suit skit, a review of the fashions in bathing costumes in the United States.

The authentic costumes, furnished by the Catalina and Jantzen firms, were modeled by Miss Judy McKenzie, Miss Linda Loar, Miss Joan Cotton, Miss Beverly Taylor, Miss Avery Steinla, Miss Melanie Wilmot, Miss Pat Kirk, Mrs. Shirley Partleton, Mrs. Winnie Moore and Mrs. Dixie Thompson.

John Stotler and Arnett Weidner, as policemen, measured the costumes and declared, "They are all too short."

Cliffside Campers, Stranded, But Safe And Dry

Boys and girls attending Camp Clippside's summer session are in no danger of flood waters, it was announced yesterday by camp officials.

The children have been moved to cabins on high ground, and, although cut off from other land areas, have plenty of food, clothing, and adequate shelter.

Tom Litzenburg, of 405 Cumberland Street, general manager of Tri-State Advertising Service, and his superintendent, George Callahan, drove to the camp site yesterday afternoon only to find it completely inundated.

They approached the grounds by hiking through a field and over a hill and came in through the rear of the campsite. A canoe carried them across the flooded ravine to the stranded campers and Litzenburg took his son David, 14, and four other children, back to Cumberland.

and manager. Johnson is said to have hailed from Uniontown, Pa., and had a patented formula for a special plaster reinforced with wood fibers instead of animal hair, as had been the practice for many years.

The place eventually burned and most of it was destroyed.

However, it is noteworthy that Locust Grove, before it became a "little town" and ever since, has always had some kind of industry or gainful employment for its residents.

The Cherry Lumber Company operated there for some time, and this firm was the forerunner of the Cumberland Box Company now operated in South Cumberland. The C&P Railroad ran through the town and employed some of the residents. The Western Maryland still runs trains over this route.

The Union Mining Company had a quarry operation going on the hill across from the town for many years, and another firm is employing about 30 men in a quarry operation there now.

Some residents recall that a tallow plant operated at the old paper mill site for a short time, but it was so objectionable they don't want to discuss it.

Many of the residents are steadily employed in the building and construction trades or are retired from these trades. Many built and keep modern and attractive the homes in which they live.

The town boasted of its own school and school house for many years. The Paper Mill School was one of the last one or two-room schools to be closed in the county. Mrs. Helen Caldara, now teaching at Mt. Savage, was the last teacher when the school, now a community center, closed in 1949.

The first teacher at Paper Mill School was Miss Nellie Ryan and other early teachers there included Miss Lula Blonskey, Miss Sarah Wright, and Miss Ora Murrie.

The town's first magistrate or justice of the peace was William E Henderson. The first store in the place was operated by John Pattitucci who now operates a similar business on Union Street here.

The little friendly neighbor of Cumberland has made its contribution to Cumberland in many ways and many times, and during this Bicentennial Week, will have its part with a Homecoming Saturday night.

Mrs. Ernest Doman is general chairman assisted by the following committee members: Mrs. William G. Judy, music and games; William G. Judy, Paul Shaffer and William Brotemarkle, special arrangements; Miss Pauline Shaffer and Clyde Kuhns, publicity; Mrs. Edward Jenkins, Mrs. William Brotemarkle and Mrs. Marshall Emerick, refreshments; Mrs. Sandra Huff and Miss Constance Jewell, general committee, and a number of other volunteers and committee members.

Potomac Passes

of sightseers into the flooded neighbor community.

Telephone switchboards here were taxed to full capacity yesterday about 11:30 a. m. as waters rose in the area.

Officials said additional operators were called out and that service was back to normal by 1 p. m.

They said no telephones were put out of service by the rain here but that sandbags were being kept in readiness.

Business was suspended by some Piedmont merchants as flood waters from the Potomac seeped over Water and Paxton streets. Other low spots experienced flood waters, but no one was injured and damage was reported slight.

Several families in the lower sections of the town left their homes yesterday morning and moved to higher ground. Piedmont Elementary School and Howard High School were opened as shelters during the day and last night.

The Tuseytown bridge connecting Bloomington and Beryl was closed when approaches washed out. And in the same general area a 35-foot section of a high pressure gas main, owned by the C & A Gas Company, was washed out. About 80 families were without gas, but company officials said the break will be by-passed with an emergency line as soon as water recedes.

At Westernport, residents in the Maryland Avenue and other low areas had flooded basements and some high water. The situation there did not reach a critical stage.

Volunteer firemen of the Tri-Towns were on duty to meet any emergencies, and at one time yesterday traffic was halted for two hours over the interstate bridge between Westernport and Piedmont. A huge power pole alongside the bridge began swaying badly, and it was feared the pole might crash onto the bridge, bringing down the power lines. The pole held however, and as water began to recede traffic resumed on a caution basis and pedestrians were kept to one side of the bridge.

New Creek Rough

At Keyser, water from the river flooded the North Side and a few families evacuated their homes. Water did not reach a depth as great as that of Hurricane Hazel.

New Creek however, overflowed at several places and was described as a "boiling mass." As the river neared its crest, New Creek slowed and its water backed over lowlands.

Route 220 was under water at several points in that general area. Farmlands, gardens and side roads suffered from the deluge, but no material damage was recorded.

In Keyser and that vicinity, volunteer firemen and other volunteers stood by for an emergency.

Paper Mill Operating

At the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Mill Company in Luke, the river gauge showed the Potomac had reached a crest of 15.53 feet at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This was about two feet below the crest of the river there during Hurricane Hazel.

Julian G. Patrick, coordinating engineer for the Upper Potomac River Commission, said at 8 p. m. that Savage River Dam would still hold about eight feet of water. He explained that the dam had been opened in advance of the expected rainfall, so it would have room to hold back as much floor water as possible. Gates on the huge reservoir were closed yesterday morning at 6 o'clock with a clearway of about 15½ feet. During Hurricane Hazel, the clearway was about 16 feet, and the dam filled more rapidly than it was doing this time.

Patrick explained that there was not as much rainfall in the Savage River watershed this time as there was during Hurricane Hazel, but there appeared to be more rainfall in the upper reaches of the Potomac.

In any event, Savage River Dam again helped keep huge volumes of flood waters off Cumberland and the lowlands.

The paper mill at Luke continued to operate with little difficulty or interruption.

Railway Has Washouts

The Western Maryland Railway had its troubles. At Knobmount Yards beyond Ridgeley last night Potomac River water crept through the car yards, covered tracks and switches and made for a soggy mess. No major damage was done, except for mud and the nuisance created.

At Wilson, W. Va., just above Bayard, the Western Maryland experienced a bad washout of track. A section over a rail in length was washed out to a depth of about eight feet, halting movement of trains.

Below there closer to Cumberland, there was another washout at Wolf Den. This is a point between Gleason and Shallmar.

Railroad officials said two work trains were out by 9 o'clock last night and another one, to haul ballast and workmen was to go out about midnight. There was no estimate as to how soon the damage on the line would be repaired.

Kitzmiller Hit

At Kitzmiller, where the business and downtown area has been the victim of floods countless times, water from the Potomac again swirled around a number of homes and many people spent the night with friends "on the hill." However, water there did not reach the depth of previous floods and no major damage was indicated.

Telephone conversations with several residents indicated the situation was not serious, except for nuisance value of high water. The stream crested at Kitzmiller about noon, with two and half feet less water than Hurricane Hazel.

Georges Creek

The Georges Creek area was not flooded and did not get the bulk of the rainstorm. Georges Creek which enters the Potomac at Westernport was swollen to almost the overflow point, but residents said there was no flood in the general area.

Wills Creek, which comes from the Hyndman area, also remained calm, compared to previous flood situations. Again, this area escaped much of the heavy rainfall. The creek rose in Cumberland somewhat, but at no time reached a danger point. As the Potomac River crested, the water in Wills Creek backed up through the channel in the city, and some business firms and residents on North Mechanic Street began to get alarmed. However, as the river stopped rising, the creek too, ceased to be a cause of alarm.

Evitts Creek Out

At the Starlite Theatre on Oldtown Road just east of the city limits, Evitts Creek left its banks last night and Oldtown Road, Route 51, was blocked. State Police ordered barriers erected as a couple of feet of muddy water swirled over the road.

The theatre operators reported water extending under their huge screen about twenty feet into the spectators pit to a depth of a foot or more. There were a number of spectators at the theatre and the show continued uninterrupted. The movie-goers returned to Cumberland over Irons Mountain and Williams roads.

Moore won first prize for the best mother and daughter costumes, and Mrs. Claire Louise Carroll and Linda Lou Carroll, the second prize.

Some two dozen Belles and their daughters appeared in the fashion show judged by Mrs. Gordon Lee Bowie, Mrs. Robert E. King, Mrs. Walter C. Capper, Mrs. May Richardson and Mrs. Edward Martz.

Give Bathing Skit

Bert Graham was master of ceremonies for the show and for the bathing suit skit, a review of the fashions in bathing costumes in the United States.

The authentic costumes, furnished by the Catalina and Jantzen firms, were modeled by Miss Judy McKenzie, Miss Linda Loar, Miss Joan Cotton, Miss Beverly Taylor, Miss Avery Steinla, Miss Melanie Wilmot, Miss Pat Kirk, Mrs. Shirley Partleton, Mrs. Winnie Moore and Mrs. Dixie Thompson.

John Stotler and Arnett Weidner, as policemen, measured the costumes and declared, "They are all too short."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (INS) — Before Ray Milland left for Europe, he told me he's heading first to London to talk to Vivien Leigh about co-starring with him in "Lisbon." Yes, this is the same story Joan Crawford was to have made for Paramount last year but which was, for some unexplained reason, called off.

When Joan dropped it, Ray picked up the suspense- thriller and it will be his next directing-starring assignment at Republic.

Certainly none of the actors who won Oscars in "From Here to Eternity" have fallen victims to the old superstition that getting the award is oftimes unlucky. Look at Frank Sinatra.

Also, look at Donna Reed, steaming along in fine style. Donna returns to MGM to play the wife of Glenn Ford in "Fearful Decision," the story which created such a sensation when Ralph Bellamy played it on TV. It's about a father who makes the fearful decision of refusing to pay a ransom to the kidnapers of his son.

Donna reports as soon as she completes "The Benny Goodman Story" at U-I.

Janet Leigh writes that she's getting a big kick out of all the attention the London press is paying to her mother, Mrs. Fred Morrison, who accompanied her from Hollywood.

"Mother has had three interviews with leading reporters," writes Janet, "and while she's secretly very pleased, she bowled me over the other day by saying, 'Maybe Garbo has the right idea not giving out interviews. I've been misquoted twice'!"

Hollywood in shorts:

Joan Crawford's bridegroom, Al Steele, planes back to Hollywood tomorrow. Then we'll see what we shall see.

Joan Evans (Mrs. Kirby Weatherly) welcomed an eight-pound doll at Washington Hospital. Name is Dale, after Joan's father, Dale Eunson. Grandma is well-known writer, Katherine Albert.

Ever since the fire at El Rancho Vegas, Joe E. Lewis has been singing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" at every show.

Dick Haymes never had it so good. He bows into the Cocoanut Grove Tuesday night. He's signed with Capitol Records for albums and Josef Shaftel has offered him the lead in the "Jazz Man."

That's all today.

Rails Higher But Market Session Is Inconclusive

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP) — The stock market pursued its inconclusive way today without creating much of interest.

The railroads were higher, as they were yesterday when they led a late rally. Also up were a few chemicals, aircrafts and rubbers. The coppers, which were strong yesterday on a price increase for the metal, were down today in profit taking in some cases.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 10 cents at $170.90, but there were more gainers than losers in the list. That situation was the reverse of yesterday when the average was up but the losers predominated.

The list today contained 1,095 individual issues, lowest in some 19 months. Of these, 426 advanced and 404 declined with 18 new highs for the year and 14 new lows. Volume was quite moderate at 1,560,000 shares, about 10,000 less than yesterday.

Underwood Corp. was up 1⅝ at 39⅜ as directors declared a dividend of 50 cents as against 25 cents paid in previous quarters.

ACF Brill, which is getting into the food market business, was the day's most active issue up 1¼ at 14⅛ on 41,600 shares.

The republic of the Philippines was proclaimed on July 4, 1946.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (INS) — Before Ray Milland left for Europe, he told me he's heading first to London to talk to Vivien Leigh about co-starring with him in "Lisbon." Yes, this is the same story Joan Crawford was to have made for Paramount last year but which was, for some unexplained reason, called off.

When Joan dropped it, Ray picked up the suspense- thriller and it will be his next directing-starring assignment at Republic.

The first picture Milland directed for the valley studio, "A Man Alone," was sneak previewed last week and the fans wrote favorable cards. Ray will shoot "Lisbon" partly in Lisbon (surprise!) and in Hollywood.

Certainly none of the actors who won Oscars in "From Here to Eternity" have fallen victims to the old superstition that getting the award is oftimes unlucky. Look at Frank Sinatra.

Also, look at Donna Reed, steaming along in fine style. Donna returns to MGM to play the wife of Glenn Ford in "Fearful Decision," the story which created such a sensation when Ralph Bellamy played it on TV. It's about a father who makes the fearful decision of refusing to pay a ransom to the kidnapers of his son.

Donna reports as soon as she completes "The Benny Goodman Story" at U-I.

Janet Leigh writes that she's getting a big kick out of all the attention the London press is paying to her mother, Mrs. Fred Morrison, who accompanied her from Hollywood.

"Mother has had three interviews with leading reporters," writes Janet, "and while she's secretly very pleased, she bowled me over the other day by saying, 'Maybe Garbo has the right idea not giving out interviews. I've been misquoted twice'!"

Hollywood in shorts:

Joan Crawford's bridegroom, Al Steele, planes back to Hollywood tomorrow. Then we'll see what we shall see.

Joan Evans (Mrs. Kirby Weatherly) welcomed an eight-pound doll at Washington Hospital. Name is Dale, after Joan's father, Dale Eunson. Grandma is well-known writer, Katherine Albert.

Bing Crosby, reassured about Phillip's condition, is back at Hayden Lake conferring with his CBS radio director. He doesn't want any special favors, but it would surely make Bing happy if the authorities permit Phil a couple of weeks to get well at the lake.

Ever since the fire at El Rancho Vegas, Joe E. Lewis has been singing "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" at every show.

Dick Haymes never had it so good. He bows into the Cocoanut Grove Tuesday night. He's signed with Capitol Records for albums and Josef Shaftel has offered him the lead in the "Jazz Man."

That's all today.

Rails Higher But Market Session Is Inconclusive

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP) — The stock market pursued its inconclusive way today without creating much of interest.

The railroads were higher, as they were yesterday when they led a late rally. Also up were a few chemicals, aircrafts and rubbers. The coppers, which were strong yesterday on a price increase for the metal, were down today in profit taking in some cases.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 10 cents at $170.90, but there were more gainers than losers in the list. That situation was the reverse of yesterday when the average was up but the losers predominated.

The list today contained 1,095 individual issues, lowest in some 19 months. Of these, 426 advanced and 404 declined with 18 new highs for the year and 14 new lows. Volume was quite moderate at 1,560,000 shares, about 10,000 less than yesterday.

Underwood Corp. was up 1⅝ at 39⅜ as directors declared a dividend of 50 cents as against 25 cents paid in previous quarters.

ACF Brill, which is getting into the food market business, was the day's most active issue up 1¼ at 14⅛ on 41,600 shares.

The republic of the Philippines was proclaimed on July 4, 1946.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

The Corpres That Won't Lie Down

While John Crosby is on vacation, his column is being conducted by guest writers. Today's contributor is Richard Maney, veteran theatrical press agent.

Prophets of doom have been rehearsing the theater's funeral ever since "The Beaux' Strategem" was put on at the John Street Theater, circa 1767. These alarmists regarded the theater as a litter case, sure to be done in by its first opponent. When the stereoscope bobbed up in our parlors, the carpers went into a danse macabre. Confounded when the theater defied this gadget, they were cued into premature dirges by the tandem bicycle, the phonograph, mute and vocal movies, radio, contract bridge, night baseball, harness racing, and other noises and nuisances too numerous to itemize here. Though mussed up in brawls with these upstarts, the theater refused to turn up its toes.

The keening of the grave-diggers reached a crescendo when television antennae started to flower on every roof in New Jersey. This miraculous contraption would give the theater its coup de grace in short order. There was some talk of a mercy killing, that the agony of the afflicted not be prolonged unduly. I regret to say many theater folk shared these ghoulish sentiments. How could the stage compete with entertainment which could be viewed from the living room couch? Who would pay $9.20 for two orchestra chairs, buck crosstown traffic, and be spiked by tardy arrivals, when he could see Milton Berle for nothing, and slouch into the kitchen for snifter if he already had a Buick?

The fears of these cravens were groundless. Instead of weaning people away from the theater, television is driving them back to it. More stage attractions survived July this summer than in any year in the last decade. In flight from quiz shows, wrestling matches, Charley Chan, Westerns, giveaways, soap operas and a mess of situation comedies pulled from the same stencil, the disillusioned are scurrying back to the theater in the hope of regaining their sanity. Affronted by the gibberish of TV's shills, their nerves jangled by jingles, the strays are repenting their perfidy.

Television's potential for amusement and instruction is great. The new medium cries out for adventurers and explorers, men undaunted by the unknown. But it cries in vain. Its partisans are dedicated to the tried and shopworn. "Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery," is the motto of this communicative club.

In aping the theater, television has fashioned its own noose. I am moved to this morbid observation on reading that Joseph Kaufman has bought the telefilm rights to 104 plays by de Musset, Hugo, the younger Dumas, Sardou, Rostand, Giraudoux and other noted Gauls from La Societe Francaise des Auteurs et Compositeurs Dramatiques and that he proposes to bemuse the peasantry with sixty and ninety-minute abbreviations of same.

Easy, there, Mr. K. Don't crow too loudly over this coup. It may claw you into ribbons. Pause and reflect on the wounds received by NBC's "Producer's Showcase," CBS's "The Best of Broadway" and the "spectaculars" loosed by Max Liebman. These programs undertook to reproduce successful Broadway plays and musicals of other years. Necessary modifications presented difficulties to dismay any one save a Readers Digest editor. The running time of a three-act play, exclusive of intermissions, is approximately two hours. TV's corruptions of some of these gems were jammed into fifty minutes, since ten of the allotted sixty were consumed by commercials, credits and station breaks.

Excising seventy minutes from the original, deplorable practice under the best of circumstances, called for delicate surgery. Instead, most of the specimens molested were subjected to promiscuous butchery, with acting to match. A man with size ten feet is likely to limp and stumble in size six shoes, if he can walk at all. So is it with shrunken plays.

A friend of mine recently exposed to a fifty-minute "Julius Caesar" is still in a state of shock and goes around muttering, "This was the most unkindest cut of all."

A Park Avenue dowager who saw Lynn Fontanne in "The Guardsman" thirty years ago came down with the bends on witnessing its video variation. It's just as well Molnar is in his grave. Had he witnessed this mayhem I'm sure he would have brought down an Hungarian curse on all concerned.

My vertigo recurs when I think what may happen to "L'Aiglon," "Madame Sans-Gene," "La Dame aux Camelias" and "Cyrano de Bergerac" once they've been pruned to fit TV's straight jacket. But Mr. Kaufman's fix is not necessarily fatal. If shackled by time and sponsor, all he need do is sue for more minutes. This is no time to taunt France. It might pull out of NATO if Hugo is bobbed and profaned. Nor need television break off its clandestine affair with the drama. There are few limitations on channel budgets, I've heard. In a half page ad it can alert members of the Dramatist's Guild to its urgent need for fifty-minute plays and seventy-five minute song-and-dance shows. This failing, its researchers can excavate thousands of un-produced and thus escape nasty comparisons no matter how much they're lopped.

The theater is the phoenix of the arts. Just as they start to wheel it off to the incinerator a Lillian Hellman, a Tennessee Williams or a Robert Sherwood comes up with an excitement, whereupon the corpse leaps from its bier and chases the pallbearers into the underbrush. Television, too, has a secret weapon. Whatever its flaws, whatever its follies, it will never die so long as it can wave money in the face of its followers. To most of us, thirty-two grand is more fascinating than "Hamlet."

EXCHANGE OF PLEASANTRIES

WHEN the hand below was over and North-South were going through the always delightful process of adding up their huge score, East and West had to fall back on the dubious consolation of telling their opponents how lucky they had been. "You would have been in the soup if I hadn't had the diamond king," East told South bitterly.

"That's right," South agreed amiably. "And I'm grateful that you didn't make me guess about that diamond king."

East didn't understand this remark—but perhaps he will, now.

South dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	♠ K Q 8 ♥ A Q 10 6 4 ♦ 10 9 ♣ 4 3 2
♠ 10 5 3 ♥ K J 8 3 ♦ J 7 6 5 2 ♣ 5	N W E S	♠ A J 7 2 ♥ 9 7 5 2 ♦ K 8 4 3 ♣ J
	♠ 9 6 4 ♥ — ♦ A Q ♣ A K Q 10 9 8 7 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	6 ♣ (final bid)

West decided that since the opposing clubs were evidently solid, no harm could be done by opening a trump, so he led his singleton. As it happened, this was a good choice in that it gave declarer a chance to go wrong.

At Trick 2 South led a spade to the queen, and when East took the trick, declarer had only one chance for the contract—to discard a spade on dummy's heart ace and try the diamond finesse. Fortunately for him, the diamond king lay right, so the slam came home.

Now let's get back to the remark South made, about being glad that East had not given him a guess. East could have done just that—all he had to do was to play low on the first spade lead, without hesitation. Consider South's dilemma then. He could scarcely assume East had both the spade ace and the diamond king; hence he could not (with equanimity) discard a spade on the heart ace and take the diamond finesse. No, with the spade queen holding, it would have been very, very tempting to discard the diamond queen and play West for the ace of spades.

Able Cable Says:-

★ PROGRAM of the WEEK—$64,000 QUESTION—incidentally is playing to more than 47 million viewers each week!—More than 79% of all TV sets, it's estimated are watching this program—It has proven so popular that many more programs, like it, are in the making. The reason the show has caught on so fast, is that "what is happening in front of the audience is real and amazingly big"—It's pure TV. Channel 9, on Cable 2, carries this program weekly at 10:00 Tuesdays. TV GUIDE lists channel 2, 9, and 56, carrying the $64,000 Question, in its Pittsburgh edition.

★ Cable 2 will be carrying "Horse Races"—from Chicago—Live—Saturdays, 6 P. M. These five races include "Dream Match" and "The American Derby." Total purses of $540,000!

★ SPECIAL "World Boy Scouts Jamboree", 4:30 Cable 2, Sunday, from Ontario, Canada.

★ "People—interviews"—a new program starting at 5 on Sundays—Should be interesting to many.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

EXCHANGE OF PLEASANTRIES

WHEN the hand below was over and North-South were going through the always delightful process of adding up their huge score, East and West had to fall back on the dubious consolation of telling their opponents how lucky they had been. "You would have been in the soup if I hadn't had the diamond king," East told South bitterly.

"That's right," South agreed amiably. "And I'm grateful that you didn't make me guess about that diamond king."

East didn't understand this remark—but perhaps he will, now.

South dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

	♠ K Q 8 ♥ A Q 10 6 4 ♦ 10 9 ♣ 4 3 2
♠ 10 5 3 ♥ K J 8 3 ♦ J 7 6 5 2 ♣ 5	N W E S	♠ A J 7 2 ♥ 9 7 5 2 ♦ K 8 4 3 ♣ J
	♠ 9 6 4 ♥ — ♦ A Q ♣ A K Q 10 9 8 7 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	6 ♣ (final bid)

West decided that since the opposing clubs were evidently solid, no harm could be done by opening a trump, so he led his singleton. As it happened, this was a good choice in that it gave declarer a chance to go wrong.

At Trick 2 South led a spade to the queen, and when East took the trick, declarer had only one chance for the contract—to discard a spade on dummy's heart ace and try the diamond finesse. Fortunately for him, the diamond king lay right, so the slam came home.

Now let's get back to the remark South made, about being glad that East had not given him a guess. East could have done just that—all he had to do was to play low on the first spade lead, without hesitation. Consider South's dilemma then. He could scarcely assume East had both the spade ace and the diamond king; hence he could not (with equanimity) discard a spade on the heart ace and take the diamond finesse. No, with the spade queen holding, it would have been very, very tempting to discard the diamond queen and play West for the ace of spades.

In Memoriam

SHRIVER — In loving memory of our sister and aunt, Mrs. Florence R. Shriver, who passed away 1 year ago today, August 19, 1954.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
The evening star shines on the grave
up in Hillcrest Cemetery.
Of one we loved but could not save.
The things you always did for us,
We think of every day.
They keep you near and dear to us,
Though God called you Home to stay.
Sisters, Mrs. Ella Loneman Warrenfelty, Mrs. Carrie Kesecker, Niece, Mrs. Fay Mullenix.

In loving memory of Mrs. E. F. Shriver who passed away one year ago, August 19, 1954.
We shall meet, but we shall miss her.
There will be one vacant chair.
We shall linger to caress her
As our Minister breathes the prayer.
When at our last meeting we gathered,
Joy was in her clear blue eyes,
But a golden link is broken
And our hope in death now lies.
At our meetings sad and lonely
Often will our bosom swell
At remembrance of dear Mother
Whom we all did love so well.
Sleep today, Oh! dearest Mother
In thy green and narrow bed.
Petals from our own white roses,
Mingle with the tears we shed.
Sadly missed by:
Father and Son.

In Memoriam

SHRIVER — In loving memory of our sister and aunt, Mrs. Florence R. Shriver, who passed away 1 year ago today, August 19, 1954.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
The evening star shines on the grave up in Hillcrest Cemetery.
Of one we loved but could not save,
The things you always did for us,
We think of every day.
They keep you near and dear to us,
Though God called you Home to stay.
Sisters, Mrs. Ella Loneman Warrenfelty, Mrs. Carrie Keseecker, Niece, Mrs. Fay Mullenix.

In loving memory of Mrs. E. F. Shriver who passed away one year ago, August 19, 1954.
We shall meet, but we shall miss her.
There will be one vacant chair.
We shall linger to caress her
As our Minister breathes the prayer.
When at our last meeting we gathered,
Joy was in her clear blue eyes,
But a golden link is broken
And our hope in death now lies.
At our meetings sad and lonely
Often will our bosom swell
At remembrance of dear Mother
Whom we all did love so well.
Sleep today, Oh! dearest Mother
In thy green and narrow bed.
Petals from our own white roses,
Mingle with the tears we shed.
Sadly missed by:
Father and Son.

Hambleton Postmaster Weds

PARSONS—Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Madonna Chambers, daughter of Mrs. Esther Shaffer of Hambleton, to Walter Plum, postmaster of Hambleton and a son of Elmer Plum of Hambleton and the late Nellie Plum.

Rev. Robert E. Cassell, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran Church of Westernport, read the single ring ceremony Saturday evening, August 6, at 9:30 o'clock in the church parsonage.

The bride wore for her marriage a gown of pink net over taffeta and a corsage of white carnations. Miss Elma Jean Plum of Youngstown, Ohio, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and wore a yellow net over taffeta gown with a pink carnation corsage. Miss Jane Hinkle of Hambleton was also an attendant.

The bride is a member of the Sophomore Class of Parsons High School, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Parsons High School in the class of 1950. He spent four years with the U. S. Air Force. He was discharged early in 1955 and was recently named as postmaster of the town of Hambleton where they will reside.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Religion Encounters New Bastions Of Conservatism

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Liberal religion, reared in revolt, today is encountering new bastions of conservatism.

But the independent-minded faith still is going strong itself, despite the surrounding buildup of traditional forces.

"After wars, in time of stress, there's often a lag of religious progress," said the Rev. Dr. Laurance I. Neale, pastor of All Souls Unitarian Church.

"People get fearful and think we've gone too far. It's an old, old cry through the ages."

But the nonconformist denominations, free of creeds, still are exploring new paths to God, despite the increased stress on age-old doctrines in the bulk of Protestanism.

The conservative trend has a name: "neo-orthodoxy."

"It's an ancient problem in different dress," said Dr. Brainard F. Gibbons, of Boston, general superintendent of the Universalist Church in America.

"It still carries the implication of 'accept or else,' of creedal bondage. This, in our humble judgment, is tyranny over mind.

"But it could mean a help, rather than a setback. It means others are dissecting and analyzing their ancient concepts."

Next week, the two champions of individualistic philosophy, the Unitarians and Universalists, meet together in Detroit for the first biennial convention of their recently formed Council of Liberal Churches.

Although their wide-ranging views today confront a reinforced bulwark of traditional theology, they can count many broad influences they've wielded through the years on Western Christianity.

1. They first focused religion on this world, instead of on how to get into the next one—an aspect now reflected in about all churches in declaring religion's importance in dealing with earthly problems too.

2. They launched critical research into the Bible—an activity for which they once were denounced as instruments of the Devil. But all major churches today use historical, archaeological tools in biblical studies.

3. In defying the idea of eternal damnation ("No Hellites," they were once called), they had an effect in toning down the fear-and-punishment elements dominant in past-century preaching, and giving more attention to God's love.

4. They pioneered in giving equal church status to women, including the right of ordination, a practice that is still growing among Protestant churches.

5. They blazed trails in church social action, and along with the Quakers, were the first—in the 1790s—to officially condemn slavery.

6. They maintained man was basically good, not evil, and stressed the goodness of life, rather than its sinfulness—a leavening attitude on the bleak and severe qualities of Christianity's puritan phase.

"I suppose," Dr. Gibbons said, "we've provided a little spur. We've been like sheep dogs nipping at the heels of the mass, which moves slowly in some common direction toward truth."

Neither of the two churches requires fixed religious beliefs.

Most members don't hold such doctrines as the trinity, the virgin birth of Christ, original sin, and the infallibility of the Bible, though they may do so. Most see Jesus as a great spiritual leader, not a divinity.

Religion Encounters New Bastions Of Conservatism

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Liberal religion, reared in revolt, today is encountering new bastions of conservatism.

But the independent-minded faith still is going strong itself, despite the surrounding buildup of traditional forces.

"After wars, in time of stress, there's often a lag of religious progress," said the Rev. Dr. Laurance I. Neale, pastor of All Souls Unitarian Church.

"People get fearful and think we've gone too far. It's an old, old cry through the ages."

But the nonconformist denominations, free of creeds, still are exploring new paths to God, despite the increased stress on age-old doctrines in the bulk of Protestanism.

The conservative trend has a name: "neo-orthodoxy."

"It's an ancient problem in different dress," said Dr. Brainard F. Gibbons, of Boston, general superintendent of the Universalist Church in America.

"It still carries the implication of 'accept or else,' of creedal bondage. This, in our humble judgment, is tyranny over mind.

"But it could mean a help, rather than a setback. It means others are dissecting and analyzing their ancient concepts."

Next week, the two champions of individualistic philosophy, the Unitarians and Universalists, meet together in Detroit for the first biennial convention of their recently formed Council of Liberal Churches.

Although their wide-ranging views today confront a reinforced bulwark of traditional theology, they can count many broad influences they've wielded through the years on Western Christianity.

1. They first focused religion on this world, instead of on how to get into the next one—an aspect now reflected in about all churches in declaring religion's importance in dealing with earthly problems too.

2. They launched critical research into the Bible—an activity for which they once were denounced as instruments of the Devil. But all major churches today use historical, archaeological tools in biblical studies.

3. In defying the idea of eternal damnation ("No Hellites," they were once called), they had an effect in toning down the fear-and-punishment elements dominant in past-century preaching, and giving more attention to God's love.

4. They pioneered in giving equal church status to women, including the right of ordination, a practice that is still growing among Protestant churches.

5. They blazed trails in church social action, and along with the Quakers, were the first—in the 1790s—to officially condemn slavery.

6. They maintained man was basically good, not evil, and stressed the goodness of life, rather than its sinfulness—a leavening attitude on the bleak and severe qualities of Christianity's puritan phase.

"I suppose," Dr. Gibbons said, "we've provided a little spur. We've been like sheep dogs nipping at the heels of the mass, which moves slowly in some common direction toward truth."

Neither of the two churches requires fixed religious beliefs.

Most members don't hold such doctrines as the trinity, the virgin birth of Christ, original sin, and the infallibility of the Bible, though they may do so. Most see Jesus as a great spiritual leader, not a divinity.

Potomac Passes Floodtide Crest

Worst Danger Past; Streets, Basements Are Inundated

The Potomac River at Pinto and Wiley Ford river gauges crested before midnight last night at a depth of 22.6 feet, leaving water on the streets of West Side Cumberland and in the streets of Ridgeley.

Near-record rainfall in the upper reaches of the North Branch of the Potomac River Wednesday night and almost all day yesterday swelled the stream far above normal and created fear that a "serious flood" was about to happen.

Actually, there was no major damage anywhere in this area, and official sources knew of no great property damage, loss of life or flood casualties.

Water began creeping onto Water Street, Lehigh Street and that section of the West Side yesterday morning. Shortly past noon, the river left its banks at low points in Ridgeley and by 10 p. m. a large area of Ridgeley, on both sides, was inundated.

Water was on the school property on one side, and over several streets on the side facing West Side Cumberland. The car yards of the Western Maryland Railway at Knobmount were under a foot of water.

Paca Street, Avirett Avenue, Smallwood Street, South Lee Street, Johnson Street, Lehigh Street, and that general area of the West Side experienced up to two feet of water. Many residents reported water in their basements, and lawns and gardens were flooded.

Families Move Out

Early in the day, Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and men from the street department went to the West Side, notified residents that flood waters were predicted and offered to help any families who wished help to move. About 20 families were assisted with moving furniture to upper floors and several basements were cleared out of canned goods and apparatus that would have been damaged.

Commissioner Buchholtz said his crewmen had gone home at 10 p. m. last night, and as soon as water recedes, every available street man will be assigned to the West Side to help pump out basements, clean catch basins, and generally return the stricken area to normal as fast as possible.

During the rise of the river here, the stream carried tons of debris downstream at a rapid pace. Spectators who lined the banks at every strategic spot watched with fascination as trees, logs, crossties and all manner of debris swirled away down stream.

The river rose as rapidly as 1.8 feet per hour for a time during the day, but late evening and last night settled down to a steady rise of around four-tenths of a foot an hour, finally reaching its crest and then subsiding.

As the situation developed, the city got ready.

The Red Cross arranged to open shelters at LaVale Fire Hall, West Side School and the State Armory. Key personnel were alerted, but no one was actually called out as there was no demand for shelter or assistance. Red Cross officials however, remained on call all night.

Army Reserve units and National Guardsmen had key men alerted to go on duty immediately, if needed.

Auxiliary police were pressed into service yesterday and last night to assist regular police with traffic control in flooded areas. The many visitors here for the Bicentennial, along with the usual local curious, created repeated traffic tieups on Greene Street and in the flooded area.

As streets were barricaded and the auxiliaries manned strategic spots, this situation was finally handled with a minimum of confusion and inconvenience.

City Officials Stand By

City officials, including Mayor Roy W. Eves, remained at City Hall until a late hour, keeping up to the minute on developments and attempting to safeguard the residents against any sudden change in the picture.

Last night, the Wiley Ford Bridge between Cumberland and Wiley Ford was closed to all traffic. Engineers noticed considerable vibration in the structure as the river swelled. The action was taken as a safety measure.

Blue Bridge across the Potomac from the West Side of Cumberland to Ridgeley, was also closed to vehicular traffic to prevent an influx

South Branch Recedes; Roads Reported Open

Towns Temporarily "Hemmed In"

Following a day of swirling water in the South Branch of the Potomac River, the situation in that area late last night was reported improving. State Police said roads which had been blocked were all open except Route 220 north of Moorefield.

In the Romney, Moorefield and Petersburg areas, the river left its banks at numerous points. Moorefield and Petersburg were isolated about noon, but traffic was resumed last night.

At Moorefield some 15 families evacuated their homes, and a large section was under a couple feet of water during the day. The evacuees were housed and fed by the Moorefield Branch of the Red Cross, in the hall of a town church.

The South Fork, also at flood tide, began dropping about noon and the South Branch started to recede early last night. At Franklin and other points, there was no great damage reported.

As along the North Branch, several inches of rain fell in the South Branch Valley during the night and early yesterday. Reports that Petersburg had 10 inches of rainfall were denied.

Throughout the area, according to State Police and other officials, damage to property was not great, but many farms were inundated and numerous homes in low-lying areas had water in basements and on first floors.

The flood waters yesterday were not nearly as bad as those of 1949 or in other inundations, officials said.

Flood Danger Hits Local Industries

Although the plant was not flooded, the Kelly Springfield Tire Company went on an emergency schedule yesterday and stopped all production on the second and third shifts.

An emergency notice advised all production workers on the first shift today to remain away from their posts, except shipping room employes and internal transportation Department 95 employes.

Engineering Division and Power House Division employes were advised to report for work as usual.

The emergency notice said that Kelly's definite start-up schedule would be announced by radio at 9 a. m. today.

Depending upon weather conditions and plant conditions regular production was expected to be resumed with the second shift today and if this was not practical, with the first shift Monday.

At the Celanese plant, flood levees were closed and the plant continued in operation on a steady basis, with officials watching the situation. There appeared no likelihood of any interruption of consequence.

The Allegany Ballistics Laboratory just across the river from Pinto closed down at 1 p. m. yesterday, except for emergency and maintenance workers. All others were sent home to await developments.

Judge Refuses To Overrule Highest Courts

Observing that he could hardly be expected to overrule either the Maryland Court of Appeals or the Supreme Court of the United States, Chief Judge George Henderson yesterday filed an opinion and order in Allegany County Circuit Court denying an application of a writ of habeas corpus to a man who was sentenced last year in Prince Georges County Circuit Court.

William Canter, who filed the application, was sentenced in July 1954 to serve not over six years for robbery with a deadly weapon. He is now confined in the House of Correction.

Previously he had applied for the writ in both Wicomico County Circuit Court and Montgomery County Circuit Court and was refused. He appealed one of these refusals to the Maryland Court of Appeals but it was denied in an opinion by Judge Edward S. Delaplaine.

Judge Henderson notes that even before he had heard the result of this application to the Court of Appeals, Canter had applied to Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan of the United States Supreme Court and to the Supreme Court itself. His application says nothing about these previous applications and their result.

"In his application to me he has evidently set out the same set of facts and complained of the same alleged violations of his constitutional rights as were set out in his application that was refused in the Circuit Courts and appealed to the Court of Appeals and refused there," the judge writes.

"He does not explain why he expects this Circuit Court to reverse the decision of the Court of Appeals.

"The result of his two applications to the Supreme Court of the United States is not stated. If those applications are still pending he should have waited for that decision before applying to the Circuit Court of Allegany County. Because if the result was favorable to him he would have no need to apply here. If it was unfavorable, he could hardly expect this court to reverse the Supreme Court of the United States," he concluded his opinion.

To Hold Festival

Weather permitting, the festival of the Murley's Branch Methodist Church, postponed from August 13, will be held tonight at 6 p. m.

Locust Grove Homecoming Scheduled For Saturday

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT
News Staff Writer

Residents of Locust Grove, the little 50-family community which nestles at the foot of Wills Mountain alongside Wills Creek between the city and Narrows Park, are planning a homecoming celebration Saturday.

A dinner will be served in the Community Center, followed by a square dance and other entertainment. Several hundred people from many states, all former residents or friends of the community, are expected.

Locust Grove is an unincorporated community which has developed in the past 45 years, and has always been a closely knit, cooperative little communtiy. It has a record of no major crime and has always prided itself in doing its share in Community Chest drives, Red Cross campaigns, and other worthwhile civic endeavors. While it is located a mile or so outside the city limits of Cumberland, most of its residents feel they are a part of the city, and many work or attend school here.

The community was laid out and sold as lots around 1911 under the official name of Narrows Addition. However, because of the heavy growth of locust trees in the area; the name Locust Grove has always stuck, and only a few residents now know it by any other name.

It was for a time known as Paper Mill, and an iron bridge across Wills Creek which linked it with US Route 40, but was washed out in the 1936 flood, was popularly known as the Paper Mill Bridge.

While historians of the county seem to have failed to record much about it, residents and oldsters recall that about 1889 a paper mill "of fair size and potential" was located and operated for some years at Locust Grove. It was one of the area's early and thriving "modern" industries.

The names Black, Sheridan and Wilson are identified with the founders of early operators of this industry, but no records on this firm have been uncovered. Some recall that a firm known as Rowe Brothers of Holyoke, Mass., had something to do with the paper mill and one resident who worked there says he believes the first superintendent was a man named R. D. Wilson. Others think it came to be known as the Cumberland Paper Company.

In any event, Locust Grove was the site of this area's first paper mill. The brick smoke stack, many feet high, still towers over the site.

After the paper mill closed, a plaster mill operated there for a time. This operation was known, residents recall, as the Woodfiber Plaster and Supply Company and was operated at least in part by George N. Johnson, vice president

Model 'Still' Disquiets 'Revenuers'

Throughout the city there are many displays of a historical nature and many merchants have utilized their show windows for old exhibits in keeping with the spirit of the Bicentennial.

But one local merchant is shaking his head in wonderment over a display in his store.

Samuel Wertheimer, who operates Medical Arts Pharmacy on North Liberty Street, has a nice display of old records, antiques and such items in his windows including an old drug store distillery of ancient vintage. The still, Wertheimer explains, has never been used, so far as his place is concerned, for anything but display purposes.

However, yesterday, two men entered Medical Arts store, identified themselves as agents of the Federal Alcohol Tax Control Board of the United States Treasury Department and began "grilling" Wertheimer about his still.

They told him it was illegal to possess or display an unregistered still and after some discussion, said they would check into the matter further.

The two agents also expressed considerable interest in what they were quoted as saying was a still used on a Brush float in Monday's parade.

Wertheimer said he informed the tax agents that if anyone around here operated or planned to operate an illegal still, they would probably have sense enough not to display it in a show window or on a float in a parade.

Last night, Wertheimer wondered, "How civic minded can you get?"

This will mark the band's third appearance during the current celebration. The first was Sunday night before the interdenominational patriotic program at the stadium. The second was Wednesday at the commemorative program for the new bridge linking Cumberland and Ridgeley.

One of the features, according to W Valgene Routch, the director, will be a trumpet trio, "The Three Jacks," played by Frank Munson, Elwood O'Hara Jr. and Paul Stair.

"The Girl I Left Behind" may seem like an inappropriate selection, but Routch pointed out that it was whistled and sung during the American Revolution. The offering will be a concert arrangement of the melody by Leroy Anderson.

Other selections will include "Under The Double Eagle March" by Wagner, "Light Cavalry Overture" by Franz von Suppe, "Americans We," a march by Henry Fillmore; "Begin the Beguine" by Cole Porter and "To Look Sharp" by Mahlon Merrick as a tribute to the Brothers of the Brush.

Also on the program are "The Last Roundup," by Billy Hill; "March of the Steel Men," by Charles Belsterling; "Lady of Spain," by Evans-Cailliet; "Hot Time March," by Theodore Metz; "Ballad of Davy Crockett," by George Bruns; "American Patrol," by F. W. Meacham; "The Stars and Stripes Forever," by John Philip Sousa; "Star Spangled Banner," "Alouette March," by Edwin Franko Goldman and "Band of America," by Paul Lavalle.

Music for tonight's occasion will be provided by the band in cooperation with Local 787, American Federation of Musicians, through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording Industries.

The next appearance of the band will be in conjunction with a swimming and diving review Sunday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the Celanese pool. The last concert of the 1955 summer season will be at 8:30 p. m. Sunday, August 28, in the Constitution Park amphitheatre.

Top Beard Growers Honored

Awards Presented By Att. Gen. Sybert

The possessors of the best beards raised for the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration were honored last night prior to the third performance of "Redskins and Redcoats."

Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert announced that Edward Malloy, 521 Fayette Street, raised the best beard in the show. Other winners, introduced during the pre-performance ceremony, were:

Best full beard, Jerome Cowgill, Bedford, Pa.; best Van Dyke, John Shroyer; best goatee, Joseph Pratt; Irish beard, Espy Hook; mutton chops, William McGinn, 308 Columbia Street.

Blackest beard, W. H. Lechliter, Route 1; best brown beard, James Williams; reddest beard, Wesley Bartlett; whitest beard, L. B. Cartel, LaVale.

Grows Longest Beard

Longest beard, James F. Brown, Oldtown; two-toned beard, Joseph E. May, 761 Maryland Avenue; three-toned beard, Donald Frantz, 310 Park Street; best sideburns, James Lancaster, Homewood Addition; most pitiful beard, W. V. Combs, 507 Eastern Avenue.

All of the winners were presented electric shavers at the conclusion of the contest held in front of Fort Hill High School.

Four of the winning beards were raised by members of the Baltimore Avenue Chapter, which won in the Irish, mutton chops, two-tone and three-tone contests.

Says Pride Justified

Judges in the contest were Sybert, James D. Ford, Washington, and Robert Van Ryper, Philadelphia.

In a brief speech, Sybert said the real prizes should be given to the wives and sweethearts since "to endure the benevolent bestowal of a barbed wire token of affection calls for courage far beyond the requirements of duty and devotion."

The day of the "Great Unveiling of the foliage, he added, will be a cause for a real celebration.

The camaraderie of the Brothers of the Brush, from Mayor Roy W. Eves on down, he said, is a fine expression of how a community in solidarity, good spirit, pride and good fun can express the feelings of Western Maryland.

"Cumberland's pride in its rich history and its growth into a thriving commercial and transportation center is entirely justified."

As even greater occasion for pride, he said, is the fact that the same fighting spirit found in our ancestors exists in the people of Allegany County today.

Sees New Era

The Bicentennial, he concluded, is an occasion not only for looking back but for seeing the dawn of a new and better era.

Sybert was introduced by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney. Congressman Richard E. Lankford, who was scheduled to appear on the program, was forced to cancel his visit due to weather conditions.

The decision to hold last night's performance was taken late yesterday afternoon after the sun broke through the clouds to mark the end of the heavy rains which caused the cancellation of Wednesday night's pageant.

Street Department crews, in charge of Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, used air compressors to dry seats in the stadium.

Win Fashion Events

Earlier yesterday afternoon, over 500 spectators witnessed a fashion show and bathing suit skit in the Fort Hill Auditorium.

In the fashion show, members of Bicentennial Belle chapters modeled costumes, both authentic and reproductions, of Colonial, Gay 90's and the Roaring 20's.

Mrs. William Norris was awarded the prize for the best reproduction of a colonial costume and Mrs. Henry Siegner the second prize.

Mrs. Flurette Barger won first prize for the most authentic Gay 90 costume and Mrs. Pauline Beck for the best reproduction.

Potomac Passes Floodtide Crest

Worst Danger Past; Streets, Basements Are Inundated

The Potomac River at Pinto and Wiley Ford river gauges crested before midnight last night at a depth of 22.6 feet, leaving water on the streets of West Side Cumberland and in the streets of Ridgeley.

Near-record rainfall in the upper reaches of the North Branch of the Potomac River Wednesday night and almost all day yesterday swelled the stream far above normal and created fear that a "serious flood" was about to happen.

Actually, there was no major damage anywhere in this area, and official sources knew of no great property damage, loss of life or flood casualties.

Water began creeping onto Water Street, Lehigh Street and that section of the West Side yesterday morning. Shortly past noon, the river left its banks at low points in Ridgeley and by 10 p. m. a large area of Ridgeley, on both sides, was inundated.

Water was on the school property on one side, and over several streets on the side facing West Side Cumberland. The car yards of the Western Maryland Railway at Knobmount were under a foot of water.

Paca Street, Avirett Avenue, Smallwood Street, South Lee Street, Johnson Street, Lehigh Street, and that general area of the West Side experienced up to two feet of water. Many residents reported water in their basements, and lawns and gardens were flooded.

Families Move Out

Early in the day, Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and men from the street department went to the West Side, notified residents that flood waters were predicted and offered to help any families who wished help to move. About 20 families were assisted with moving furniture to upper floors and several basements were cleared out of canned goods and apparatus that would have been damaged.

Commissioner Buchholtz said his crewmen had gone home at 10 p. m. last night, and as soon as water recedes, every available street man will be assigned to the West Side to help pump out basements, clean catch basins, and generally return the stricken area to normal as fast as possible.

During the rise of the river here, the stream carried tons of debris downstream at a rapid pace. Spectators who lined the banks at every strategic spot watched with fascination as trees, logs, crossties and all manner of debris swirled away down stream.

The river rose as rapidly as 1.8 feet per hour for a time during the day, but late evening and last night settled down to a steady rise of around four-tenths of a foot an hour, finally reaching its crest and then subsiding.

As the situation developed, the city got ready.

The Red Cross arranged to open shelters at LaVale Fire Hall, West Side School and the State Armory. Key personnel were alerted, but no one was actually called out as there was no demand for shelter or assistance. Red Cross officials however, remained on call all night.

Army Reserve units and National Guardsmen had key men alerted to go on duty immediately, if needed.

Auxiliary police were pressed into service yesterday and last night to assist regular police with traffic control in flooded areas. The many visitors here for the Bicentennial, along with the usual local curious, created repeated traffic tieups on Greene Street and in the flooded area.

As streets were barricaded and the auxiliaries manned strategic spots, this situation was finally handled with a minimum of confusion and inconvenience.

City Officials Stand By

City officials, including Mayor Roy W. Eves, remained at City Hall until a late hour, keeping up to the minute on developments and attempting to safeguard the residents against any sudden change in the picture.

Last night, the Wiley Ford Bridge between Cumberland and Wiley Ford was closed to all traffic. Engineers noticed considerable vibration in the structure as the river swelled. The action was taken as a safety measure.

Blue Bridge across the Potomac from the West Side of Cumberland to Ridgeley, was also closed to vehicular traffic to prevent an influx

Towns Temporarily "Hemmed In"

Following a day of swirling water in the South Branch of the Potomac River, the situation in that area late last night was reported improving. State Police said roads which had been blocked were all open except Route 220 north of Moorefield.

In the Romney, Moorefield and Petersburg areas, the river left its banks at numerous points. Moorefield and Petersburg were isolated about noon, but traffic was resumed last night.

At Moorefield some 15 families evacuated their homes, and a large section was under a couple feet of water during the day. The evacuees were housed and fed by the Moorefield Branch of the Red Cross, in the hall of a town church.

The South Fork, also at flood tide, began dropping about noon and the South Branch started to recede early last night. At Franklin and other points, there was no great damage reported.

As along the North Branch, several inches of rain fell in the South Branch Valley during the night and early yesterday. Reports that Petersburg had 10 inches of rainfall were denied.

Throughout the area, according to State Police and other officials, damage to property was not great, but many farms were inundated and numerous homes in low-lying areas had water in basements and on first floors.

The flood waters yesterday were not nearly as bad as those of 1949 or in other inundations, officials said.

Flood Danger Hits Local Industries

Although the plant was not flooded, the Kelly Springfield Tire Company went on an emergency schedule yesterday and stopped all production on the second and third shifts.

An emergency notice advised all production workers on the first shift today to remain away from their posts, except shipping room employes and internal transportation Department 95 employes.

Engineering Division and Power House Division employes were advised to report for work as usual.

The emergency notice said that Kelly's definite start-up schedule would be announced by radio at 9 a. m. today.

Depending upon weather conditions and plant conditions regular production was expected to be resumed with the second shift today and if this was not practical, with the first shift Monday.

At the Celanese plant, flood levees were closed and the plant continued in operation on a steady basis, with officials watching the situation. There appeared no likelihood of any interruption of consequence.

The Allegany Ballistics Laboratory just across the river from Pinto closed down at 1 p. m. yesterday, except for emergency and maintenance workers. All others were sent home to await developments.

It's Real All Right

Judge Refuses To Overrule Highest Courts

Observing that he could hardly be expected to overrule either the Maryland Court of Appeals or the Supreme Court of the United States, Chief Judge George Henderson yesterday filed an opinion and order in Allegany County Circuit Court denying an application of a writ of habeas corpus to a man who was sentenced last year in Prince Georges County Circuit Court.

William Canter, who filed the application, was sentenced in July 1954 to serve not over six years for robbery with a deadly weapon. He is now confined in the House of Correction.

Previously he had applied for the writ in both Wicomico County Circuit Court and Montgomery County Circuit Court and was refused. He appealed one of these refusals to the Maryland Court of Appeals but it was denied in an opinion by Judge Edward S. Delaplaine.

Judge Henderson notes that even before he had heard the result of this application to the Court of Appeals, Canter had applied to Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan of the United States Supreme Court and to the Supreme Court itself. His application says nothing about these previous applications and their result.

"In his application to me he has evidently set out the same set of facts and complained of the same alleged violations of his constitutional rights as were set out in his application that was refused in the Circuit Courts and appealed to the Court of Appeals and refused there," the judge writes.

"He does not explain why he expects this Circuit Court to reverse the decision of the Court of Appeals.

"The result of his two applications to the Supreme Court of the United States is not stated. If those applications are still pending he should have waited for that decision before applying to the Circuit Court of Allegany County. Because if the result was favorable to him he would have no need to apply here. If it was unfavorable, he could hardly expect this court to reverse the Supreme Court of the United States," he concluded his opinion.

Locust Grove Homecoming Scheduled For Saturday

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT
News Staff Writer

Residents of Locust Grove, the little 50-family community which nestles at the foot of Wills Mountain alongside Wills Creek between the city and Narrows Park, are planning a homecoming celebration Saturday.

A dinner will be served in the Community Center, followed by a square dance and other entertainment. Several hundred people from many states, all former residents or friends of the community, are expected.

Locust Grove is an unincorporated community which has developed in the past 45 years, and has always been a closely knit, cooperative little communtiy. It has a record of no major crime and has always prided itself in doing its share in Community Chest drives, Red Cross campaigns, and other worthwhile civic endeavors. While it is located a mile or so outside the city limits of Cumberland, most of its residents feel they are a part of the city, and many work or attend school here.

The community was laid out and sold as lots around 1911 under the official name of Narrows Addition. However, because of the heavy growth of locust trees in the area; the name Locust Grove has always stuck, and only a few residents now know it by any other name.

It was for a time known as Paper Mill, and an iron bridge across Wills Creek which linked it with US Route 40, but was washed out in the 1936 flood, was popularly known as the Paper Mill Bridge.

While historians of the county seem to have failed to record much about it, residents and oldsters recall that about 1889 a paper mill "of fair size and potential" was located and operated for some years at Locust Grove. It was one of the area's early and thriving "modern" industries.

The names Black, Sheridan and Wilson are identified with the founders of early operators of this industry, but no records on this firm have been uncovered. Some recall that a firm known as Rowe Brothers of Holyoke, Mass., had something to do with the paper mill and one resident who worked there says he believes the first superintendent was a man named R. D. Wilson. Others think it came to be known as the Cumberland Paper Company.

In any event, Locust Grove was the site of this area's first paper mill. The brick smoke stack, many feet high, still towers over the site.

After the paper mill closed, a plaster mill operated there for a time. This operation was known, residents recall, as the Woodfiber Plaster and Supply Company and was operated at least in part by George N. Johnson, vice president

Model 'Still' Disquiets 'Revenuers'

Throughout the city there are many displays of a historical nature and many merchants have utilized their show windows for old exhibits in keeping with the spirit of the Bicentennial.

But one local merchant is shaking his head in wonderment over a display in his store.

Samuel Wertheimer, who operates Medical Arts Pharmacy on North Liberty Street, has a nice display of old records, antiques and such items in his windows including an old drug store distillery of ancient vintage. The still, Wertheimer explains, has never been used, so far as his place is concerned, for anything but display purposes.

However, yesterday, two men entered Medical Arts store, identified themselves as agents of the Federal Alcohol Tax Control Board of the United States Treasury Department and began "grilling" Wertheimer about his still.

They told him it was illegal to possess or display an unregistered still and after some discussion, said they would check into the matter further.

The two agents also expressed considerable interest in what they were quoted as saying was a still used on a Brush float in Monday's parade.

Wertheimer said he informed the tax agents that if anyone around here operated or planned to operate an illegal still, they would probably have sense enough not to display it in a show window or on a float in a parade.

Last night, Wertheimer wondered, "How civic minded can you get?"
